

HONORED IN DEATH AS LIFE MERITED.

Funeral of the Late Masonic Grand Secretary a Sincere and Impressive Ceremony.

Large Attendance of Citizens and Masons at the Church and Grave.

Christian people of all denominations, citizens of every class and Masons of every rank, and from near and far, all feeling that they had, in the late Mr. Hugh Murray a representative of the best type, joined on Saturday in paying to his memory a tribute of love and honor such as few people can hope to earn, yet which but feebly expressed the sense of the loss which has befallen them. Not in many years has such a concourse of Masons gathered at a funeral as that which attended the obsequies of their late grand secretary, and many thousands of citizens stood with bowed heads and misty eyes as the cortege passed through the streets, and as the casket was lowered into the last resting place in the cemetery.

The services were solemn and impressive, and were accompanied by the fullest honors of his church and the fraternity with which he had so long been prominently identified could be better, were simple and heartfelt.

Long before the time set for the opening of the service in First Methodist Church the gallery was filled and when the Masons had arrived, the church and Sunday School officials, the Board of Education and the Hamilton Rugby Club officials and players and lecturers seated in the places reserved for them, hundreds had to stand, both on the ground and in the galleries.

At 2 o'clock a private service for the family and immediate relatives was held at the late home of the deceased, 124 Main street east. When the casket was placed in front of the flower-banked pulpit the whole vast assembly arose and sang "The Lord's Prayer" and the organ pealed out the Dead March.

The Masons occupied the whole of the down stairs, with the exception of the front seats, in the centre, which were reserved for the chief mourners; the front side pews on the east, which were occupied by the officers and players of the Hamilton Rugby Club and the members of the Board of Education; the front side pews on the west where the members of the Trustee and Official Boards of the church, the officers and teachers of the Sunday School and the members of Mr. Murray's Sunday morning young men's class sat.

Immediately behind the chief mourners were the members of the Grand Lodge of Canada, A. F. & A. M.; then the Knights of Godfrey de Bouillon Preceptory, in uniform, who acted as guard of honor, and the honorary and active pall-bearers; then the great body of Masons, the members of the Royal Arch and the various Scottish Rite bodies attending with their respective blue lodges.

Among the prominent Masons present were a large number of the Grand Lodge officers, including the Grand Master, M. W. Bro. A. T. Freed, of this city; M. W. Bro. Senator J. K. Kerr, Toronto; M. W. Bro. E. T. Malone, Toronto; M. W. Bro. Benjamin Allen, Toronto; M. W. Bro. Hon. J. M. Gibson; M. W. Bro. Judge J. E. Harding, Lindsay; M. W. Bro. W. Bro. G. L. Robertson, P. D. D. G. M.; R. W. Bro. Rev. F. E. Powell, P. G. G.; and many other past and present District Deputies from all over the Province. The Scottish Rite bodies of the Valley of Pittsburgh were represented by M. Bro. Geo. Arnold, 33, and M. Bro. O. B. Hanson, 33, of Pittsburgh, and M. Bro. John Hallett, 33, and M. Bro. John Orr, 33, of Youngstown.

Beautiful Flowers.

The floral offerings were banked in front of and all around the pulpit, and were numerous as to completely hide from view the large platform. They were very artistically arranged and their sweet fragrance filled the edifice. They were as follows:

M.; Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Canada; Murray Chapter, Ottawa; St. John's Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Royal Order of Scotland; members of the Scottish Rite, Toronto; members of the Scottish Rite, Hamilton; members of the Scottish Rite, Montreal; members of the Scottish Rite, Cleveland; the Masons of East District No. 11, Toronto; the Barton, Strict Observance, St. John's, Doric and Dundurn, city lodges; Temple Lodge; Acacia Lodge; Grand Lodge of Brantford; Dove Lodge; of Brantford; Ivory Lodge, No. 15; Brantford; the Masons of I. Mr. Ira Green had personal charge of the funeral.

The service was opened by the singing of a hymn, and prayer by Rev. Isaac Torvell, D. D. of Wesley Church, formerly of First. The quartette, Miss Longhurst, Miss Chagnon, Mrs. Hamilton Robinson and Mr. Geo. Robertson then sang "Peace, Perfect Peace." and Mr. Robertson later sang "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep." The choir of the church, with Miss Mann at the organ, led in the singing of two of Mr. Murray's favorite hymns.

His Pastor's Tribute.

The pastor, Rev. R. J. Treleven, and two former pastors, Rev. W. L. Rutledge, of London, and Rev. W. F. Wilson, D. D., of Toronto, spoke briefly.

Rev. Mr. Treleven, in opening his remarks, alluded to the fact that last Sunday morning Mr. Murray was in his place at class, as usual, and at the close, looking at a group photograph of old officials, made the remark, "I wonder who will be next." His passing away reminding him of the words, "God's finger touched him and he slept." In a very earnest manner Mr. Treleven said: We will miss him greatly in our church and school, where he held the position of recording steward, secretary of the quarterly board, member of the trustee board and superintendent of the Sunday school. Always in his place at the tick of the clock, my predecessors in this church bear testimony to his untiring regularity, his consistency and earnestness. He will be greatly missed in this city. This large gathering speaks of the place he occupied in the affections of the city. He was a manly man. One thing we have heard him express regret for time and again, and that was the late loss in life of his conversion, but this I want to say, that in my pastorate of two and a half years in this church I know of no man who has made such progress in spiritual life; such development in Christ-like character as our late beloved brother. He has finished his course. The boys will miss him—always a true friend of manly sport, ready to lend a helping hand, and giving an incentive to all that was best. Our friends of the Masonic fraternity will bear their testimony to this, and those who have gathered here to-day ask no better testimony.

Former Pastors' Testimony.

Rev. W. L. Rutledge said: Dear brethren and friends, my feelings are such that I can hardly trust myself to say what I would wish to say. It seems impossible. He seemed so full of life and force; so much interested in his fellow-men. I do not believe our friend and brother is dead. All the foundation of my faith would be swept away if I believed that the body which lies there was dead. He has simply gone from the labor of this lower earth to enter the holy temple and engage in the higher and more blessed service. We believe in the life everlasting, and we believe our brother is counted amongst those who have entered into the fullness of the joys of the inheritance above. Many of you knew him as a prominent and outstanding character in the great order to which you belong. I knew him in the home as a friend, as a member of the Christian church. I have never known anything but good of him. How loving and faithful to the wife of his heart in the long years of her sickness; how true and faithful to the home; how kind and true; how devoted in the official circle and the service of the Christian church. There were two things about him which he himself always confessed, his own earnestness and his utter and absolute trust in God. In the lodge room and in our social gatherings he bore witness for a clean life and righteousness. He was not one of those who think the world owes them a living, but he felt that he owed the world a living, and he gave his life for the world. I miss one and another as I come back to this church, but the one who stood out most was Hugh Murray. I shall hardly know this church; I shall hardly know this city without him.

Rev. Dr. Wilson, in a short address, said: When I left Toronto I had no idea I would be expected to speak. I came to drop a flower upon the form of my dear, departed friend. We meet to pay the last tribute of respect to no one of our kind in this city and Province. In educational, in social, in religious life, as well as in our beloved order he took a deep interest. We are assembled here as we shall never be assembled again. We have many things in common. Sin is the lot of all and tears have run down every cheek, sorrow has caused every frame to quiver, yet we come together not sorrowing as those who have no hope, for Jesus Christ has tasted death for all and so, while we mourn our great loss, yet we will bravely go forward and do our duty like men. Our departed brother was a manly man; true, honest, upright, sturdy. During the eight years of my residence in this city I found the influence of Hugh Murray always exerted for right, and it has been felt not only in his own city, but all over the Province young men will call his memory blessed because of the noble self-control and high moral and religious principles which he always illustrated. This church has suffered a great loss, but there are other goodly men here to take up the work. He held a high place in the distinguished body whose members are assembled here—a body to which kings are proud to belong, and in which there are many kings among men who do not wear crowns, but it is not a Mason, or an educational, or a benevolent circles that he will be most missed, but in the home. No queen was ever more kindly ministered unto than was his now sainted wife during her sickness, and it is a great credit to both father and mother, and a glory to God that every member of every family are members of this church, in which they labored so long. We can commend them to the noble name of their father—not a perfect man, but a man who trusted in Jesus and who did all he could to further his cause in the community. In the Sunday school, in every walk of life. To those who are left it must appear how uncertain is life. Let us consider our ways—let us follow the example of our departed brother and be ready.

At the conclusion of the service all quitted before submitting his report. He referred to the problems confronting other nations through circumstances not unlike those experienced here. The proceedings were adjourned sine die.

At the Grave.

The cortege moved from the church about 4.30 and by the time the two-mile march to the cemetery was ended darkness had set in. The burial tent, however, was illuminated by torch and electric light and the impressive service of the Masonic Order was conducted by M. Bro. Ernest E. Linger, W. M. of Acacia Lodge, assisted by M. W. Bro. A. T. Freed, Grand Master; M. W. Bro. Hon. J. M. Gibson, Past Grand Master; M. W. Bro. E. T. Malone, Past Grand Master; and the officers of Acacia Lodge. The full choir of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, under the leadership of Dr. C. L. M. Harris, was present and sang two Masonic selections.

The pall-bearers were: R. W. Bro. J. Howell, R. W. Bro. D. McPhie, V. W. Bro. J. H. Tilden, W. Bro. D. Dexter, W. H. Ballard, W. H. Wardrop, George Moore, and R. W. Bro. Gavin Stewart.

The honorary pall-bearers were all the Past Grand Masters present. Upon returning to the lodge-room a resolution expressing the feeling of the lodge and of Masons as a body was passed. The officers of W. Bro. A. T. Freed, Grand Master, seconded by M. W. Bro. Hon. J. M. Gibson, Past Grand Master. A committee was appointed to draw up a suitably worded resolution.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Impressive Services in First Methodist Church Yesterday.

All the services of the day in First Methodist Church yesterday were sweetly solemn. The flowers which had been taken there for the funeral service were laid in place over Sunday and from 10 in the morning when the doors were opened, until after 9 at night, a almost constant stream of people passed through, except when the services were in progress.

Rev. Mr. Treleven preached from Isaiah 40, 1 and 2: "Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and say unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned; for she hath received of the Lord, as at every double for all sinning." The choir sang "Crossing the Bar," and Miss Grace Longhurst sang "Rock of Ages."

In the afternoon a memorial service was held for the Sunday School. The attendance of officers, teachers and scholars was very large—over 600. They filled every seat in the gallery and the infant class, and the young men's classes sat in the body of the church. There was also a good attendance of the church people. Mr. James Hamilton, assistant superintendent of the school, after the opening hymn, another of Mr. Murray's favorites, "Moment by Moment," spoke briefly. Mr. Murray's death, he said, meant much to the school, for he was more than a teacher, he was a loving, true, kind-hearted man, who had of late years added a gentleness that had endeared him to the church and school more than ever. "We cannot understand why he was taken, but we can trust and love."

Rev. Dr. Treleven, a former pastor and personal friend, gave a very impressive address. Almost on every occasion that I have been permitted to speak here I have been an occasion of rejoicing—a Sunday School anniversary. Christ's selection of something of that sort—but this is a great contrast. We meet with hearts touched by the hand of sorrow. To-day, while we must lose sight of the grave into which Mr. Murray has entered, and cannot feel a great sorrow, we feel that the greatest point of death is the parting, and it is the feeling which has touched this church, and this city. Very seldom does one pass from amongst us who touched so many sides of life and stood so well in relation to all sides and while he has held responsible offices and filled

THE INTERCOLONIAL.

Fast Time Made in Service From Liverpool via Halifax.

(St. John Sun, Nov. 28th, 1907.)

Montreal, Nov. 28.—The Intercolonial freight officials are greatly pleased at the results which have been attained as a result of their efforts to secure a possible service between Liverpool and Montreal via Halifax. That freight should be delivered in the city within twelve days after leaving Liverpool is certainly a record of which both the shipping and railway men should be proud.

The Allan Line steamer Tunisian left Liverpool on her first winter trip on Thursday evening, November 14th, arriving at Halifax on Friday, 22nd. She landed a large lot of freight at that port, seventeen cars of which were delivered to the intercolonial for Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Brockville, Kingston, Toronto, London and points further west. These cars were sent out on a special fast freight, which left Halifax on Saturday, 23rd, and arrived in Mont-

Rev. Mr. Treleven, in a few words, said Mr. Murray's life was like the broken pillar represented in flowers before him. He had been working to the last and planning for the future. Only a few years ago, at the laymen's meeting, he had said, "I doubled my subscription last year, but I will double it again." At the Sunday school workers' meeting in the Y. M. C. A. he had been chosen and had agreed to act as chairman at the Sunday school rally on New Year's day in Centennial week. He had planned to do good, but God had cut him off. If we are planning well all will be well, no matter when our plans are interfered with. To young men especially he desired to say that Mr. Murray came to this country a poor boy, when about 18 years old, but by consecration to business, energy and diligence he had made for himself a name in the church, in the city, in the Province, and in the Dominion. What had been done by him could be done by others. What would Mr. Murray's message be to you if he could send one? What would his message have been last Sunday if he had known it was to be his last? I believe it would be, "Remember the words I spoke unto you while I was yet with you." I believe we can still bring gladness to him in heaven if we will but do so.

During the afternoon Mr. Geo. Robertson sang "Does Jesus Care?" and the choir and school sang "Gathering Home."

THE AGREEMENTS.

IMPORTING JAPANESE LABOR FOR THE C. P. R.

Nippon Company Had Agreed to Bring in From Five Hundred to Two Thousand Men for Railway—Mr. King's Work Nearly Ended.

Vancouver, Dec. 1.—Commissioner Mackenzie King stated at a meeting of the Asiatic Immigration Commission yesterday that in his opinion his mission had been successful. He reported the agreement between the Canadian Nippon Co. and the Wellington Coal Co. and the C. P. R. showed the immigration company had agreed to procure 500 Japanese for the colliery company and from 500 to 2,000 for the C. P. R. Negotiations with the colliery company fell through. W. W. Boulton, Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Nippon Co., said Japanese Consul Morikawa was unconnected with the company in any way, shape or form.

The Commissioner put in a table showing that 2,007 Japanese presented themselves at Vancouver for clearance to the States during the year, and 1,892 Japanese presented themselves at Victoria, while 280 were held for deportation and 2,619 admitted.

At the close the Commissioner said he desired to make a few independent inquiries before submitting his report. He referred to the problems confronting other nations through circumstances not unlike those experienced here. The proceedings were adjourned sine die.

ROUGH ON BECK.

A Journal Without the Fear of the Minister of Power.

(Toronto News.)

There are some aspects in which the Beck policy is a mean policy. There is nothing generous in it. There is nothing sportsmanlike about it. Mr. Beck takes two horses of equal speed and breeding, subjects one to a heavy handicap, and orders it out against its rival. The Electrical Development Company has put $10,000,000 into a plant at Niagara and a transmission line to Toronto. The Ontario Power Company has made its whole expenditure in order to supply the American market. It has made no provision for distributing power in Ontario, thus violating the condition of its franchise, which provides for the sale of power on either side of the line at equal prices and at equal distances from the point of production. But under Mr. Beck's policy the Electrical Development Company, which has spent all its money in this country, will be forced to compete with a company which has not spent one dollar for Ontario, and whose transmission lines for this Province will be provided at the expense of the taxpayers.

In short, the "slaughter" of American interests, its surplus power to the Ontario Government below a commercial rate and at a figure which it would not consider if it did not derive a living revenue from American consumers. Some of the conservative protectionists who denounce the "slaughter" of American interests in Canada might find it interesting to apply the argument of Mr. Beck's contract with the Ontario Power Company.

Moreover, Mr. Beck's policy is a thing of shadows and patches. It is a combination of private, special and municipal ownership. The latter would be a few municipalities to enter into the agreement to throw the whole arrangement into confusion. It is doubtful if any set of electrical experts can yet determine the exact commercial price of Niagara energy delivered at long distances from the point of production. The whole figures of the Hydro-Electric Commission should be accepted. But certainly they remain to be tested. It will be remembered that at Brantford Mr. Beck announced that any cost of the service would be borne by the Province. This statement he had to withdraw. His colleagues absolutely refused to assume that form of Provincial liability. It may be that Mr. Beck's policy will give cheap power. The footpad who attacks and robs an unarmed citizen on the street may get a cheap watch, but the transaction is not generally approved by motorists. Mr. Beck is eager to prevent private monopoly of Niagara energy, but he is attempting to do it by a policy of dodging, and by penalizing private investors instead of by a square acceptance of the situation and the direct purchase of the existing works by the Government.

There is one honorable and straightforward course open to the Government and to Toronto. The Government should expropriate the works of the Electrical Development Co. Toronto should expropriate the plant of the private lighting company. This is a policy which would bear examination. It would yield sound results. It would reflect honor on the Government and the municipality. It would not injure Canadian credit abroad. It will be curious if we should again see a regulation of public contracts and confiscation of private enterprises under a Conservative Government.

MAKE IRELAND LIKE CANADA.

John Redmond's Remedy for All
Erin's Ills.

London, Dec. 1.—Mr. John Redmond, speaking at Glasgow, drew a direct analogy between the political position of Canada and that of Ireland. The remedy which made the Dominion prosperous and happy was that which Ireland needed. He pointed out that the divergence between the French and British in Canada was much greater than between the Catholics and Unionists in Ireland. Yet Sir Wilfrid Laurier enjoyed the confidence of both of the former to a remarkable degree. Mr. Redmond expressed his appreciation of Canadian support of home rule.

FRENCH TREATY.

MANY CANADIAN INDUSTRIES ARE LIKELY TO BENEFIT.

Agricultural Implement Manufacturing
—Shipping Trade Will Be Developed
—New District Steamship Line Will Be Established.

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—As the provisions of the new Franco-Canadian treaty are more closely examined by the members of Parliament the greater is the satisfaction expressed with the very advantageous terms secured by the Canadian Ministers. The French Chambers will shortly revise the whole tariff of France with a view to making a considerable increase in the protective duties all along the line. The result will be to give Canada an even greater protection in the French markets than the new treaty affords. It is expected that as soon as the treaty is ratified, which will probably be two or three months hence, a great impetus will be given to Canadian exports of dairy products, agricultural implements, iron, steel, and other goods. It is also expected that the treaty will have a beneficial effect on the principal Canadian items affected by the lower rates now secured. In the case of agricultural implements, especially, Canadian manufacturers will have a great advantage over the American manufacturers, being able to sell at all Canadian ports, whereas the American manufacturers are limited to the ports of the United States. As a side-light on this story it may be mentioned that the baby which accompanied the royal couple was constantly on show in Paris and was extensively photographed there in the nurse's arms when the party stopped there en route for England. Nobody there seemed to think it was a bogus Prince.

It is said the ex-Empress Eugenie has settled a fortune on the Prince, so that when he grows up he will be rich even if he never reigns.

FORGERS AND BURGLARS.

Howard and Smith Heavily Sentenced at Sault Ste. Marie.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Dec. 1.—Smith and Howard, two men arrested here some weeks ago, charged with forgery and carrying explosives and burglars' kits, and robbing the Hudson's Bay store in Fort William, appeared before Magistrate Elliott yesterday. Both pleaded guilty to the charges. Smith having made a confession implicating Howard in a large number of forgeries between the Soo and Vancouver, since May last.

Howard got seven years in Kingston, and Smith two years in the Central. Smitt is twenty-one years old, and Prosecutor McFadden made a strong appeal for leniency in his behalf, which had the effect of shortening the sentence. Howard is older and the Crown regarded him as exerting an influence over Smith, who was greatly affected in court yesterday, refusing to tell of his relations in England, saying the knowledge of the facts would probably kill his aged and widowed mother.
