The Grand Week.

The coming engagement of E. E. Rice's brilliant extravaganza, "1492," at the Grand Opera House for one week, beginning Monday next, has aroused an enormous amount of interest among the amusement-loving public. The cast is an exceptionally strong one, including the artists who have been so long associated with the success of this novel entertainment. The extravaganza is said to be especially brilliant as to light and catchy order with which the production is brought here under the personal supervision of Mr. E. E.
Rice, whose name is happily associated with the best musical productions of this country. The company numbered 60 members, which is a statement that the production is of the highest order and doubtless the best organization touring the country.

"New East Lynne."

Appropriately the appearance of Miss Ada Gray in the "New East Lynne," at the academy next week. The New York Herald says: "A response, and critical audience filled the Standard Theatre last night. The play presented was the 'New East Lynne.' The appearance of Miss Ada Gray, who contributed by her good and true acting to the success of the production, was highly appreciated. The play is a drama of the highest order, and the production is of the highest order."

Killed Four and Wounded More.

Millers, Tex., Jan. 31.—William Ward, a settler, had been employed on the Houston and Texas Railroad, last night shot in the back by a band of desperadoes, and killed four through the windows of a box car, and wounded two others.

ing of the Old Dominion Jockey Club

Stringfellow, announced to start in the first race, was scratched by orders of the judges, who suspected that the horse had the injection as the latter acted peculiarly going to the post. Bets were declared off and time allowed for a new owner King the horse and Jockey Dorsey, who was to have ridden Stringfellow, will be investigated. The boy was ruled off some time ago for riding Blackburn, who had been given the injection, but was reinstated on the plea that he was ignorant of the fact.
