MR. BASTEDO DISMISSED

Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries is Removed as Result of Recent Investigation.

"Mr. S. T. Bastedo has been removed nent of Premier Whitney yesterday fternoon. The action follows on the report of Mayor Judd of London, the harges brought against Mr. Bastedo by J. S. Webster, an employe of the department last winter. Contrary to exectation, Mr. Webster's dismissal is not synchronous with that of Mr. Basclusion of the commission with regard to Mr. Webster will be dealt with later

Mr. Bastedo entered the civil service in 1880 as private secretary to the late Sir (then Hon.) Oliver Mowat. In the fall of 1898 he was appointed secretary and financial officer of the fisheries deartment, then established. In the folwing spring he became deputy com-only removal by the government of an official holding a prominent and important position in the parliament build-

"The occurrences which led up to the mploye against Mr. Bastedo, took place before the present government ame into power. The charges were of such a nature-comprising, among other offences, the mutilation of official letter books, the mutilation and secretion of etters written on official business, the suppression of documents called for by resolution of the legislature, and of in-terference by Mr. Bastedo in election campaigns—that an investigation be-

"A return was asked for, as patated in the charge, and in the return all the documents and letters, numbering about saxty-five, were omitted from the return. These documents are marked exhibit No. 40, and were evidently omitted because they contain political references. The return undoubtedly was false. Mr. Bastedo says that he was instructed by Hon. Mr. Latchford, who was then the minister in charge of the fisherles branch, to omit the documents for the making up of the return in question from the return. I can hardly credit the statement that Mr. Latchford was the one who looked all thru the documents for the making up of the return in question. It seems to me that that is a matter which he would leave with his deputy, and that the deputy commissioner would be the enew who would really make up and be responsible for the contents of the return in this particular instance.

"It seems to me the only answer to the mean as the political fair of the contents of the return in this particular instance.

Mr. Bastedo, it seems to me, went much farther than that. I do not think any fair-minded person hearing the evidence and considering it carefully can see anything other than that.

"Without going into the commissioner's report in detail, I will quote one or two of his findings. With reference to the suppression of documents, the commissioner, Mr. Judd, says:

"A return was asked for, as stated in the charge, and in the return all the documents and letters, numbering about in the insherment at Kinarney, and to kinarney, and to what were they to be reconciled?

Why?

"Why did he write to different parties that prospects looked good, and indicated a return of the government with an increased majority, and how that such was the fact?

Why did he recommend Cowley, the M.C.R. conductor, to Mr. Holmes as an Al chap in every way? Why did he ask Mr. John Judge to send him circulars which it was alleged had been issued by Conservatives in reference where made in the was not instructed to do so, but on the other hand was instructed that a man's politics should not be taken into account at all in receiving a license.
