Entering a Great Era.

The Dominion is entering upon an era of railway construction which will mean the expenditure of vast sums of money in the country, within the next ten or fifteen years. The Grand Trunk Pacific alone will involve an outlay variously estimated at from $100,000,000 to $125,000,000. The cost of the eastern division is placed at between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, of the prairie section $20,000,000, and of the mountain section between $18,000,000 and $25,000,000. The company, under the contract, is required to spend $20,000,000 on equipment. This will be the greatest single railway project in history, excepting the trans-Siberian Railway. In addition the C. P. R. will continue to build branches throughout the west, and the Canadian Northern will push the extension of its system in various parts of the country. Scores of millions of dollars will be poured into the channels of commerce and industry, and every branch of business and production will feel the stimulus.

The importing of immigrants, creating a new demand for Canadian products, will have the same tendency. This country during the next decade cannot feel severely the shock of hard times. The tide of immigration for the present year is already in flow, and promises to reach even greater proportions than last year. So long as we receive these accessions of population every year, every immigrant being a consumer and a purchaser, there can be no great slackening in the productive energies of the country. On the contrary there is every indication that we are only on the eve of a period of expansion such as Canada has never known and which will resemble the burst of prosperity in the United States during the opening up and settlement of the west.

This development has its dangers and will be a testing time for the nation. It will be confronted by new problems and new forces. Masses of immigrants must be Canadianized and many of them Christianized. This will be work for the schools, the churches and the legislators. Canadians must also bend their energies to grapple with the material development of the west. One of the problems is transportation, and this the Government has faced boldly and resolutely. The producers and distributors of Eastern Canada must do their duty, also, if the country is to derive the fullest advantage from western progress. It will not do to look to the Government for everything. The resource and enterprise of the individual will go a long way further than the tariff toward keeping in Canadian channels the stream of western purchases.

Romance of the Bible Society.

A great event this week throughout the British Empire, and in the United States as well, has been the centenary of the British and Foreign Bible Society. Members of the royal family attended a special service at St. Paul's Cathedral, at which the Archbishop of Canterbury preached. At Washington President Roosevelt, Justice Brewer, of the supreme court, and other foremost Americans spoke at the celebration. In Canada the work of the society has been the theme of thousands of pulpits. This organization, whose activities range over the whole earth, had its birth at a meeting in the Old London Tavern, Bishopsgate, on March 7, 1804. Granville Sharp was in the chair, and among other distinguished laymen present were William Wilberforce, the emancipator of the slave, Zachary Macaulay and Lord Teignmouth. The company numbered 300 and included the whole bench of bishops. At that time the Bible was printed in tongues spoken by only one-fifth of the world's population. Today it is printed in the languages of seven-tenths of the world's population. The society's first work was to print a large edition in the Welsh tongue, the Bible being then a closed book to the majority of the Welsh people. Today the Scriptures are issued in 365 languages or dialects, of which 228 were added during the reign of Queen Victoria alone. Last year over 5,000,000 copies were issued, and in the past hundred years 180,000,000 copies. The circulation in the past 50 years has increased at the rate of 50,000 per annum. The American Bible Society, the offspring of the British, was founded in 1816 and now issues 2,000,000 copies per year.

The British and Foreign Society spent in its first year 1891; last year it spent £24,148 and in all it has expended £13,000,000. The expenditure exceeded the revenue in 1903 by £21,000 and an appeal has been made for a centenary fund of a million guineas to place the work on a solid financial basis. Canada is asked to contribute $50,000, and it is believed the money will be raised without difficulty. The society finds an extension of its resources necessary to meet the demand for more workers, more translations and more copies of the Scriptures. There are still 400,000,000 people into whose language no portion of the Scriptures has yet been translated.

To the Bible Society any declaration of war means sudden increase of work in a way that is hardly realized by the outside world. Before the war was declared between Japan and Russia the society's agent in Yokohama had obtained from General Terachi, the Japanese Minister of War, permission to distribute the Scriptures among the Mikado's troops were furnished as they went to the front with Gospels published by British people. During the Crimean war 204,569 copies of the Scriptures were circulated among both the allies and the enemy. In the Franco-German war the issues to the French and German armies considerably exceeded 1,000,000 copies, and cost the society over £20,000. In 1894, when the Bible committee in Japan distributed 113,939 copies of the Scriptures. At the present moment not only is the society's agent in Japan supplying the troops with such Scriptures as they may require, but equal facilities have been granted the society by the Russian authorities in Manchuria.

The work is divided into two branches, production and distribution. Engaged in the distribution are hundreds of agents, colporteurs and Bible women, traveling through the countries of Western and Central Europe, in Egypt, the Sudan and Abyssinia, in Uganda, in the district of the Orange River, in India, Ceylon, Burma, Malaysia, China, Manchuria, Korea, Japan, Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, and Ecuador—among the people of nearly every race and clime. They are not missionaries in the ordinary sense of the word. They are forbidden to preach or teach any creed of any denomination. Their duty is to sell the Scriptures, and in this faith they wander to the uttermost parts of the earth with their little book, facing incredible hardships, dangers and even death. This planting of the seed of the Word of God in many soils has been fruitful beyond all measurement, and the Bible Society still remains one of the greatest instrumentalities, not only of Christianity, but of civilization.

The Russian navy has had another warning against venturing out after dark.

The local W. C. T. U. and the London Temperance League oppose Government ownership and control of the liquor traffic. The license-holders are with them on that point.

A good many readers will be pleased because the monotony of the war news has been broken by the account of a genuine fight. And yet in a war, no news ought to be good news.

Dr. Dix, the New York divine, sees no difference between a Mormon apostle who keeps his wives, and the rich American, who divorces his wives. One case is simultaneous polygamy, and the other is consecutive polygamy.

The Free Press points out that the Government might have gone to arbitration over the purchase of the Treblecock farm. Of course, arbitration costs nothing at all.

Nikola Tesla boasts that he has discovered a way to transmit electrical power without wires, and do away with newspapers by sending news into the atmosphere, where every man can collect it at his pleasure. Like most of Tesla's schemes, it is all in the air.

The Toronto World (Conservative) gives this cheery description of the Premier at the opening of Parliament: "The members were hardly settled in their seats when sir Wilfrid Laurier entered the chamber. He looked considerably stronger than when the House convened last year. There was more spring to his step and more firmness in the carriage of his shoulders. Applause from both sides of the House greeted the Premier's arrival."

The Grand Trunk Pacific will bring Great Britain nearer to the Orient than the trans-Siberian railway. From Liverpool to Yokohama by the G. T. Pacific will be 1,313 miles shorter than by New York and San Francisco, and 120 miles shorter than by Moscow and the trans-Siberian railway. From New York to Yokohama by way of the new line will be 555 miles shorter than by Chicago and San Francisco and 1,300 miles shorter than by Galveston and San Francisco.

MOCK TELEGRAMS.

[Toronto Globe.] Mr. Punch has published mock telegrams from all the colonial premiers on the subject of the Russo-Japanese war in answer to a request of his to "think imperially." That attribute, the Canadian Premier is as follows: "Yours on the far east received. People of Canada, inspired by glorious memories of Wolfe and Montcalm, survey Oriental convulsions with coolness, only demanding voice in making of any treaty hereafter concluded between powers at war. Laurier."

"P. S. (unofficial)—What do Japanese eat? We are large sellers, wheat, the wheat, best yellow, consult Strathearn."

ANOTHER HERO.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] There are heroes who are lauded for their daring on the field. There are heroes who on engines let their courage be revealed. There are heroes who rush boldly to save others in distress. But another merits mention as a hero—the bell.

For the man who doesn't grumble when he isn't feeling well. Let us give the heroes medals who go forth to dare and do. Let us honor them that nobly help the poor and weak and small. Let us honor them that nobly help the poor and weak and small. Let us honor them that nobly help the poor and weak and small. Let us honor them that nobly help the poor and weak and small.

Who works on without complaining when he isn't feeling right.

AN AGE OF AMAZONS.

[London Lady's Pictorial.] Whereas a decade since the average size in women's shoes was three, five being accounted specially large, seven and eight are now commonly asked for, while the average size has become five. The little glove has likewise grown into a good-sized hand-shoe. My lady's hosiery has become bigger at the same time—in short, the average girl of 1904 could not wear any article of apparel that fitted the girl of 1874. And where, one now tremblingly asks, in this to end?

time to insist that American are not literary.

DURING THE MUSICALS.

[Brooklyn Leader.] Mr. Newrox—What the dickens is that Mad Mullah executing now? Daughter—Hush! That is Jakasski's superb symphony in minor. Mr. Newrox (ironically)—Is it really? Then your papa's musical education has been sadly neglected, for I mistook that for a descriptive piece, entitled, "Fun in a Morgue."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

[Chicago News.] More men would have indigestion if forced to eat their words. Beware of the woman who is convinced easily; she's dangerous. Any man can easily make a fool of himself; all he has to do is to act kitchish.

Call a man a diplomat instead of a liar and he will be pleased, yet it amounts to much the same thing. As the wise man knows he is a fool he is miserable; the fool imagines he is wise and is happy.

The creation of woman is said to have been an afterthought. Perhaps that's true; but the committee that's considering the postscript of a letter the most important part. Divorces are so common now that they are no longer considered good theatrical advertisements.

SOME WHIMSICAL WILL-MAKERS.

[Westminster Budget.] There have been many will-makers more eccentric than Mr. MacCaig, the Oban banker, whose last testament will shortly come under the consideration of the Edinburgh court of session. Mr. MacCaig, it may be remembered, left instructions in his will that gigantic statues of himself, his brothers and sisters, a round dozen in all, should be placed on the summit of a great tower he had commenced to build on Battery Hill, near Oban—each statue to cost not less than £1,000. A much more whimsical testator was Mr. Sanborn, who left £1,000 to Professor Agassiz to have his skin converted into two drum-heads, and two of his bones into drumsticks, and the balance of his fortune to his friend Mr. Simpson, on condition that on every 17th of June he should repair to the foot of Bunker's Hill and, as the sun rose, "beat on the drum the spirit-stirring strain of 'Yankee Doodle.'"

BROKE LEG SECOND TIME

Another Accident to Mr. Malcolm McGuigan, M.P.

Fell on Ice at His Home—Will Be Laid Up Several Weeks.

The many friends of Mr. Malcolm McGuigan, M. P. for West Middlesex, will regret to learn that he met with a serious accident this week at his home in Caradoc Township. Some time after the severe weather set in Mr. McGuigan was working about his farm when he slipped and fell on the ice, breaking his leg. He had entirely recovered from the effects of the accident, and was preparing Tuesday last to leave for the capital to attend the opening of Parliament, when he again fell. This time he broke a second time, the fracture in the same limb, and only two inches above the first break. Mr. McGuigan will be confined to his home for several weeks.

Eye Strain Is Nerve Strain

SEAMSTRESS AND STENOGRAPHER, SEWING GIRL AND STUDENT SUFFER ALIKE FROM THIS TROUBLE.

The eye is a complicated mechanism, made up of a regular network of the most delicate nerve fibers. When an unusual amount of work is required of the eye, or when the eye is kept constantly at high tension, nerve force is consumed at a tremendous rate and unless the system is strongly supported by an abundance of rich, red blood, there follows physical collapse. What hosts of poor and emaciated girls are found in our offices and factories, schools and workshops, and what a large proportion of them are wearing glasses! Their health and sight cannot possibly be improved, except by a building up of the nervous system, and this can best be accomplished by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Whether you have strained your eyes and undermined your health by needlework, office work or study, you will be benefited by a month's treatment with this great food cure. As your vitality returns, and your weight increases, as you find new vigor of mind and body, as your eyesight improves, and your vitality returns, you will be forever grateful that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food ever became known to you.

You cannot afford to delay the use of this great nerve restorative, for every dose is bound to be of benefit to you.

MISS HELEN WATSON.

GRAND COUNCILOR'S VISIT

Dr. J. H. Bell Welcomed by the Chosen Friends of London.

The city hall was crowded last evening on the occasion of the visit of the grand councilor of the Chosen Friends, Dr. J. H. Bell. Many were turned away from the hall owing to lack of room. Ex-Ald. F. J. Fitzgerald presided.

Honor was done to the grand councilor, who, made a speech, in a most happy vein. At somewhat more length, however, was the speech of Grand Councilor E. T. Essery, LL.B., chairman of the committee, also pointing out what the order had done. Today, he said, it was 25,000 strong. During the year it had paid out to widows the sum of $97,000.

An excellent programme of music and readings was provided by Misses, P. Mowat, E. McLennan and G. Anthill, Messrs. E. Webster and C. E. Percy, and the Ideal Mandolin Club. At the conclusion of the evening, Dr. J. H. Bell, secretary, Friend F. J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; Friends Mrs. S. L. Lemmon, A. Legg, T. Blanchard, C. A. Burgess, W. G. Leeson, W. G. Popper, Mrs. E. LITTLE DOING IN LEGISLATURE

Bridgeport Poolrooms and Soo Properties Liens Discussed—Members Start for Home.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, March 12.—The usual grist of small business characterized today's session of the Legislature. An early adjournment was made in order to allow members to leave for their homes Sunday at the home. The Bridgeport poolroom and the Soo properties came in for their usual share of attention from the Opposition.

Mr. Downey called attention to an item in the Globe stating that it was well known in Bridgeport that although there was no poolroom in the village, there was one in active operation just outside the limits of the municipality, which was daily attended by hundreds of Buffalo sports. The article further stated that the recent Government report that there was no such poolroom at Bridgeport was simply laughed at by the people there, who knew that the poolroom was running, and that with a few favored exceptions, Canadians were excluded from the joint. Such intolerable indignities said Mr. Downey, should be checked to the full extent of the Government's powers, and it was time the people were protected from the blindness or falsehood of the Government officials.

Hon. Mr. Gibson replied that Mr. Downey's statement was a breach of parliamentary privileges in bringing up this question at all. Everyone knew there was a poolroom running near Port Erie, which was frequented by Buffalo people, although it was just at present doing very little business. Come and been seen in an every effort possible made to break up this institution, but he strongly objected to attacks upon the Government being brought up in this irregular way.

THE SOO INDUSTRIES.

Mr. Murphy (Ottawa) was informed by Hon. Mr. Gibson that the Government was aware that there were mortgages covering the property of the Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway, the Manitoulin and North Shore Railway, the steamships and other properties of the associated "Soo" industries. The Government, however, had no information as to the extent of these liens, but would give the House this information at a later date.

Mr. Hanna and Dr. Pyne also asked for information as to the exact financial and working position of the "Soo" properties, which are to be sold.

Life Guards. The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's, should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements, as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.
