In answer to Householder, I will say that so long as the person in charge of the home continues to use the servent as she is so often treated, such as putting her to sleep in the cold, cheerless attic, poorly furnished room, smoky lamps, packing box for washstand, a broken chair to sit upon, second grade food, in a number of our so-called nice homes. What I mean is twarmed-up food, and leftovers, that is good enough for the servants.

HOSE CONTRACTS LET

Ald. Cooper and Ald. Richter Have Tilt—Meeting Menday Night.

Midnight sessions of the city council are the habit of the aldermen, and they would not feel happy if they returned home before the witching hour. Monday night's gathering was no exception to the rule, and the majority of the members had to make a beeline for the last car or walk.

The meeting was of a piece with others, and there was sufficient spice to make it interesting—for a brief spell. Some of the city fathers paid their compilments to each other, in language sometimes forceful, if not extremely polite. For instance, Ald. Cooper declared that Ald. Richter was "a bugbear and hold-up," while Ald.

"a bugbear and hold-up," while Ald.
Wilson "took a rise" out of Ald.
Cooper.
It is a queer night that a hose contract cannot start a debate. For an hour or so the aldermen exhibited their knowledge on the subject of fire hose, and finally decided to award the thousand-feet contract to two com-panies, 500 to the Canadian Rubber panies, 500 to the Gutta Percha

Company, and 500 to the Gutta Percha
Company, and 500 to the Gutta Percha
Company, and 500 to the Gutta Percha
Company, at $1 10 a foot. Ald. Wilson and Ald. Richter favored Cleveland hose at 97 cents a foot, but the majority of the council did not want that.

Some Trouble.

In presenting the report of City Engineer Wright, on a number of initiations for local improvements, Ald. Cooper ran foul of Ald. Richter, The latter considered it inadvisable to initiate any of this work until the local improvement committee had decided on a scheme for paying the streets of the city. That report would be ready in a short time, and the recommendations of
No. 2 committee could stand over untill it was ready, Ald. Richter argued.

However, Ald. Cooper objected, and after a long debate, won out, the majority of the council voting in his favor.

A Garbage System.

The recommendation of the board of works that a bylaw, to set aside $50,000 for an incinerator for garbage destruction, be submitted to the ratepayers in January, was adopted.

Ald. Richter thought that sufficient information had not been given to the public to vote intelligently on the question, but Ald. Cooper declared that before the day of voting the fullest possible information would be given. It was necessary to pass the recommendation of the committee at this meeting if the bylaw was going to be submitted to the people.

The bylaw to provide for the protection of food exposed for sale was defeated by the aldermen. A deputation of the cetal grocers was present and they objected strongly to the bylaw. A number of the aldermen voiced their sentiments, and as a result there was a majority against the bylaw. It may come up next year.

Asking for Time.

"The company are asking for time," said Ald. Donnelly. "They are always asking for that, and never do anything. It is up to this council to see that the company do make some improvement. No other city would stand what we have been standing. There is not much trouble in laying a few switches. I am getting sick of waiting. It is time we did something."

Ald. Stevenson paid his compliments to the company, declaring that it was almost impossible to live on Dundas street with the noise of the cars. There are not enough cars, and those in use had to make excessive speed to maintain anything like a reasonable service.

Ald. Wilson thought that no improvement could be made until Horton street was double-tracked.

Ald. Richter suggested that the matter.

Chairmen of Boards Likely To Be Fears That the Reform Move

Toronto, Nov. 7.—The present Legislature of Ontario will pass out of existence during the next few days with the issuing of a formal proclamation will carry with it the issuing of writs for a new election, and in the cities and larger towns will be followed by manhood suffrage registration.

The personnel of the boards of registration is fixed by statute, which provides further that the first day of registration must be held on the seventh day after the formal dissolution. It is likely, therefore, that registration in Toronto will be held on the last four days of next week, commencing Wednesday, which will allow of one sitting on Saturday as provided by statute. In cities and towns of twenty thousands or less only three days are given for registration.

The Government may appoint an chairman for each registration are lither before or after the announcement of dissolution, but it is expected that the appointment will be made either before or after the announcement of dissolution, but it is expected that the appointment will be made either before or after the announcement of dissolution, but it is expected that the appointment will be made either before or after the announcement of dissolution, but it is expected that the appointment will be made either before or after the announcement of dissolution, but it is expected to down or Tuesday or tomorrow. This will prevent any loss of time in arranging for registration.

Rev. A. E. Armstrong, assistant secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, spoke on "Effective Methods of Enlisting Men in Missions." One of the most effective methods is to get men to read missionary text books. Some one has called the work of foreign missions the greatest work in the world. The greatest work in the world. The greatest work in the world must be done in the greatest manner by the greatest men in the world. The church missionary committee should enlist men in prayer for missions, should use and distribute literature and charts, should hold a monthly missionary meeting, have mission study classes organized, encourage missions in the Sunday school, weekly offerings to missions and should conduct an annual every member campaign, in addition to all that can be accomplished by personal effort and example.

Missionary study is helpful apart from its own purpose, because of the increased knowledge it brings regarding the world abroad. The study of missions is intensely interesting once it is understood. The work of missions is a great work, because Jesus Christ is the leader of the work.

trade. Thus will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to our people."

Dr. Wu said that he fully understood that the reform movement might lead in any direction, even to anarchy, but all the people of China were now prepared to show the world the real power of the Chinese for orderly conduct, self-restraint and loyalty to a fair and honest government.

The foreign missionary movement has encircled the earth with Christian hospitals. The "great red route" encircling the globe marked out by the blood of Christian martyrs, will yet unite all nations and races of the world as one and races of the world as one ferred until this afternoon, when Revferred until this afternoon, when Revfers on "The Missionary Leadership of the Pastor."
