MR. COPP MOVES A VOTE OF CENSURE
took up much time in reading old-time letters addressed by former Chief Commissioner LaBilloy to his department. He was in reply to a letter from St. John, dated by James Lowell to Mr. LaBilloy. As he read he commented most unfavorably, particularly with reference to an addition in Mr. LaBilloy's letter, not only in reference to a small draft. He did not complain that it was for expenses in connection with the department, but left the impression that it was a personal accommodation.

The auditor-general's report of 1911 is even worse than those of 1909 and 1910, because it deprived people of information they had a right to know. Several people in the province felt that the government was paying one and a half and two prices for public works to the friends of the government and it was the duty of the government to give full information, which the people demanded. Last year the government was not fair, reasonable and honest in all of its dealings with its honorable friends and the methods employed in giving information to the public, the auditor-general's report for 1911 is almost identical with that of 1907. Even the Standard newspaper had said that the report was practically the same as under the old administration.

Why Beautiful Homes Are Lined With UTILITY BOARD The Modern Wall Lining

It is superior and so much more satisfactory than Lath and Plaster in every way that it makes an irresistible appeal to the wise Home Builder.

It is quicker to put on and lasts longer. In thousands of cases its permanent reliability has been put to severe tests. It does not peel off or sag like plaster. It will not mar by knocking furniture against it. Durability means economy.

The Poorest Home Builder Can Afford Utility Board

Most artistic effects can be obtained with Utility Board in paper, painted, or kalomined walls, or in a large variety of panel designs. It is moisture proof and sanitary, impervious to heat and cold, keeps the home warm in winter and cool in summer.

Utility Board has many other uses about the house and yard, making an extra room in the attic or basement, finishing off summer houses, building partitions and remodeling old homes. Can be nailed over old plaster.

Utility Board is sold in strips 32 and 48 inches wide and 5 to 15 feet long and we carry large stocks.
