CELEBRATE SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY

Congregational Church, Union Street, has had eventful history—Receive many congratulatory messages.

It was a genial and contented gathering that assembled last evening in the Congregational church, Union St., when in a fitting manner the congregation commemorated the seventh anniversary of the founding of the church. A striking coincidence in connection with the celebration last evening was that while the anniversary of the church was being celebrated, the present pastor, Rev. Ralph J. Houghton, was celebrating his own birthday. All those present richly enjoyed the programme and the congregation looks forward to years of increased prosperity.

A history of the establishment of the church which was interestingly recalled at the meeting years ago of its growth and advancement. Early in the month of October, 1847, Rev. J. C. Galloway, M.A., of West Bromwich, England, visited St. John at the request of the Colonial Mission Society of London in connection with the Congregational union of England and Wales. Rev. Mr. Galloway began service in the Baptist chapel which is the present St. John Presbyterian church. Then as the congregation grew in numbers services were held in the old historic Mechanics' Institute until the congregation gradually increased, demanding better accommodation.

It was then that a chapel with accommodation for six hundred on the ground floor was erected on the site of the present Congregational church. The corner stone of this building was laid by Rev. Mr. Galloway on the 26th day of May, in the year 1846 and in the service he was assisted by the Rev. James Porter of Sheffield, New Brunswick. On the third day of June in the same year (seventy years ago) the church was organized. As matters became consolidated in St. John Rev. Mr. Galloway turned to the needs of the two lower provinces and eventually in the year 1847 there was formed the present Congregational union of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Pastor's Address.

In an opening address last evening Rev. Ralph J. Houghton remarked that for the members of our Congregational church it was indeed a time for rejoicing, and in alluding with pride to the many prosperous years that the church had experienced he emphasized the great debt that was owed to the past. "Other men," he said, "have labored and we have entered into their labors. Our privileges and blessings came to us in such a way that we are apt, some times, to forget them. It seems that the spiritual house which founded this church and who labored so faithfully for so many years are saying to us on the occasion of this seventieth anniversary 'What a gift that has cost us so many sacrifices and which we handed down to you to preserve for the glory of God and the good of fellowmen.'"

"This seventieth anniversary is a new call to us to put into this church our very best and to do the very best for the advancement of our Master's Kingdom. Paul's exhortation to the Corinthians I would suggest to you as a good motto, namely, 'Seek that ye may excel in the building up of the church.' Let us strive faithfully to build up our own church that we may build up the church universal. God wants men and women today who will attempt great things for Him."

Words of Congratulation.

Words of congratulation on having passed seventy successful years were received from Rev. W. T. Gunn, Toronto, secretary of the Congregational Union of Canada. Similar letters were also received from the following past pastors of the Union street Congregational church: Rev. Oliver Brown, Alstead, New Hampshire; Rev. J. S. Saeor, Toronto; Rev. David Howie, East Jaffery, New Hampshire; Rev. Norman McKinnon, Ulica, New York; Rev. W. J. Minchin, Ames, Iowa; Rev. J. A. Gordon, Winnipeg; Rev. R. R. Morson, Yarmouth, Maine; Rev. W. S. Pitchard, Odessa, Washington; Rev. S. W. Anthony, St. Albans, Vermont; Rev. A. E. Toole, Waterville, Quebec. Letters were also received from Rev. C. H. Harrison, pastor of the Federation church of Pullman, Washington, a former member of the Congregational church, and Rev. J. W. Cox of Sheffield, N. B., who for twenty-five years was secretary of the Congregational Union of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

During the evening a short musical programme was carried out to which the following contributed: Piano solo, Miss Hazel Slocum; vocal solo, Miss Minnie Myles; vocal solo, Mrs. Perry and son, Mrs. Frank Watters of Norwich, Connecticut; Miss Bell Sinclair and Miss Hazel Slocum acted as accompanists. All the numbers were splendidly rendered and after the musical programme had been completed the meeting formed itself into a social gathering. Refreshments were served and a pleasant hour passed.

Since the church was established the following pastors have served: Rev. J. C. Galloway, 1846-1848; Rev. Charles McKay, 1848-1858; Rev. H. G. Storer, (acting) 1856; Rev. George Schofield, 1857-1858; Rev. J. B. Thornton, 1858-1861; Rev. Thos. B. Prichard, 1861-1863; 1863; Rev. Oliver Brown, 1864-1866; Rev. Frederick Hastings, 1866-1869; Rev. S. O. Dodd, 1869-1875; Rev. Charles B. Woodcock, 1875-1879; Rev. Addison Blanshaw, 1880-1881; Rev. J. B. Saeor, 1884-1890; Rev. David B. Howie, 1890-1893; Rev. Norman McKinnon, 1894-1896; Rev. W. J. LIBERALS FAILED TO PROTECT DEPOSITORS

Ottawa, June 3.—When the debate on the Farmers' Bank bill was continued Mr. H. B. Morphy, of North Perth, desired that any man known to be dishonest as was Travers, should also get relief from the government.

Mr. Devlin declared that the late government was no more responsible for the wrecking of the Farmers' Bank than the Empress of Ireland was responsible for the loss of her passengers.

Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, claimed that it was a breach of trust on the part of the Treasury Board to allow a man known to be dishonest as was Travers, to be placed in control of the trust funds of the people.

Continuing in the afternoon Mr. Crothers said that with all the warnings Hon. W. S. Fielding had received he had called on Travers the man accused, and accepted his statement that there was no truth in the charges. Guilty of Breach of Trust. Then he had given him the certificate which authorized him to go out and rob the widows and orphans. Mr. Crothers said that the finance minister was in a special sense a trustee, and his duty was to see that the prisoners in the Bank Act were complied with. In this sense he was a trustee both for the people of Canada and those who deposited their money with the bank. He said that he had been guilty of gross negligence and breach of trust, which it was his duty to reconcile with his usual high standard of action. It was a good principle in law that a trustee must be held to have known what it was his duty to know. From that standpoint Mr. Fielding must have known that Travers had been guilty of perjury and fraud. Were the transaction a private one, Mr. Fielding would have been required by the law to reimburse those who had suffered through his negligence.

Mr. Crothers in reply to a question by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, denied that he had committed the Conservative party to a policy of reimbursement of Farmers' Bank depositors in the election of 1911. He had pledged himself only in conclusion he expressed his conviction that parliament should reimburse the depositors of any bank which failed under circumstances similar to those attendant on the collapse of the Farmers' Bank.

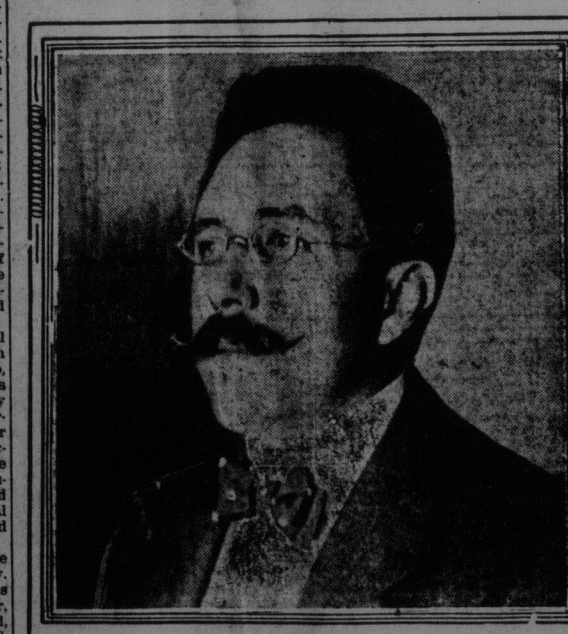

Mr. Demers, of St. John's-Berville, claimed that the Farmers' Bank had been made an election issue in Ontario by the Conservatives. Mr. Demers expressed the opinion that the government should have control over every detail connected with the foundation and organization of banks, and that among those subjects which should come particularly under its purview should be the solvency of the shareholders.

Robbed Through Late Government's Carelessness.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier wanted to know how Mr. Demers could justify the consistency of his attitude in condemning the granting of money to the depositors in the Farmers' Bank, while at the same time he himself was pleading for similar treatment for the depositors in the Banque St. Jean.

Mr. Pelletier stated that if similar conditions could be shown to exist in the case of any other bank failure in Canada similar treatment would be given the depositors. He pointed out that regardless of the warnings given him about Travers, Mr. Fielding had issued the certificate of the Treasury Board. The depositors had lost their savings in a bank whose doors had been opened under the Laurier government, and it was the duty of the present minister to remember the injustice. If the farmers of Ontario had known what Mr. Fielding knew there would not have been a dollar deposited in the bank. The country, with a revenue of $200,000,000 could well afford to reimburse the depositors. He pointed out that the Farmers' Bank were to be followed to its logical conclusion, almost any act of negligence in the country could be traced to the government, even the

MEXICAN DIPLOMAT WHO MAY REPRESENT CARRANZA AT THE MEDIATION CONFERENCE

LUIS CABRERA

General Venustiano Carranza will probably send representatives to Niagara Falls, Ontario, to present his side of the Mexican question to the "A. B. O." mediation commission. General Carranza will not give his envoys authority, however, to discuss any Mexican questions pertaining to domestic issues. Instead, his representatives will be empowered to discuss and arrange only those matters which pertain to the international aspects of the Mexican imbroglio.

That was what Licenciado Luis Cabrera, one of General Carranza's diplomats, said. Licenciado Cabrera or Licenciado José Vascanelles, it was said, will probably be named by General Carranza as his representative before the Mediation Board. It is declared that Mr. Cabrera will be either Minister of Foreign Relations in the Carranza Cabinet, when the chief of the revolution comes into power in Mexico City, or else he will be Mexican Ambassador to the United States government.

STORSTAD'S OWNERS FILE COUNTER CLAIM

Asking Fifty Thousand Dollars from C. P. R. for Damage to this Boat in Empress Collision.

Montreal, June 3.—The owners of the Storstad are carrying "the war into Africa." Their reply to the action by the C. P. R. to recover $2,000,000 damages for the loss of the Empress is a counter claim for $50,000 for damages to the Storstad. They claim that the Empress was at fault and allege negligence in her navigation. The counter claim reads:

"The actieselskabet 'Maritime,' a body politic corporate—having its head office in Christiania in Norway, the owner of the steamship Storstad claim from the plaintiff (The Canadian Pacific Railway Company), the sum of $50,000 for damage occasioned by a collision which took place in the River St. Lawrence on the 29th day of May last, and consequent costs."

Notice of the counter claim has been served on the attorneys for the C. P. R.

The first hearing of the case is scheduled for tomorrow, before Mr. Justice Dunlop, sitting in the Quebec Admiralty Division of the Exchequer Court. Then, the owners of the Storstad will formally present the petition by which they ask for release of the vessel on a bond being furnished for $254,699.87.

Arounding of a steamer in the St. Lawrence which had a pilot on board. He continued that when a request had been made during the Bank Act discussion for the guaranteeing of deposits by the government Mr. White had opposed it; why his inconsistent stand on this question.

Mr. Lemieux then went on to claim that since in 1892 the then deputy minister of finance, Mr. J. M. Courtney had warned Hon. G. E. Foster as Finance Minister, that there were irregularities in connection with the Banque Ville Marie and Mr. Foster had not closed that institution, the responsibility for the losses incurred by its depositors rested on his shoulders as surely as that for the losses in the Farmers Bank was alleged to rest on the shoulders of Hon. W. S. Fielding. Duncan Ross, West Middlesex, and J. A. McMillan, Glenora, on the Liberal side also declared that they would vote for the bill on the ground that it was a generous treatment which the country could afford to the victims of misplaced trust. But at the same time they thought that the argument for the bill could not be rested on any negligence or dereliction of duty on the part of Hon. W. S. Fielding, and that the legislation should be regarded as a precedent in view of all the exceptional circumstances.

Mr. Ross declared for a government guarantee of all deposits in chartered banks. On the government side Paul Lamarche of Nicolet declared himself against the bill. The vote was taken and Mr. Maclean's amendment was defeated.

W. F. Nickle (Conservative) was paired against the bill with Mr. Bennett (Calgary), and Mr. Lamarche also voted against the government while Messrs. Nesbitt, Ross and McMillan on the Liberal side voted with the government.

SENATE WILL TAKE UP C.N.R. BILL TODAY

Ottawa, June 3.—The senate will commence the Canadian Northern debate tomorrow.

Today when the Canadian Northern Bill was called for second reading Senator Bostock, opposition leader, said the measure was a very important one, that it had been somewhat altered in the Commons, that there had been little time to study the changes, and it would be well to defer second reading until tomorrow.

Hon. Mr. Loughheed said that he was perfectly willing to do so. The order was therefore deferred.

Resuming the debate on the tariff resolution of Senator Power, regretting that the government had not reduced the tariff, Senator Choquette said he did not think that the senate should be called upon to vote on this. The senate should not be called upon to vote on party lines and commit themselves to a line of action which they would probably repudiate should the Liberals be called to office in the next election. The tariff was always used as a vote-catcher. It was the convenience of political opportunists. He suggested that Senator Power withdraw the resolution.

Senator MacKay, of Cape Breton, said that he felt a good deal as Senator Choquette did. He adjourned the debate.
