the Reduction of Cape-Breton. 27

and ever. Let us speak of the glorious honour of his Majesty, and of his wondrous works. Let us speak of the might of his terrible acts, and declare his greatness. Let us abundantly utter the memory of his great goodness, and sing of his righteousness.

And let not the blessed God have Occasion to say of us, as of his People of old, They sang his praise, they soon forgot his works. They forgot God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt, wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red-Sea.

Let us not think it enough, my Brethren, that we have laid aside our worldly Business for a while, to appear in the Sanctuary of God, that we may speak and sing his Praises. The Lord has done great things for us. The God of Jeshurun hath rode upon the Heavens in our Help, and in his Excellency on the Sky. And this wonderful Appearance of God for us, should excite our Love, warm our Devotion, confirm our Faith, encourage our Hope, and inspire us with the firmest Resolutions of all holy Obedience to the Commandments of God.

Let us not think, that God will be pleased with meer external Offerings of Praise, Nay, he hath shewed thee, O Man, what is good. And what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to do Justice, and to love Mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Behold, to
