The following motion was carried unanimously: That a committee be appointed, consisting of Messrs. —Alfred Bull, of Toronto, brother-in-law of H. C. Allison, South London, arrived at Port Stanley Monday after sailing all the way from Toronto in an open twenty-foot sail boat—the Wah-ne-tah. Mr. Bull managed the boat entirely himself from Toronto to Port Dalhousie, and thence through the Welland Canal to Port Colborne, where the latter place he was joined by two Londoners. The three had a lively time on Lake Erie during the high winds of Saturday, and were buffeted around among the reefs near Port Rowan until 2 o'clock Sunday morning, having lost their bearings. The party finally beached the boat and spent the night in a deserted fisherman's shanty, continuing to fight the waves, continuing to fight the waves, continuing to fight the waves.

—The Wah-ne-tah is said to be the smallest sail boat that has ever passed through the Welland Canal.

A Pleasant Gathering.
An enjoyable time was spent Monday evening in the Masonic lodge room, London West, by a good-natured company composed of members of Victoria Circle, Companions of the Forest, Council No. 2, K. S. F., and members of Court Excalibur, A. O. F., the occasion being an "at home" given by the latter court. Bro. M. S. Brown, who charged the duties of chairman in admirable style, and paid several well merited compliments to the ladies. A programme of a varied character was carried out to the satisfaction of the company, those taking part being: Bro. F. Rosier, Sir K. G. Watta, Bro. Frank Westlake, Bro. A. E. White, Sir K. C. G. Frank, Bro. George M. A. Currie, Bro. George Mansbridge, Miss Bella Currie, Captain C. Pugh and Bro. J. Laing. An exhibit drill was given by Council No. 2, and the procession with which the various intricate movements were executed reflected creditably on the ability of the men. Refreshments were served during intermission.

A Large number of the young people connected with the Wellington Street Methodist Church, accompanied by several of the members of Victoria Circle, Christian Association, assembled at the residence of James W. Park, Colborne street, to do honor to one of their faithful workers who is about to take his departure from the city.

James Jeffery has a host of friends who desired to show their regard for him in some way, and at the right moment Arthur Gorman stepped forward, and in a few kindly words referred to the esteem in which "Jim" was held by the young people, and expressed their very deep regret at the prospect of losing him, concluding by handing him a very handsome gold watch. Secretary Sawyer, of the Y. M. C. A., then, on behalf of the officers and members of the association, presented Mr. Jeffery with a chain and charm as a slight token of their affection and regard. Mr. Jeffery replied very feelingly, expressing his regret at leaving the city and his friends, and thanking them for their kindness and good wishes. Songs and recitations followed the evening, and at a late hour the friends took their leave after having partaken of cake and ice cream. Mr. Jeffery will be greatly missed in the Wellington Street Methodist Church, where he has been an earnest worker for years. The Young Men's Christian Association also lost one of their right-hand men, and wish Mr. Jeffery good-bye in his new home. He expects to take up his residence in Toledo, Ohio.

Theodore Thomas To-Night.

Miss Katherine Fleming, who accompanies Mr. Thomas upon his tour, has already become famous throughout America. Her voice is of a most beautiful quality, full and rich throughout an extended compass, and is said to be fully equal to that of Annie Louise Carey in her best days. She is young and beautiful, with a high, clear, ringing voice, and will give much pleasure to those who have the good fortune to hear her to-night. The name of Campanini is known throughout the civilized world. He ranks truly as the greatest living tenor. He will also be heard to advantage to-night. And then there is the grand Joseph, acknowledged to be the prince of pianists. He is simply marvelous, and no student, teacher or lover of the piano can afford to miss his wonderful exhibition of his capabilities. In the pleasant anticipation of these great artists, the great orchestra over which Theodore Thomas wields his magic baton must not be overlooked. It will be in its full strength, which means nearly 60 great artists, which means a chance now of hearing one of the greatest musical organizations in the world. It is to be hoped that her music-loving citizens will turn out and crowd the risk in honor of the great occasion. Admission, 50 cents, 75 cents and $1; reserved seats, 25 cents extra, at Nordheimer's music store. Doors open at 7:30; night sharp at 7:30.

Demonstrated.
Sometimes it costs hundreds of dollars to convince a man, very often less is required, but in the case of Poison's Nervine, the remedy for pain, it costs the bill, and supplies enough service to convince any purpose that it is the best, most prompt, and certain pain remedy in the world. Nervine is good for all kinds of nervous aches, and is a small, quite unlike so many other preparations, which are positively disagreeable to use. Try it now. Go to a drug store and buy a 10-cent or 25-cent bottle. Poison's Nervine, make others think.

VOICES OF THE PEOPLE.

Voluntary vs. Forced Sympathy.
To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

I have just been informed that it has been decided to-day that the entire City Council shall go to attend the funeral of Sir John A. Macdonald. This is no time to discuss how much honor the deceased Premier merits; but it may be universally conceded that sympathy should be expressed in every reasonable manner. Let his death be a lesson to us all.

A voluntary expression of sympathy is always timely and appreciated, a forced expression is repulsive to men of dignity and manhood. Respectfully yours,

LONDON, May 9. CITIZEN.

CHURCH SOCIALS.

It is possible, of course, to err on the side of considering a house of God as a consecrated and holy place from which all amusements of a secular nature should be excluded, but this is better than to bring the place of worship to the level of a town hall or inferior theater. The sanctities of religion apart, the moral sense and good taste belonging to well-bred people are outraged by the greasy smoke and sensual odors of cooking in the place set apart for the presence of God to meet with the souls of men.

The most indifferent of worshippers would wish a more delicate incense to cling about his pew. What says St. Chrysostom? "The church is a house of prayer, not a place of shop, nor any other merchant's warehouse, but a place of angels, a place of archangels, a palace of God, heaven itself."—[From "Church Socials," in Wives and Daughters for June.

CHEEKS A RAW SORE.

Little Boy's Suffering from Eczema. Grew Worse Under 3 Doctors. Cured by CUTICURA.

For one year my little boy was troubled with eczema. After trying three eminent physicians, the disease grew worse; both cheeks began to swell, and he began to scratch, out on his body; and I am of an opinion that if I had not tried CUTICURA, I should have lost my boy. Today he has been from head to foot with the terrible disease. After using the ointment for two months, he was entirely cured, and is now as fair as any boy. I send you this testimonial, because some other parents may see this cure and obtain CUTICURA REMEDIES at once. J. WILLARD CASE, Sherbrooke Island, N. Y.
