

Ring-Bone

There is no one so old or bad that we will not guarantee Fleming's Spavin and Ringbone Paste to remove the lameness and make the horse sound. Money refunded if it does not. Easy to use and one to three 6-minute applications cure. Works just as well on Sidebone and Bone Spavin. Before ordering or buying any kind of a remedy for any kind of a lameness, write for a free copy of Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser. Ninety-six pages of veterinary information, with special attention to the treatment of lameness. Durable bound, indexed and illustrated. Make a right beginning by reading for this book.

A commercial traveller is on friendly terms with the porter of a sleeping car that he uses frequently.
"Well, George," announced the salesman one morning gleefully, "I have good news for you. We've had a birth in our family—twins."
"Dat am no berth, sir," said George. "Dat's a section."

Qounah Parker, the millionaire chief of the Comanches, was discussing in the Legislature a new Indian bill.

"The bill is no good," said the chief. "It would not have any effect. It reminds me of a young French lady in Washington."

"I was dining in Washington at an Ambassador's house, and this young lady was the only female guest. An Italian Duke wanted to tell an anecdote, but he hesitated."

"My story," he said, "is a very good one, but it is rather low in the neck, and before the young lady."

"But I don't mind me," she said, "I'll shut my eyes. Go on."—[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

LINE FENCE.

A and B own adjoining farms. A owns 150 acres and B owns 100 acres, the line fence between being kept up by each building his own half. Five years ago A dies, leaving his farm to his son and daughter—north of the road to the son and south of the road to the daughter. The son has not informed B of any change. The son works the whole place.

1. Where is B's part of the fence?
2. How should B proceed to claim his part of the fence?

Ans.—1. It is the part which was built and maintained by him during A's lifetime.

2. He should simply continue to treat it as his portion. We do not see that A's death has necessitated any other course on B's part.

EFFECTIVENESS OF IRREGULAR LEASE.

A leases to B (description of lot) for the term of three years for the sum of $95, clear of all demands, payable at the end of each and every year, beginning the 1st of January, 1909, and running yearly until lease expires. The same (A) agrees to keep fences in good repair and reserves dwelling on said lot, also lots enclosed. Signed by landlord and us, also witnessed.

1. Does this lease have to be registered?
2. Or can tenant hold lot by lease for the three years' term?

Ans.—1. No. 2. Yes; assuming, of course, that he complies with and performs all that the lease requires to be attended to and done on his part throughout the term.

ADJOINING LAND-OWNERS.

We live in a village; an outbuilding stands on corner of neighbor's lot, fifteen inches her side of line fence. By the building are three plum trees, six inches her side of line fence. Nearly all the branches extend over our lot, some of them six feet. She can get to the plums only from our lot. Trees were planted before building was placed there and fence removed. The building and trees shade our lot, and the trees get their nourishment from our land.

1. Can we cut off all limbs shading us?
2. Have we right to any fruit?
3. Can neighbor claim any or all fruit?
4. Can she come on our garden for the fruit?

Ans.—1. Yes, to the extent to which they overhang your land.
2. Not unless same have been abandoned by your neighbor.
3. Yes.
4. Yes.

BLACKLEG.

A calf about six months old was lame in the morning, otherwise all right. At about 6 in the evening I found it unable to get up, with left hind leg swollen about the hip joint. In a few days another about the same age went the same way. Both died in about twelve hours. In examining second calf, found hip joint quite black, with offensive smell. What do you think was wrong, what the cause, and could anything have been done for them when first noticed lame?

Ans.—This is evidently blackleg, also known as black quarter, a disease which affects principally young animals and is infectious and incurable. It is caused by a micro-organism which resides in the soil and invades the system through the medium of food, and through wounds of the skin and mucous membrane. Prevention consists in keeping young cattle off low-lying or damp pasture. The bodies should be burned or buried deeply and covered with quicklime. Do not drag them over grass or ground where other cattle or sheep lie or graze. Immunity can be given by inoculating young cattle with anti-blackleg serum, which may be had by applying to Health of Animals Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The cost is trifling, and instructions and apparatus for its application are furnished.
