DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, April 21.—Optimism continues to be the prominent feature in the dispatches to Dun's review from the branch offices of R. G. Dun & Co. in the leading trade centres of the Dominion of Canada, satisfaction being expressed at almost every point with existing conditions, save for the backward weather, which has had an adverse effect on the distribution of certain lines of spring merchandise.

Features in Canada for the past week numbered 18, against 22 last week and 38 the corresponding week last year.

He Sent His "Best" Remedy

The young daughter of Mrs. T. S. Doucill, 522 Flora avenue, Winnipeg, was arranging some of her doll's washing on a clothes rack, beside the stove, when she fell, and her hand came in contact with the hot stove. Her screams brought her mother quickly to the spot.

"I sent to the druggist for the best remedy he had for burns," she says, "and he sent back a box of Zam-Buk. He said that there was nothing to equal it. I applied this, and it soothed the pain so quickly that the child laughed through her tears. I found up the hand in Zam-Buk, and each day applied Zam-Buk frequently and liberally, until the burn was quite cured.

"The little one was soon able to go on with her play, and we had no trouble with her during the time the burn was being healed."

Zam-Buk Soap should also be used by all mothers for baby's bath and for skin troubles, rashes, pimples, etc.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at fifty cents box; and Soap at 25c. tablet. Post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

MUST DISINFECT ALL THE HOUSES

M. H. O. Must in Future Attend to This Duty Personally in London.

SCARLET FEVER CASES

Board of Health Discussed the Situation and Passed a Batch of Resolutions.

Moved by Dr. W. J. Stevenson, seconded by Dr. Williams, that Medical Health Officer Hutchinson should visit houses as soon as scarlet fever is reported, and get all available information regarding the outbreak. That he personally visit the house again at the expiration of the quarantine and see that it is thoroughly disinfected, and that he inspect all patients that leave Victoria Hospital.

Moved by Dr. Stevenson, seconded by Dr. Williams, that the premises of all milk dealers be inspected by the medical health officer if more than four cases occur on any dealer's route in less than a month.

The above resolutions were unanimously passed at the special meeting of the board of health held last night to deal with the prevalence of scarlet fever in this city.

The resolutions were proposed at the suggestion of Dr. Hutchinson before the meeting.

Ald. W. J. Stevenson was particularly outspoken in regard to the matter. He told of an outbreak in South London caused by a child that had the disease being let out of Victoria Hospital, and instead of going home, he went to another place in the southern part of the city, and now scarlet fever is going through that house.

"The whole family has now," said Dr. Stevenson, "there is another feature. The law states that the medical health officer shall take down the fever placards. This is not done in some places, and I have had people complain to me and want to know why the cards are not taken down after the quarantine term has expired. I am not supposed to do this. Dr. Hutchinson should keep track of these things. It is not the part of this board to do all these things, but of certain people who have been appointed to do them."

There is an epidemic," said Dr. Hutchinson. "The reason the fever has not been stamped out is that it is not being taken down. I have seen all the patients that are reported at some time or another, and when they leave Victoria Hospital they are all thoroughly disinfected."

A Little Personal.

Dr. Stevenson said that Dr. Hutchinson did not see all the patients, and he said that he had never seen all.

"I visited a diphtheria case of yours once," said Dr. Hutchinson, "and you told me that you had never seen it. There is no need to go bringing in personal matters here," said Dr. Stevenson.

Chairman Clark said that he had visited Victoria Hospital and that he was satisfied that a number of patients had been taken down, but he had not seen the M. H. O. until after they were gone.

Dr. Ernest Williams moved that a resolution be passed, and that the attending physician and the M. H. O. certify that they are all going to do their duty. He pointed out that the M. H. O. is not doing his duty, and he said that he was not satisfied with the work of the M. H. O.

PRETTY ROW OVER ENGLISH ELECTION

St. Maur, Unseated, Says Judges of Recount Were Unfair.

AND WORDY WAR ENSUES

Liberal Member for Exeter Loses to Unionist Opponent by Single Vote.

[Canadian Press.]

London, April 21.—The row over the general elections last December at Exeter was brought up in the House of Commons this afternoon. When the result was declared it was announced that St. Maur, Liberal, had received 4,789 votes, and Duke, Unionist, 4,782. The latter petitioned for a recount. St. Maur in the meantime taking his seat in the House of Commons. Justices Riddley and Channel were appointed to conduct the recount. There was bitter feeling on both sides, and the investigation revealed many illegal practices by individuals, as well as an amazing collection of forgeries. The verdict this time was given to Duke, the vote being announced as 4,777 for him, as against 4,776 for St. Maur.

Jeered the Judges.

The Liberals were angry over the decision, and alleged that the judges were biased, and that the country should be rid of such unjust judges. Judge Riddley arose in his seat, and tapping St. Maur on the shoulder, told him, he should not have referred to him in that manner. St. Maur replied hotly, and a wordy war ensued. The crowd followed Judge Riddley to the train, and booed him all the way. It was a remarkable occurrence for a judge of the high court to be thus jeered in public.

The Speaker laid before the House today the report of the judges on the recount. A motion was thereupon made that the result of the recount be accepted, and that the name of Duke be substituted for St. Maur on the roll of the House. Before this motion could be put, Mr. Morrell, Liberal member for Burnley, moved the postponement of any action until the shorthand notes of Judge Riddley's remarks had been laid on the table of the House. The object of this manoeuvre was to prevent Duke from taking his seat for an indefinite period. If such action were taken the House would be committing an illegal act, whereupon the motion to seat Mr. Duke was put and carried.

COMPLIMENTS FOR INVENTOR KNIGHT

His Success With the Knight Motor Featured by American Newspapers.

The success of Charles V. Knight, the inventor of the Knight Motor, in furnishing material for highly complimentary articles in the American newspapers, in a recent issue of the New York American makes the story of Mr. Knight's invention a leading feature.

It is in part: "Mr. Knight's ten-day trip abroad, taken half in fact and half in hope, to lay before the manufacturers of Europe what he claimed for his valdevo engine, became a veritable triumph that transcended the work of any other greatest automobile plants of the old world."

"The merits of his invention took the mechanical scientists of England by storm when they had investigated it and tested it thoroughly."

"After my engine had passed with flying colors through severe tests made before the experts of the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain and Government officials high up in mechanical technique the English Daimler offered me an advantageous contract for the payment of royalties," Knight told his friends in Chicago. From that he went on to tell how in succession he entered into similar contracts with the Daimler company in France, the Mercedes in Germany, the Minerva in Belgium, the Italian Daimler in Italy.

The engineers of these foreign companies bluntly told the American inventor that they wished he had not been born; but they were broad-minded enough to advise their respective companies to abandon the perpetually old and conventional motors and to close with Mr. Knight.

NEW TRIAL ORDERED OVER CROSSING CRASH

Court of Appeal Decides in Favor of the C. P. R.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, April 21.—The court of appeals has directed a new trial of the action brought against the C. P. R. by the parents of Ernest Edgar and the station Zetland, who were killed on a level crossing at Beachville at eight p.m. on January 4, 1910. Mr. Justice Macgill and a jury gave judgment for $3,000.

Mr. Justice Garrow reflects on the finding of the jury in the face of several disinterested witnesses who swore that the train whistled and that the engine bell was rung. "The real wonder," he says, "is that in the light of such apparently convincing testimony, a conscientious jury should have preferred the negative to the positive evidence. The result is not merely against the weight of the evidence, but approaches it if it does not reach the perverse."
