LONDON, Feb. 11.

Sir Edward Carson, in the Commons, said that never before, in a Speech from the Throne, had a statement of such gravity been made in reference to the domestic relations of our fellow citizens in Ireland. The words put in the King's mouth were a condemnation of the Home Rule Bill, and a confession that it had utterly failed to furnish a solution of the Irish question. It was small wonder in view of this confession, that the Government spurned the idea of leaving the decision to the voice of the people. He declared that if Ulster was to be drawn within the grip of a Dublin Parliament, he would, regardless of all consequences, stand with the people of Ulster in the policy of resistance. Redmond, he said, never tried to win Ulster, he wanted only her taxes. He declined to pledge himself as to what he would do as a result of a general election. After such an election the whole question would have to be considered in the light of the country's mandate. John Redmond followed with a warm repudiation of Carson's charge that he wanted Ulster's taxes. Redmond declared the plea for the amicable settlement of the Home Rule question found a ready response on the part of Irish Nationalists, but said the proposals must be consistent with the main principles of the Bill. He accepted the new situation arising from Asquith's promise to initiate a suggestion for settlement, although he thought the Government had gone further than necessary. He, however, would do nothing to make the situation more difficult or dangerous. Candidly, Redmond continued, the Irish Nationalists did not share in the tragic view as to the possibilities of civil war. He thought the Commons should resent such threats as an affront. The exclusion of the province of Ulster, he declared, could be no solution to the Irish question. Redmond concluded by saying he was deeply anxious to remove all fears and would meet proposals of the very broadest kind, in the most friendly spirit, in the earnest hope that the aspirations in the Royal Speech be realized, and a peaceful settlement reached of the great problem on which the well being of Ireland and the unity and strength of the Empire depended.

LONDON, Feb. 11.

It is now admitted in official circles in London that Sir Lionel Carden will not return to Mexico as British Minister, after he comes to London to report to the Foreign Office. Reports from Mexico City concerning Sir Lionel's interests in Mexican lands, which he shares with Lord Cowdray, have re-awakened keen interest in diplomatic circles here, and Lord Cowdray's frank admission of the truth of these reports has provided a fresh sensation. It is now known that the States hinted to the British Foreign Office that in the present tense situation in Mexico, it might be advisable for the Great Powers to have as diplomatic representatives there only those who have no private financial interests to guard.

LONDON, Feb. 12.

Home Rule was again the subject of interest in the Commons yesterday. Carson, Lloyd George, Sir John Simon, J. E. Redmond and Bonar Law were the speakers. At the conclusion of the debate the amendment to the reply, proposed by Walter Long, Unionist, that it would be disastrous for the House to proceed further with Government for Ireland Bill, until the measure had been submitted to the judgment of the country, was defeated by a vote of 333 to 255. The announcement was received with cheers from the Opposition, and cries of "resign."

LONDON, Feb. 11.

The King's Speech, in a grand passage, expressed the earnest desire of His Majesty to attain a settlement of the Home Rule problem by consent. This desire was fervently echoed by the Premier in the Commons, and by Viscount Morley in the Lords. Little hope of such exists. Inclusion of Ulster forms the Government policy whilst exclusion is demanded by Austin Chamberlain. Walter Long in the Commons, and Baron Middleton in the Lords, moved amendments calling for submission of the Home Rule question to the electorate.

LONDON, Feb. 11.

The following cabinet changes will, it is said, take place during the next few months, as the result of Viscount Gladstone's resignation as Governor General of South Africa: John Burns, President of the Board of Trade, to replace Gladstone's successor, Mr. Sydney Buxton; Herbert Samuel, President of the Local Government Board; C. E. Hobhouse, Postmaster General; C. F. G. Masterman, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

Minister
Praises Zam-Buk

Tells How It Cured His Wife's Bad Sore.

When Everything Else Had Failed.

Rev. Henry J. Munton, of Blackfalds, Alta., writes: "My wife had a very bad sore foot, which it seemed impossible to get anything to heal. The sore would heal to a certain point and then fester again, and so on. I procured a box of Zam-Buk, and after persevering with this herbal balm for some time the sore was completely healed."

"We were so grateful for this cure, and Zam-Buk acted so differently to any other of the numerous remedies we had tried that I thought you ought to know of this case. I have since recommended Zam-Buk to several of my parishioners, and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zam-Buk proved of unequalled value is told by Mr. N. L. Gerry, of Brandon, Man. He says: "I had my left foot run over by a wagon loaded with wheat. The foot was very badly crushed, and my little toe and the next toe were laid open. I applied Zam-Buk, and only had to miss work for two days. Zam-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to my work. In a very short time my toes were quite healed, and the foot is now as sound as ever, thanks to Zam-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, piles, blood poison, burns, scalds, eruptions, eczema, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, too, 25c. per tablet.

LONDON, Feb. 11.

Earl Minto, formerly Governor General of Canada, has suffered a relapse, and his condition is causing anxiety.

SOUTHAMPTON, Feb. 11.

Officers and passengers of the Olympic, which arrived to-day, say they had encountered the worst weather in their experience crossing from New York. One huge sea beat in 8 port holes and injured the purser and ten passengers, though not seriously.

PARIS, Feb. 11.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies has formally notified the Commons that Viscount Gladstone will cease to be Governor General of South Africa, in June. The appointment of Buxton, as Governor General, was officially announced to-day, which means several changes in the Cabinet.

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 11.

Storm-tossed passengers on the Olympic reached here to-day and had to go on to Southampton, as the fierceness of the gale prevented their landing, or that of the mails. This is the first time for many years that such a thing has happened here to a liner from America.

LONDON, Feb. 11.

The results of Marconi's wireless telephone experiments are sufficiently encouraging, says the Times, to warrant the belief that commercial installation will be available immediately. The first will be on board ships, and Marconi hopes they may be working within the next month or two.

"Cascarets" Always Straighten You Up

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad—Clean your Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.
