

are remarkable, beyond all other writings, for their power of inspiring devout emotions. But it is not in this respect only, that they are sublime. Of the divine nature, they contain the most magnificent descriptions that the soul of man can comprehend. The one hundred and fourth Psalm, in particular, displays the power and goodness of Providence, in creating and preserving the world and the various tribes of animals in it, with such majestic brevity and beauty, as it is in vain to look for in any human composition.
