JOHN IMRIE'S POEMS

..A FEW SAMPLE VERSES..

"CALL ME SCOTTY!"

Yes I oa' me "Scotty" if you will,
 For sio' a name can mean nae ill,
 O' a' nick-names just tak' your fill—
 I'm quite content wi' "Scotty!"

A Scotchman has the knack to plod,
 Through thick an' thin he'll bear his load,
 His trust is aye in richt an' God,—
 The perseverin' "Scotty!"

He's 'tentive both to kirk an' mart,
 To friends he's true an' hard to part,
 In life's great race he needs nae start,—
 "I'll win or dee," says "Scotty!"

Though aft he travels far frae hame,
 He's aye a Scotchman a' the same,
 An' proud to crack o' Sootlan's fame,—
 A loyal son is "Sooty!"

A Volume of 350 pages beautifully bound in Cloth and Gold, good paper,
 and well-printed, nearly 3000 copies disposed of.

POST FREE FOR ONE DOLLAR.
