ROTICE. FRIBE Subscriber begs to call the attention of Farmers and the public generally, to his large as extensit of AGRICULTURAL IMPLE MENTS, and more paricularly to his large and varied assorment of PLOUGHS, for which he took the First Fremium at the Trevincial Exhibition, and reels that his patterns are superior to any others in this market. He having procured a particular kind of iron for the purpose, all finances made at this Establishment in future, will be Chilled, thereby rendering them, ruch more dura le. He would beg also to infrim the public that all Ploughs made by him in future will have "J. Hertis" on the Meuddoard, and "I. H." on the Snares and Landsides, as others in the line have parted his patterns, in consequence of which many Frimers has estified seriods inconvenience on account of their not fitting the Ploughs will be warranted, and all defects made good, at prices as low as any in this market of any lattice.
