G. T. R. Refuses to Allow City to Instal Hydrants on Water Front.

When the enquiry into the charges by Aid. Burgess of inefficient fire protection was commenced by the board tection was commenced by the board of control yesterday morning Contholiar Foster left his seat, refusing to take part, as he held that the enquiry should be made by a coroner.

"Is it the duty of the fire and works departments to provide fire protection to the city? Should the island have fire protection from the opening to the close of navigation?" were questions first submitted by Ald. Burgess to the board.

"Certainly." Mayor Hocken replied.
"If I prove carelessness by the fire and works departments, will you admit lassificiency of fire protection?" Aid. Burgess then asked.
"Yes," Mayor Hocken answered.
"Then I am ready to have my charges taken up," Ald. Burgess said.
The first charge was of carelessness in providing fire protection at the island on April 20, causing the loss of several buildings by fire.
"The time of turning on the water in mains on the island each spring was haphazard, leaving an uncertainty between the works and fire departments as to when the water should be turned on," said Ald. Burgess. "It was thus easy for the water to be turned on and the fire department not know."

"In future the water is to be turned on at the island on April 1, or earlier if the weather will permit," Mayor Hocken remarked. "It is admitted that the onus of delay at the fire on April 20 is on the works department and not on the fire department."

Thompson. "We have tried for years to get permission from the G.T.R. to lay a main there."

"If a fire occurs down there we can't control it," said Deputy Chief Noble,

"There is an area down there without sufficient mains and the chief and deputy chief say it is impossible to put in mains there," said Controller Mc-Carthy."

"There was hardly enough water to run out of the nozzle," Deputy Chief Noble said.

"The lack of pressure there is caused by a six-inch main," Commissioner Hartis ethical military of the city similar conditions obtain. This is the result of property owners in the older part of the city having refused to pay fer more than three or four-inch mains. Since I took office I ordered that nothing less than six-inch mains about the runors. "There is nothing in the story now at all," he said, when interviewed at the King Edward.

IRISH PEER IS.

Who. Louis Coderre, minister of mines, who came to Toornot yesterday to attend the banquet to the members of the industrial congress of geologists, was asked about the runors that he intended resigning his portfolio. The minister of mines emphatically denied the truth of the runors. "There is nothing in the story now at all," he said, when interviewed at the King Edward.

Once a Month. "There are 5218 hydrants in the city and all are examined once a month," Commissioner Harris stated. "The works department will supply the fire department with full information upon the present the pressure at each hydrant."

The next charge was that there are no keys in the fire alarm boxes at the Exhibition grounds, and that caused a serious delay in sending in an alarm for the fire there on Aug. 3.

There are plenty of keys in the possession of the officiais of the Exhibition and the grounds. Chief Thompson and the grounds alarm boxes at Exhibition Park there would be many false alarms. Wherever would be many false alarms at the discovery or whereabouts of the discovery o alarms sent in. To show that the system at the Exhibition grounds is not exceptional, the university authorities insist upon having glassless boxes and keeping the keys in the possession of officials only." AT FIRE ENQUIRY The enquiry was adjourned at 11 o'clock this morning.

> Moore Park Deputation Interviews Officials of Revision Court.

Moore Park sent a large deputatio to the court of revision yesterday to appeal against this year's assessment J. S. Fullerton, K.C., headed the deputation.

"We represent 100 property owners in Moore Park," said Mr. Fullerton.

"Our assessment has gone up 700 per cent. by annexation, and we are assured it will be three years before we will have a sewerage system there. It is very unjust that our assessment should be so greatly advanced, and yet there can be no increase in value to our property for three years."

Chairman Drayton reserved judgment.

COLLEGE STREET IN GOOD ENQUIRY

Wave of Commercialism Will Soon Sweep West From Yonge Street.

The action of the university governors in the relieving of part of College street, from Yonge over to about the new hospitl, from rulings that shut out business houses is having its effect. Already the properties affected by the change from residential to prospective business use are in active enquiry, and sales are sure to result very soon. The citizens are quite likely to see a rush of business of Yonge before the winter is begun.

Residents who hope to stand against the natural tide of development feel uneasy as to the certain prospect of the residential character of the street being swept away. Over half of the properties between Yonge and the Victoria Hospital are on the market, at prices better than a year ago, when the present condition was not anticipated.

The Christian Science Church, at the northwest corner of Elizabeth street, for example, is on sale. And strange to Toronto, the congregation will worship in a public hall on Sundays after the sale of the site.
