A Heart to Heart Talk With a Girl

YOU are one of hundreds of thousands of girls and women in America who earn your own living, and this article is addressed to you.

The history of the world does not record a harder struggle than you are forced to endure. Every boy from childhood is trained to become independent. Every girl is trained to depend on some one else.

But if you are forced into a man's world, or if you have chosen you may as well play a man's game. For business is a game, and those who play it as a game succeed.

The trouble with you is that having a lot of the mother instinct in you, you take everything, including your employer's troubles, to heart.

For success is won with intelligence, not with sympathy.

Success is won by watching for opportunities and feeling able to meet them.

In this paper, for example, may be a Want Ad for just the position you are looking for. Studying these Want Ads is one way of watching for these opportunities, and furthermore it is the way most young men start.

If you will just treat this business proposition as a game in which your only business is to win, it won't be long before your pay envelope gets fat.

All people who succeed have learned to "play the game," and "playing the game" has nothing to do with morality, but simply mentality.

This is the day when women have learned to think. Turn to these Want Ads now and play the game. The stakes are better salaries and happiness.
