Collection.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The confidential letters written by the murdered informer Carey to his solicitors white he was confined in jail have been published and make a remarkable and unexpected showing. Their whole tenor unterly repudlates his leadership in the more aggressive Irish movements, and he strennously denies that he in any way insulgated the Phonix Park murders. He says it is incredible that he should have for a moment involved himself in any such agitation. It would, he says, have been impossible for him to have belonged to any secret society, intended for purposes of murder and dynamite, and to have taken the communically taken it throughout the last five years.

A BANK SWINDLER.

LOCKPORT Aug. 11.—A man, girlog the name of George W. Burgess, of Auburn, yesterday victimized the First National Bank of this city very cleverly. He was introduced by the proprietor of the American Hotel as a produce buyer, intending to open business here. He had a obcok on a Syracuse bank for $350, and a bank book of the Auturn Bavings Bank with an alleged balance of $249. These he deposited and checked out $175, leaving town right away by the Ede Bailroad for Buffalo. Soon afterward the hotelkeeper's suspicions were aroused, and telegrams disclosed the fraudulent character of his securities. He was traced to Buffalo. He has white hair and beard, appears about fifty years of age, and looks like a business The Rochester and Auburn banks are also siter him. It is suspected that he swindled the banks in Rochester under the name of Graves.

HALIFAN, Aug. 11.—Information from Guye-boro to-night states that there is as yet no clue to the real murderer of Ada Byard, the deaf, dumb and blind colored girl, who was n to death in a most bruta tu TARRIDO her home near that town several days ago the little girl whom one of the witnesses at the inquest testified had committed the deed not being believed guilty. It appears that the unfortunate young woman was a cripple, in addition to her other infirmities, and it is asserted that her father, during last May, left her at one time shut up alone for three days and without requisite attendance. A doctor who examined the remains of the deceased said he thought death was caused by the wounds inflicted on her skull by some blunt instrument, and be was of opinion that the weapon could not have been in the hands of a five-year old girl. Elizabeth Mansfield, a colored girl, seven years of ago, daughter of Byard's second wife, swore that she was murdered by the girl's little sister. She stated that she witnessed the deed being committed through a window of the house, the deceased and her murderer being slone, and climbing through, she took the axe away from the child. When her father returned several hours later, she told him this story, and the latter chastised his daughter. The jury returned a verdict that deceased met her death at the hands of some person or persons urknown.

As showing the sentiment which has been prevalent all through the excarsion, we give the following verses, written on the steamboat on the way down the Saguenzy, by the well-known veteran, Mr. David Wylie: ONTARIO TO QUEBEC. : AN IMPROMPTU.

AN IMPROMITU.

Give us your hand, Quebec; fear not to trust;
Let us reciprocate; our sim is just.
We have been a brangers heretofore, but now
Our Press men know you better; and we vow
Should any traitor intervene between,
We'll treat him as a dastard base and mean,
And hold the firmer by each other's hand,
So hand to heart unitedly we stand.
We greet you, brethren of a kindred band,
Whose aim is building up this glorious land;
We all are some of Canada; then why
Should we turn pens to swords, and ily
At others' throats because our fathers may
Have fought and bled at some long distant day?
We claim one country, and we claim one Queen,
The hest, the purest e'er the world has seen;
We claim the patriots covered by our sod;
We claim one heaven, we adore one-God.
No foe can touch us, eise they soon will find
Quebec, Ontario, one to one in mind.
We've seen your Province and your Saguenay,
These we'll remember when we're far away.
Shail we forget your kindress, now we sover?
No, old Quebec, we will forget you never!

OBITUARY.

Hon. James Cockburn died at Ottawa on August 14th, after a long and lingering illness. Mr. Oockburn first entered public life in 1861, as member for the West Riding of Northumberland. In the elections of 1863 he was returned by acclamation, and shortly aftewards, when, on the defeat of Mr. John Sandfield Macdonald's Government, Sir John Macdonald was called upon to form a Cabinet, he took chics as Solicitor-General, going back to his constituents, and encountering one of the hardest fought electoral battles of that period. He remained in office until the formation of the first Cabinet of the Domicion, and on the assembling of Parilament in 1867, was chosen Speaker, a position to which he was re-elected in 1872 for the second l'arliament of Canada. In 1881 he was appointed commissioner for the preliminary revision and consolidation of the Dominion statutory laws, a work upon which he has been engaged ever since, his residence during several months past being in Montreal, where he was under the medical treatment of Dr. Fenwick.

China has one colllery in complete working order. It is located at Kaiping, not far from Pekin. The coal supply is considered ample, as the coal-bearing stratum is supposed to be about 1,000 feet thick, with thirlesa seams. A railway six and a bulf miles in length-tho only one in all China-carries the coal from the mine to a canal, where the loads are transferred to barges.

WINE DRINKING IN ENGLAND. In English wine drinking the falling off in consumption is remarkable, if placed in cortrast with a steady increase, year after year, up to the year of grace 1876, when the consumption reached its highest total of about 18,500,000 gallons-high-wine mark that deserves to be marked upon the deorposts of the Treasury chambers, as exceptionally high tides are marked on river plers and bridges. From that date a gradual decline has not in, with the result of in the past year a consumption of only some 14,000,000 gallons.

AN INVENTOR DEAD.

Mr. Robert Griffiths died recently in 32yswater, England. His name is familiarly connected in England with the great screw prcpeller, his first patent being dated September, 1849. In 1853 he fitted his screw to the Royal yacht "Fairy," and the Peninsula and Oriental Company took up the invention, which occupied Mr. Griffiths' attention to nearly the time of his death. He also gave much attention to the manufacture of parafine oil from shale.
