why a man goes to the city proper to buy his furnishings and that's because he doesn't know that he can get the same goods that the best stores in the city handle right in the North End Stores at a saving of 10 to 15 per cent on city prices and save his time and car fare as well. PHENOMENON IN EASTERN SKY; STARS OUTSHONE

Arrow Weather Vane in Shape And Brilliant as if Aflame—Third of Way Between Horizon and Zenith

Last night about 12 o'clock a mysterious phenomenon appeared in the eastern sky about one-third of the way between the horizon and zenith. It suggested to observers the mysterious meteorological appearance recorded by Josephus, which occurred during the siege of Jerusalem, and those recorded by other writers on meteorology since that time. The object, if observed in any other part of the sky, would have been called a comet, or a meteor, or a shooting star. It was very bright, brighter than any star, in fact suggested a flame.

The person from whom the Times derived this information was, with his wife, awakened by two members of the household, one of whom was a visitor from abroad, to look at it. The visitor thought it was an illuminating airplane. It seemed to be stationary, and was watched by the four persons for half an hour or so, and by two of the company for an hour later. No change was apparent. The Times informant thought at first that it must be a reflection, but there was no cloud visible which would reflect it. It is presumed the strange phenomenon was also observed by others.

BABE DIES IN ARMS OF MOTHER ON TRAIN NEARING THE CITY

Mrs. Cahill Was Traveling From St. John's, Nfld., to Join Her Husband in Cambridge, Mass.

Just as No. 9 train from Halifax was pulling into the city this morning, a three-months old baby of Mrs. Peter Cahill, a passenger from St. John's, Nfld., died in its mother's arms. The little tot had been in poor health for some time, but was apparently getting better. The baby was one of twins. The other died soon after birth.

Mrs. Cahill and her children were on their way to Cambridge, Mass., to join her husband who is located there and had intended going through on the 7 o'clock train this morning. The authorities would not allow her to proceed however, and she had to remain over in the city all day. The body of the child was lying in the ladies' waiting room all morning, but will very likely be buried this afternoon. The mother and children will proceed to Boston tonight.

FIRST TROOPS TO CAMP AT END OF NEXT WEEK

Plans for Special Coronation Day Service With Soldiers and Sussex Societies Attending—Camp Post Office

Arrangements are already well under way for the establishment of a field post office at Camp Sussex this year, and it is the expectation of those interested in the matter that the service this year will be even better than last year, when the delivery system was inaugurated with Joseph Crowley in charge, assisted by Carrier Magee. It worked very successfully.

At last year's camp, however, the post-office clerks were considerably hampered through lack of outfit necessary for conducting the work satisfactorily, but through a requisition already filed, this condition will not occur this year. W. Jangley, of the local post office will have charge of the military office, while John McDonald will attend to the delivery of the mails. The office will probably be situated in the armory as was the case last year.

Saturday of next week will see the arrival of the first body of troops in camp, this will be a detachment of the R. C. R.'s of Fredericton, who will attend to the preparing of the big encampment for the opening on June 20. The company of the regulars will remain under canvas for one month, covering the entire period of both camps. With the exception of the three days intervening between July 1, the closing of the first camp, and July 4, the opening of the second, the local militia, appointed by Postmaster Sears, will be in camp for a month as well.

There will probably be three church services this year on the spacious camp grounds, as undoubtedly there will be the regular services on both of the Sundays in the camping month, and there will also be service on June 22, Coronation Day. Not only will the militia take part in this, but the societies in Sussex with a representative body of citizens and the Sussex bands will also participate, and with the large number of soldiers in their uniforms and headbands, the military bands will be the garb of the Imperial orders, the sight is expected to be an imposing one.

About 75 or 100 voices will be heard in the choir in the open air at the service which will be conducted by Canon Neales, chaplain of the 74th regiment, and there will be present members of the local and provincial parliament, as well as the mayor of Sussex and the common council.

In addition to this service, there will be regular Sunday services for the Protestant troops on the ground in front of the staff lines, and the services for the Catholic troops in the Catholic church in Sussex.

G. P. R. BUYS THE PENDLETON PROPERTY

Now Own From Ald. McGoldrick's Nearly to Main Street—Difference Over Main Street Site

The Pendleton property in Mill street which has been taken over by the G. P. R. and the house will be immediately torn down. The owner of the property could not come to terms with the G. P. R. as to the purchase price until this week, but the business was completed yesterday and the site was transferred to the G. P. R.

This gives the railway possession of the land from Ald. McGoldrick's almost over to the foot of Main street. It is said that some trouble has arisen in connection with a project to build a main street adjoining the Pendleton property. The place is owned by a Hebrew and it is said the railway people claim that several sheds at the foot of Main street on their land and have given the owner till tomorrow to remove them.
