NORTH TORONTO FETE WONDERFUL SUCCESS

Big Crewds at Victoria Square--Wychwood Youth Drowns -County Doings.

NORTH TORONTO, June 19.—(Special) — Few more delightful events have ever taken place in town than the garden fete held at "Knockaloe," the beautiful residence of W. J. and Mrs. Ellis, at Bedford Park, on Saturday afternoon and evening. The natural beauty of the grounds had been lavishly supplemented by artistic touches here and there, and this coupled with ideal weather and the presence of the youth and beauty of the town, constituted a charming scene.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, themselves ideal host and hostess, made everybody feel at home, while the Eglinton Ladies Aid Society, under whose auspices the function was held, acquitted themselves nobly. A feature of the gathering was the presence of P. W. Ellis, a former townsman, and his family. The latter, Miss Madeline, Miss Muriel and Master Kenneth, gave splendid assistance, not alone in the work of preparation, but in the literary program following.

For the home team Tom Thorne proved himself a sterling asset, taking five wickets for six runs, while Johnnie Tyndall and K. Ellis batted well, 12 and 17 runs, respectively. The fielding was up to the usual standard, and Danny Gunn drew three wickets for one run. The score was 50 to 20.

The forthcoming conference on Tuesday between the town and city authorities re the water question is awaited with the greatest interest. WYCHWOOD.

Picnic at Willow Lake on Saturday Has Tragic Ending.

WYCHWOOD. June 19.—(Special.)—
The annual outing of the Wychwood Presbyterian Church to Meadowale on Saturday afternoon was marred by a sad accident in the death of a young man named Tulloch. 18 years of age, and a son of John Tulloch living near the corner of markham-street and St. Clair-avenue. Young Tulloch was swimming with some of his companions in Willow Lake, when he got into a hole and sank out of sight. The bost was not recovered for 20 minutes, and tho every effort was made to resuscitate him, all were fruitless. The body was brought to his father's house, from which the funeral will later be held. Besides his parents he leaves two brothers and a sister.

The territorial regiment stood before the world, not with threats of war, but with safeguard of peace. It was simply defence of the home, not define of the controlled thing and only justified by direst necessity and in defence of a great principle of right and truth.

In conclusion, the speaker said that the letters "Q. O. R." might fittingly stand for the Ouigtness of the strong struggle for existence, men were apt to lose the reverence and chivalry needed for government and should stand for reverence and chivalry needed for government and should stand for reverence and chivalry needed for government and should stand for reverence and chivalry needed for government and should stand for reverence and chivalry needed for government and should stand for reverence and chivalry needed for government and c

VICTORIA SQUARE.

Great Day of Sports and Chief Inspector Hughes Speaks.

VICTORIA SQUARE, June 19.—(Special.)—Saturday and Sunday have been red-letter days in the history of this village, the sports of yesterday and the anniversary services to-day at-tracting beyond all doubts the largest crowd ever present.

More than one thousand people saw the games on Saturday, while the tea and concert given in the evening were the best ever. This afternoon and evening the Methodist Church was filled to the doors when Chief Inspector Hughes of Toronto gave brief but rousing addresses. In the evening Mr. Hughes spoke on "Child Training."

MARRIED SIXTY-FIVE YEARS.

A notable event in this city, and almost without a parallel, was the celebration by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarke, 24 Webster-avenue, of the sixty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. The venerable couple were the recipients of many kindly mementos, and three of the four sons were present at the event. Mr. Clarke is a life-iong resident of York Township and the city, landing with his perents in York in 1819 when six months old. He is a York pioneer, and a host of friends in the city and the township will wish them yet many returns of the day.

The several departments were thronged, and the ice cream and other booths did a rushing business.

Mayor Brown was an ideal chairman, and the Egilinton Young Men's Orchestra, under the guiding hand of S. J. Douglas, gave a number of selections, all of which were repeatedly encored. Mr. Douglas himself rendered two or three splendidly executed cornet solos. Others assisting in the musical program were: W. J. Kirkpatrick, W. J. Lawrence, tenor solos, and R. G. Kirby and Mrs. Fletcher duets, and the latter in solos, together with Miss Ellis, Mr. Bilton and Mr. Swash.

The financial results were most satisfactory, and the Ladies' Aid and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have cause for the greatest satisfaction.
