

uninterruptedly in the capital since our last anniversary, and for a considerable portion of the time has undertaken the duties of the Parish Priest, in addition to those of the Episcopate. His Lordship has in consequence been enabled to devote more attention to the management of the Self-Assisting Clothing Society, and to the Asylum for Widows and Orphans—both of which Charities the Committee are enabled to report in a very satisfactory condition. The latter, it should be generally known, is intended for the benefit of the whole Colony; and not of the capital only. Some destitute children from out-harbors have been already admitted; and the Officers and Committee of the Charity are prepared to receive applications from any quarter. The arrangements of the Building are found in every respect convenient and suitable.

The Bishop has further taken advantage of the opportunity to renew the attempt made some few years ago to erect a Church on the South Side of the Harbor—urgently required for the large and encreasing population in that locality. The members of the Church in all parts of the Colony will, it is believed, be much gratified to learn that the Bishop's appeal in his Pastoral Letter has been responded to in a manner which gives every hope of a comely and commodious Church, suitable to the requirements of the inhabitants, being forthwith commenced, and in due time, with God's blessing, completed. In the meanwhile, a benefit of a yet greater importance has been conferred upon the neighborhood by placing a Clergyman to reside on that side of the Harbor, who will be enabled to give much larger attention, than heretofore, to the inhabitants there; and build up it is hoped the spiritual House, together with the material Temple.

Since the arrival of the Archdeacon the Bishop has been enabled to pay some visits to the Out-harbors; and has consecrated a new and comely Church at
