(I. C. M.) As the week passes the impressions the services of the Week of Prayer are deepening, and great interest is eing manifested, both by pastors and cople. And so it was last night at the Congregational Church, where a large congregation assembled, and where earnest prayers were offered, and a practical talk delivered. Like all the services of the week, the singing was hearty, and the hymns were such as suited the topic of the evening, and there was a volume of song at once inspiring.

The service was in charge of the Pastor of the Church, the Rev. B. T. Holden, and the address was delivered by the Rev. C. H. Johnson. Like the other rev. gentlemen who have officiated during the week, both these pastors are with us for the first time the Week of Prayer, and we feel safe in saying that the united feelings of all prsent last night were in their

The topic was one of the most important that the church can consider, "The Home and Young People." The speaker began by summarising the other topics of the week. Repentance was a personal matter. The local church was a community matter. The cause of Missions was a universal matter. The home, at first sight, may appear a lesser subject, but it was not, for from the home went out those inwhich really constitute the State. In ancient times the home-life of the people was not as ideal as it is to-day. The Hebrew people had the best ideals of home-life up to their time, but it was not until the Redeemer came that the home was established on the high principles which follow from his teachings. The Christain home afforded the test opportunity of training, and the nearer our homes were conducted to religious teachings the better should our more public life be. The family was the best asset of the city, and those people who had homes, but had not families, could do great good, and disseminate much blessing, by taking into their homes two or three children who had lost their parents. This was centainly a timely and charitable suggestion on the part of the speaker. Will anyone heed it? Would that some may do so. Continuing the speaker referred to family prayer, and he paid a high tribute to the home-life of St. John's as far as he knew it, in this respect. The influence of prayer in the home, and of consistent Christian living by the parents before their children were of paramount importance. If the head of the family broke one law of the land, or of the Decalogue, and his children knew it, he could not blame them if they in turn broke the law also. There was great ed of a higher standard of the home circle, and the best life of the home circle makes the best life of the community. The address was twenty minutes in delivery, and was listened to with close and eager attention, and all that was said was plain, practical and sincere-and without a doubt, helpful.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

The regular meeting of Leemins L.O.L. was held last night, when the installation of the officers elected at the annual meeting, was conducted. The installing officer was Grand Master, Bro. W. H. Cave, assisted by P.M. Bro. S. H. Peet, as installing marshal. After the ceremony congratulatory speeches were made by the R.W.G.M. Bro. W. H. Cave, P.G.M. J. C. Puddester, several Past Masters and the W.M. of Royal Oak Lodge. The new W.M., Bro. G. T. Phillips enters upon his term with every assurance of active support of the members of the Lodge. A pleasing incident connected with the installation was the presentation of a Past Master's Jewel to W. Bro. E. A. Crowther. who retired last year after a successful term.

GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Following the regular meeting, the Sub-Committee on the Golden Jubilee celebration of the establishment of the Association in Newfoundland, was held and plans discussed. It has not yet been decided what form the celebration will take, but there is no doubt that it will be in keeping with the event and do credit to the Society. Another pleasing feature was an invitation extended by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary Lodge Davidson, L.O.B.A. to repair to their lodge room to be entertained at supper. The W.M. for the Lodge accepted the invitation with many expressions of thanks and appreciation and a very pleasant and fraternal time was spent,
