

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 7, 1912.

More Conservative Victories.

Not content with their great win in Macdonald county, Manitoba, where the Liberal reciprocity candidate was swayed under by an adverse majority of nearly 800, and where the pet policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier received its last nail, the Conservatives entered the contest in the old Liberal stronghold of Richelieu, Quebec, where the Liberals had a majority of over 700 in September, 1911, and on Oct. 24th, in a by-election, reduced that majority to 562, although Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his hosts had camped in the county during the contest, and not a member of the Conservative government put in an appearance.

Again, on the 28th ult., in the county of East Middlesex, Ont., where there had been a vacancy caused by the death of the Liberal member, a by-election was held and the Conservative candidate won by a majority of 551. And on the same day a second by-election was recorded in the county of North Waterloo, Ont., when the Conservative candidate won the by-election by a majority of 1,373. George W. Nelly was the winner in East Middlesex, and C. H. Mills in North Waterloo.

No doubt this indicates a great returning to Laurier, and the organs of his great party will serve out to their readers an avalanche of wordy protests about the invasion of these counties by agents of the government who carried booties in large bags and corrupted the electors in defiance of law and order.

They are not concerned whether the county is going to the dogs or not, nor whether there is a line of truth in their editorials. They are simply gnawing their lips and gnashing their teeth because the methods by which they had won elections for fifteen years are no longer available, and the honest expression of the people is finding expression in sweeping victories everywhere.

Small Fruit.

The failure of many who occupy land to grow an abundance of small fruits, at least for their own use, is due to a mistaken idea that it requires too much time to look after a garden. This is the view taken up by Mr. W. T. Macoun, the Dominion Horticulturist, and expressed in a paper read by him last winter before the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry.

This paper, which constitutes a pamphlet of thirty-five pages, is an exhaustive treatise, expressed in the plainest terms, on the culture of small fruits. The fruit is not only a source of pleasure and health, but a source of income. Besides giving full instructions for planting and cultivation, notes are given on the relative merits of varieties.

This pamphlet contains an interesting table on the cost of growing and the returns from an acre of strawberries. At a selling value of five cents per box, a net profit of eighty four dollars is shown. A section is devoted to the preparation and application of insecticides and fungicides that are useful in fruit growing. Having the information in this paper to guide him, there is no good reason why every farmer should not have a productive fruit garden. A large edition has been printed to be sent free to all who apply to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Recent Deaths.

The death of Mrs. Albert Bennett occurred on Sunday last at her home, East Hall's Harbor. She was a most estimable lady and greatly beloved by her family and friends. She leaves to mourn her departure a husband, one daughter and two sons. The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Spidle, of Kentville, officiating.

The death took place at Hilltown on Monday of Mr. W. S. Sweet, one of the oldest and most respected real estate dealers of this town. Mr. Sweet was 72 years of age. For many years he carried on a successful general business and filled the position of postmaster. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church and was held in high esteem. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday.

A highly esteemed resident of Sheffield Mills, Capt. Theodore Harding Harris, died very suddenly on Saturday last at his home. Capt. Harris for some time had lived alone and on Monday evening his lifeless body was discovered by neighbors who were calling on seeing no movement about the house. The sudden death of his only daughter some weeks ago was a great shock to the deceased who had not been well for some time.

The death of Sister Adam Carr Bell, of Pictou, occurred at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, on Wednesday evening.

A Reminder.

Dear Sir:—Will you kindly point out to your readers to see that they are meeting to be held on Saturday (Nov. 16) in the Baptist Sunday school rooms, to give forward the money for providing homes for the sick in Wolfville. Very truly yours, A. F. Hinton.

The New Baptist Church.

FORMALLY OPENED AND DEDICATED ON SUNDAY LAST.

The formal opening and dedication of the new Baptist church edifice, a description of which was given by THE ACADIAN last week, took place on Sunday. The event was recognized as a most momentous one by the congregation, and in fact by citizens generally, and there was a large attendance at both the morning and evening services.

The morning service began at 11 o'clock. After the doxology and opening prayer by the pastor, Rev. E. D. Webber, through whose energy were largely the success of the undertaking is due, the congregation united in singing, 'O God, our Help in Ages Past.' Then followed the reading of the 122nd Psalm responsively and a selection from the sixth chapter of II Chronicles. A brief statement was given by the treasurer of the building committee in which he expressed satisfaction with the work done and the cordial relationship existing between the contracting firm and the church trustees. The whole work had cost $39,000, of which about $28,000 had been promised in pledges or already contributed. The solemn dedicatory service was read responsively by the pastor and people and Rev. Dr. Manning gave the dedicatory prayer, which was followed by the singing of the dedicatory hymn written for the occasion by Prof. J. Edmund Bars, President Cutten was the preacher of the dedicatory sermon. His subject was 'Worship and Service,' the text being Neh. 2:4-5, 4:9. Following is a brief outline of the able and earnest address:

Nothing is needed more to-day than balance in religion. In fact all the sinners seem to be endeavoring on the part of religionists thought to maintain an equilibrium. No man could know God fully, but each one gets a glimpse which may not seem to harmonize with the view obtained by some one else but in reality is a revelation of God. There has been a warfare between Faith and Works, or we might say Worship and Service. Worship has had a double meaning as being a particular feeling and a form of expression of that feeling. We have also had to reckon with two types of mind, one which needed a concrete object to symbolize the abstract and the other which retards this. We have had more disputes regarding the rigidity of worship than regarding the rigidity of creed and more of both than concerning the moral life. The form of worship should be plastic so as the change with religious experi-

'The Great Divide.'

'The best of plays and the best of players and productions,' is the motto of the 'Academy Players,' and in making the announcement of the play selected for the fourth week, the management feels confident it has decided on a play which will pack the Academy of Music to the doors. You have all heard of 'The Great Divide,' the play which the majority of critics herald as the greatest play of modern dramatic literature. It was the play in which Margaret Anglin and Henry Miller electrified New York and which ran two years at the Princess and Daly's Theatres and enjoyed long runs in Boston, Toronto and other large cities. The royalty of this play is so high as to make it prohibitive to most stock company managements.

'The Great Divide' ranks as one of the most costly plays to produce that are available to those willing to pay the price. It should certainly be a safe prediction that the bigness of the audience will justify the expenditure. No play in a decade has created such a furore as has been enjoyed by 'The Great Divide.' There is hardly a public library in North America whose shelves have not a copy of the published play. It has created more talk, been the subject of more sermons from the pulpit of what a good play should be than any other play stands to-day with 'The Servant in the House' and 'The Passing of the Third Floor Back' as one of the three great masterpieces of modern dramatic literature. At the Opera House, Wolfville, Monday, Nov. 11th.

Dr. Sommerville Retires.

Born in Canada, but for thirty seven years the pastor of a New York Church, the Rev. Dr. R. M. Sommerville celebrated his seventy fifth birthday this week. Grand Pre, N. S., was the birthplace of Dr. Sommerville, and October 14, 1837, the date of his arrival in this world. His father was the minister to a little flock of Scottish Covenanters in the Nova Scotia town, and, after graduating from Queen's College in Belfast, Dr. Sommerville became his successor. Following a brief pastorate in Cincinnati in 1875 he took charge of a congregation in New York. Since then he carried on an arduous but admitted by losing battle against sin in the American metropolis. Last month he resigned the pastorate of the Second Reformed Presbyterian Church of New York, accompanying his retirement from the ministry with an spirited arraignment of the people and customs of the city.—Chicago Canadian American (Oct. 10th).

MR. F. W. BORDEN AND SYNDICATE MADE RESPONDENTS IN BILL FOR ACCOUNTING.

Sir Frederick W. Borden, Canadian minister of militia under the Laurier regime; Sir Henry Pellett of Toronto, other capitalists and the Butte Central Copper Company are besought for an accounting for 130,000 shares of that company purchased by a syndicate, in a bill filed in the supreme court here yesterday.

The petitioners, subscribers to the syndicate, ask the supreme court to order the a se of the syndicate distributed and to enjoy the respondents from disposing of any of the stock.

Oct. 29 the case will come up for a hearing.

The petitioners are George F. Bradley, Henry C. Bear, Emile Felkelman and Clarence E. Learned. The First National Bank and the Federal Trust Company of this city are also named as defendants.

The stock the petitioners seek to reach and to have an accounting for they allege is now in the hands of Borden, Willard E. Robinson and William H. North, trustees of the syndicate. They have declined to make an accounting.

It is claimed the syndicate acquired 130,000 shares of Butte company stock and that the subscribers paid between $107,000 and $200,000 to the syndicate. Also they claim the Butte company issued $150,000 income bonds, and the syndicate managers issued 20,500 shares of the 130,000 they acquired.

Claim is also made that the respondents intend to sell 5,000 shares of the Butte company to one Clinton at $1.50 per share, a price far below the market price for Butte stock, from $7 to $8 a share, and that they have already given away other stock of the Butte company for services.

The individual respondents named are Sir Fredrick W. Borden, Mark Workman and Leslie S. Macoun, all of Montreal; Free man J. Davison, Willard E. Robinson, William H. North and Lemuel E. Domelman, all of Boston; Sir Henry Pellett of Toronto; Rudolph Forger of Montreal; George H. Cragin, of Athol; Adolph Levy, William G. Burns, John A. Condy and F. A. Cave, all of Boston; and William H. Tilliglast, of Providence.—The Boston Herald.

Patrons are respectfully requested to place their orders early so there may be no distressing disappointments when the busy season begins.
