

REPORTERS' WORK.

Isaac Pitman's System.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a personal letter or diary entry, written on lined paper. The text is organized into two columns, separated by a vertical line. The handwriting is fluid and somewhat slanted, characteristic of a cursive style. The paper shows signs of aging, including creases and discoloration.