

The Adventures of a Convict.

EDWARD EDWARDS, STATE PRISONER, WHO WAS HELD BY THE POLICE FOR HIS PART IN THE ESCAPE OF THE CONVICT, RECALLED TO HIS MIND THE FOLLOWING ADVENTURES...

During the sixteen days he was at Kitchener's, the convict received help in the way of food and information from people he met. He gave Edwards his address and asked him to write when he had clear away. Edwards said he frequently got the Evening Telegram while he was at Kitchener's.

GETS FURTHER SENTENCE. He stood before the Magistrate in Police Court to-day to answer the charge of larceny from Sparke's store. His hair, half straight, half wavy, and hollow cheeks and eyes, were ample evidence of the strenuous life he had led since he was sentenced to the charge in the first instance. He was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment with hard labor for the peace of our Sovereign Lord King his Crown and Dignity.

WILL BE INDICTED. He listened listlessly as the charge was read. He was not asked to plead. He was sentenced to twelve months imprisonment with hard labor for the peace of our Sovereign Lord King his Crown and Dignity.

HOW EDWARDS ESCAPED. Edwards, who is only 24 years of age, was sentenced to 12 months for the same offence in April last. He was always a determined man and he was all more unexpected. While working in the brush factory at the Penitentiary, he made a rope out of broom twine which he knotted together until it was strong enough to break through the bars. Escaping from the prison yard while the warden was absent, he made a hole in the wall and climbed over it. He then hid in a shed until the warden returned and then fled to the woods.

MEETING OF THE WOODS. He met a man who gave him a pair of boots. Edwards stayed in the woods for about a week. He was then seen by the police and he was taken to the police station. He was then taken to the police station.
