

THE WEATHER

Toronto, June 4.—The weather has been generally fine today throughout the Dominion with the exception of a few scattered showers in Ontario and Quebec and the western provinces.

AROUND THE CITY

Reported For Breaking Glass. Louis Donovan, of 69 Moore street has been reported by the police for throwing stones and breaking a pane of glass in William Clarke's house on Rockland Road.

To Quell A Disturbance. About 10.30 o'clock last night Officer Ross was called into Daniel Brogan's house in a yard off Egin street, to quell a disturbance between him and his wife Mary.

Little Wanderer Found. Yesterday afternoon a little girl was found wandering about Charlotte St. and was taken to the central police station where she was later called for by her mother, Mrs. George Thompson, 312 Germain street.

Passengers Were Ducked. There was an amusing incident on the ferry steamer last night shortly after 10 o'clock, and while many had a good laugh there were about a dozen men who were very cross. The steamer was taking on at the East Side dock when the hose burst and before the passengers could get out of the way they were given a severe ducking.

St. John County Meetings. There were enthusiastic meetings of the government electors in Fairville and Milford last night. During the evening Col. J. B. M. Baxter and Warden Carson the two government candidates called at the quarters and delivered short addresses. The meetings in both places were enthusiastic and the prospect is for a sure victory for the government.

Unlicensed Meat Dealers. Police Sergeant Finley has reported the following persons on the West Side for exposing fresh meat for sale without a license: James W. Hamann, 273 Ludlow street; Chas. W. Goodwin, 275 Winalow street; Michael Donovan, 2 Rodney street; Geo. F. Morris, 17 Winalow street; Theodore Stackhouse, 241 Ludlow street; Timothy Donovan, 205 Queen street; and John M. Glatbret, 209 King street.

A Battle Royal. There was a lively fight on Charlotte street shortly after ten o'clock last night and although it was soon over about a half-dozen young men made matters lively while it lasted. It appears that two men attempted to beat a third, the latter ran along the street until he met a few friends and returned, the two men who at first wished to chastise the one man also met friends and in a few minutes they took sides and there was a general fight. Some person in the crowd called out, "The cops are coming." This stopped the fight and the scraps were departed and when the police were in sight there was peace and quietness.

Charlotte Street Church Meeting. The annual meeting of the Charlotte street Baptist church was held last evening. The reports showed that a very successful year had been completed. During the year $2,713 was raised, of which $800 was devoted to missions and philanthropic purposes. The following were elected trustees: A. C. Gregory, W. Layton, S. Brown, S. Fullerton and J. D. Coes. J. S. Clark and P. L. Webb were elected treasurers, W. L. Stewart, clerk, and H. C. Smith and D. C. Clerk, auditors. H. C. Smith was elected chairman of the finance committee and E. Howard chairman of the ushers.

A Double Celebration. Just ten years ago Mr. and Mrs. John Barberie, of Moore street, were married and on the same date Mr. and Mrs. Cortes Dalton, of Egin street, were also made man and wife. A large circle of friends of the couple fixed on last night as the time to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the two weddings and the place for the celebration was at Mr. Barberie's residence. A delightful time was spent by the large number present and Mrs. Barberie and Mrs. Dalton were the recipients of many presents. There was kitchen dancing, music, games and refreshments and the affair proved a most pleasant one.

BODY FOUND OFF TYNER'S POINT

Decomposed Corpse of Woman Taken from Sea—May Have Been Victim of Titanic Disaster.

The body of a young woman, thought to be one of the victims of the Titanic disaster, was recovered from the sea near Tyner's Point, yesterday. All the flesh was gone from the face; the scalp was stripped off; there was no hair on any part of the head; the lower jaw was torn off; several teeth in the upper jaw were missing, and generally the remains presented a horrible and ghastly sight.

The upper part of the body was clothed in a rather coarse texture and the remainder of the clothing consisted of a green skirt and plain black stocking and rough boots. A black patent-leather belt was buckled about the waist. The body was that of a woman short in stature, rather slender and apparently about twenty years of age. It was in a shocking state of decomposition and evidently been in the water for a considerable time. There were no identifying marks on the clothing.

Yesterday morning when the flood tide was making the keeper of the light at Tyner's Point noticed what he thought was a body drifting past the point. At that time the government steamer Stanley was standing in to deliver supplies, and when the steamer's boat rowed to the light he spoke to the boatswain about what he had seen. The boatswain made a report on the matter to the master of the Stanley, who got in communication by wireless with Mr. Flood, the Marine Department agent here, and was instructed to recover the body if possible.

While the Stanley was landing supplies at the lighthouse the tide turned and presently the body was observed drifting back to the point. A boat was sent after it and it was secured to a rope and towed ashore. When it was drawn out of the water the men were horrified at the appearance of the mangled and decomposed head.

Coroner Berryman was notified of the discovery and he will probably go to Tyner's Point to view the remains. Some of the officers of the Stanley think it possible that the body may be that of a third class passenger of the Titanic. Supposing that the body drifted north from the position where the Titanic went down it might strike the Arctic current which sweeps westward across the banks and be carried towards George's Shoals where it might be caught by the tides and borne up the Bay of Fundy. This theory is probably somewhat far fetched, but a better explanation of the mystery has not been developed as yet. The fact that the body was found in such scanty attire suggests that the girl met her death under extraordinary circumstances.

Struck By An Automobile. An unknown man got the surprise of his life yesterday afternoon when, on stepping off a street car in front of the Provincial Hospital he was struck on the shoulder by an automobile and thrown to one side. Beyond being seriously cut about the face and head the victim escaped unhurt. The driver of the automobile, which was a runabout, thought it wiser to keep going than to stop and inquire if the man was hurt. The bystanders also failed to see the number of the car.

Mass Meeting in the Opera House. On Friday evening of this week the government party of this city will hold a big mass meeting in the Opera House, the chair to be taken at sharp 8 o'clock. P., John K. Wilson, M. P. P., and his three city colleagues, Messrs. L. P. D. Fliley, Phillip Granam and C. Berton Lockhart. KEEPER OF THE LIGHT MADE PLUCKY RESCUE

Capt. Tibbitts Snatched from Waves by H. E. Elderkin, at Apple River—Graphic Account of Wreck.

"I never had such a narrow escape in my life, and if it had not been for the bravery of H. E. Elderkin, keeper of the light at Apple River, I would certainly have been drowned," said Captain J. M. Tibbitts, who lost his schooner at Apple River, May 14th, and who was in the city yesterday on his way home to Bath, Me.

"In the height of a great gale of wind, with a high sea running, my schooner, the Henry May, hailing from New York, was driven ashore," said Captain Tibbitts. "I thought the vessel would hold together a long time, and decided to stand by her for a while. The crew went off in the boat, and made their way ashore safely. When they beached the boat she was stove in and rendered useless for further service.

"I had not been many minutes alone on the ship when a huge sea swung in and broke her in two. The spars fell, the fore part disappeared in the wash of the waves, and after-body swung in, caught on a ledge and held fast. It became evident that the after part would soon be broken up, for the huge rollers swept over it with great force.

"A Plucky Rescue. "Mr. Elderkin, seeing me clinging to the deck house, got a rope, waded out to a ledge, and tried to throw me the end of it. Against the sweep of the wind it was a hard job trying to throw the rope to reach me. Twice the sea combed over the ledge where Mr. Elderkin was standing, swept him up and nearly drowned him. He struggled back and finally just as I felt the deck house begin to slide from under me there came a lull in the wind, and by a great effort he managed to throw the rope so that I could grab it.

"Tying the end under my arms, I jumped overboard. Mr. Elderkin pulled me in and up the face of the ledge where he was standing, and dragged me breathless and dazed to the safety of the shore. When I got my wind and looked back, the remainder of the deck house had disappeared. I had not been rescued any too soon.

"Capt. Tibbitts paid a well-deserved tribute to the courage and endurance of the light-keeper. "Mr. Elderkin saved my life," he said, "at the risk of his own. I am deeply grateful, and hope the American consul here will see that the United States government recognizes his bravery.

"After we got ashore, my crew and I were given accommodation at the light-house and were treated very kindly by Mr. Elderkin and his wife."
