LYING AS USUAL.

"The News is amusing itself by republishing cartoons that appeared in the Nugget 'knocking' the govern ment before the Nugget was 'bought on, and the Nugget is busily engaged in explaining. No explanation is needed. Everyone understands. It was simply the sale of an established policy and all the honor of an oppo sition sheet for a few pieces of gov ernment printing.

The foregoing is taken from the editorial columns of the Sun, designated as a newspaper by courtesy and presumed to be the mouthpiece of the government. The paragraph is in accord with the average utter ances of that sheet and under ordinary circumstances would be given no

The Nugget feels called upon, how ever, to refer to the matter briefly. by reason of the fact that the charge contained in the Sun's editorial con stitutes a slur upon certain high officials in the territory who in the very nature of things cannot speak a word in their own defense. The Sun makes the definite charge that the Nugget was bought off for a few pieces of government printingmeaning by that undoubtedly that the support given by this paper to the Hon. Jas. Hamilton Ross in the Dominion election last fall was purchased by government patronage. The 'few pieces of government printing which have given the Sun such cause for worry, came to the Nugget unsolicited and without even so much as an interview between any representative of this paper and the omeials who ordered the work

Nevertheless, the Sun charges the gentlemen concerned with making ise of government patronage for pur

The charge is a grave one and em anating from the government paper even though that paper is universally repudiated in official circles be given attention.

The Sun has laid a blanket charge against the local representatives of the government which if true would missions. If not true, the Sun is branded for all time as a slanderer and wilfull maligner of character.

The Sun knows perfectly well that its foolish charges are absolutely false it will not make those charges definite because it can not. But purely to vent a little spite on a competitor the government organ is Scotia, will be struck not very lar willing to stigmatize the characters of the very men who furnish the patronage that keeps the moribund Sun from actual dissolution Without government patronage the Sun could not live a single day in view. of which fact, the uncalled for, cowardly, false and malicious slur that it has cast upon local officials seems well nigh inexpliciable. The Nugget challenges the Sun to carry its charges into detail. To name the men who "bought the Nugget with a few pieces of printing," and give all the facts and circumstances.

In the meantime we shall dismiss the subject temporarily with the remark that the Sun is lying as usual
