

continuing to give to international collaboration met with warm support and appreciation in Canada. I can only say that I have the strongest hope that my talks with the hope as with the other leaders will be shown to have yielded productive results.

In conclusion I should say that members of the House will be gratified to know that in all the countries I visited there was ample evidence of the high regard in which our country and its people are held, and of a wish to work with us towards the objective we all endorse of creating a peaceful world.
