AND NOW ITALY TOO

After "geeling" and "hawing" for some weeks in an effort to decide whether she really wanted to fight or not, Italy has at last made up her mind and is now formally at war with Austria-Hungary. In effect this means that she is also at war with Germany. What this action on Italy's part means to the Allies may be announced in a very few weeks, although carrying with it a very great consequence. It adds to their fighting force over 1,000,000 men and a navy that is next to the United States in number and efficiency.

While Italy is supposedly entering this war in order to win back lost territory, no one supposes for one moment that the army of King Victor Emmanuel will set out without regard to the requirements of the Allies or the dictates of our alliance that should demand co-operation if she hopes to acquire the object of her decision. Unity means strength. The Allies have a place that the Italian army can fill very acceptably and successfully, and unto that place, she will not hesitate to send them. Her fleet can be very useful in the Adriatic and will no doubt soon be heard from and by assuming the offensive there, she can relieve British and French ships that no doubt have been kept to take care of the Austrian fleet in those waters.

By an alliance that exists between Italy and Roumania, it is now more likely that the latter country will also cast in her lot with the Allies. In fact, if all the Balkan States were to study their own best interests not another day would be allowed to pass before they announced their determination to take up arms on the side of the Allies. By so doing, they have everything to gain and nothing to lose. Fighting on the side of Britain, France and Russia when victory crowns their efforts—as crown theirs it will—will enable them to claim much needed territory that they could neither hope for nor expect if Germany and Austria came out of the war victorious. By the victory of the Allies, they will be in for their share of Turkey when the time for division arrives.

It is not however entirely from mercenary motives that Italy has thrown in her lot with the Allies in this great world struggle. This war is different from any war that has preceded it, because no desire to acquire territory has actuated the Allies in engaging in the conflict, but merely a desire to uphold the weak against the despots of their freedom and territory and to maintain justice and equal rights for all. Italy, knowing this, is content to break an unholy alliance that stands only for oppression and world power, and can naturally see nothing in it for many of the smaller European nations.

RETURNING SOLDIERS

Complaints are heard that soldiers invalided home to this country are not treated with the consideration they deserve, and particularly in the matter of accommodation on the voyage. The rule in the United Kingdom is that wounded or invalided soldiers either come home on hospital ships, or if travelling on passenger ships, the officers travel first cabin; non-coms., second cabin, and privates, steerage; but in any event, the trip is a short one.

Britain has many burdens to carry. Her taxpayers have to finance the voyages of many thousands of soldiers. Canada has fewer burdens to carry. The Militia Department of this country is spending money in many unnecessary ways. It has expended large amounts as tremendous commissions for trifling services.

Canadians have no wish to see her sick and wounded soldiers, whether officers, non-coms. or privates, treated as steerage passengers. Canada's army has privates in the infantry, gunners and drivers in the artillery, sappers in the engineers, who earn bigger pay, live in better homes, and occupy better positions in civil life than many of their officers and non-coms. This country has departed from British precedent in fixing the rates of pay for our soldiers.

Why therefore should we adhere to British precedent in fixing the conditions under which sick and wounded soldiers, the battered heroes of war, are returned to their homes? Canadians would be loth to sacrifice the comfort of sick and wounded soldiers as part of the economies effected by a parsimonious Militia department; and they want to see a policy which provides thousands for commissions and steerage passages for sick and wounded soldiers, altered.

A COMPLETE WRECK

From the After Effects of Pneumonia Followed by Diphtheria

Frequently the after effects of illness are more serious than the original trouble. This was the case with Mrs. James B. Moir, Mutana, Sask. Mrs. Moir says: "Some years ago, while we were still living in Nova Scotia, I was taken down with a severe attack of pneumonia. I had sufficiently recovered to be around, but had not been able to go out when I was attacked with diphtheria. In my weakened state it took a terrible hold on me, and neither my friends nor neighbors thought I would recover. I did, however, pull through, but was a physical wreck. The muscles of my throat were paralyzed, so that even a sup of water would flow back through my nostrils unless they were held closed. My voice was almost inaudible, and my eyes so badly affected that I feared I was going to lose my eyesight. I could only walk with assistance and it looked as though I would be a helpless cripple. Medicine after medicine was used, but did not help me. Then a neighbor advised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking them but had the utmost difficulty in swallowing them owing to the condition of my throat. However, after a couple of boxes had been used I found it easier to take them, which was a sign they were helping me, and I felt greatly cheered. I do not know how many boxes I took, but I continued their use until I was as well as ever, much to the surprise of all who knew me, as all thought I could not get better. Since then I have several times taken the Pills when run down and have always been greatly benefited by them."

For the after effects of fevers and all wasting diseases there is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They enrich the blood, build up the nerves, restore the appetite and bring back complete health and strength. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

DEATH'S HARVEST

Whitneyville Loses An Old and Respected Resident

Margaret McKenzie

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McKenzie will sympathize with them in the death of their eleven year old daughter Margaret, which took place Friday night, after an illness of two weeks. The cause of death was spinal meningitis, and as this is the third member of their family who has suffered death through this painful illness, the blow is a severe one. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon to St. Andrew's cemetery. The parents and one brother survive.

Peter Russell

By the death on Sunday morning at half past twelve o'clock of Mr. Peter Russell, Whitneyville lost one of its oldest and most respected residents. Deceased was 81 years of age and was only sick a few days when death overtook him. His wife pre-deceased him about three years ago. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock to the Presbyterian cemetery, and was attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives. Services were held at the house and grave by Rev. J. F. McCurdy, Presbyterian pastor, of whose church deceased was a valuable member. The pallbearers were John Forsythe, P. A. Forsythe, Gregory Dunnett, Edward Dunnett, Thos. Cain and Anthony Cain, all nephews of the deceased. One daughter, Mrs. Jeannette McKibbin, of Newcastle, who nursed him during his last hours, survives. Two other daughters are dead. Deceased's father and mother came to this country from Scotland 82 years ago, and settled in Whitneyville, where deceased was born and where he has resided all his life. For the past number of years he has been living with his grandson, Peter Russell Whitney, where he died.

RICHIBUCTO NEWS

Personal and Local Happenings at the Shiretown of Kent County

May 22—A highly successful and pleasing entertainment was given on Monday evening in the Globe theatre. It was gotten up by Junior members of our Red Cross society, on their own initiative and they deserve great credit for perseverance and despatch in bringing their plan to such a successful issue. In spite of the most unfavorable weather it was little more than three weeks from the time it was first planned until the entertainment was given. The Richibucto orchestra, under the leadership of B. E. Johnson, readily gave their assistance, and J. D. MacMinn, who has had considerable experience, gave them valuable aid as director of the theatrical part of the entertainment.

The receipts amounted to $37.00. As the proprietors of the Globe, J. F. MacDougall, had given the theatre and heated hall free of charge not only the night of the entertainment, but during the time of practice; and as the young people, all in their teens, had managed to have no other expenses, they had the pleasure of giving the whole of the receipts to the hands of the treasurer of the Red Cross society, Mrs. Geo. A. Hutchinson.

Mrs. K. B. Forbes went to Moncton on Thursday to visit relatives. She returned on Friday accompanied by her son, Captain W. E. Forbes, of the 55th battalion, who is remaining a few days in an endeavor to secure recruits.

James MacKee having enlisted went last week to Sussex. Miss Ruth Jones of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her uncle, Judge H. H. James and Mrs. James.

William Powell, of Moncton, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Guy Pierce, who spent the winter with relatives in Truro, N. S., was in town recently to see after the storing of her furniture. She first intended coming here for the summer, but has decided to spend it with her aunt in Truro.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesley D. Buck have moved into Mrs. John Stevenson's house, part of which was formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pierce.

Dudley Collier, formerly of R. O'Leary's staff here, but recently of Loggieville, came to spend Sunday and the holiday with friends in town.

Mrs. William Hudson who spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Powell, of Boston, Mass., came recently to get her home in order for the summer. She is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. B. Stewart.

Mrs. Sarah Warren, who was for a few days a guest of Mrs. J. B. Wright, went on Friday to Rexton. Mrs. James McCafferty, who has been in St. John since last fall, came the latter part of the week to spend the summer at her home here. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. James Kingston, of St. John.
