At noon, Saturday, a report spread rapidly around town, that a woman had been killed by the incoming train below Morrison's Mills. The report, however, turned out untrue, but how narrow was the escape the following will show:—"As the St. John train inwards rounded a sharp curve, Engineer Donaldson saw a woman coming towards the train and only a few feet in front of him. He instantly reversed the lever and put on the brakes, but before the train could be halted, the cow catcher had struck the unfortunate woman. The engineer jumped off expecting to find the woman's mangled remains beneath the engine wheels, but to his great surprise, he discovered her sitting almost upright on the cow catcher with her feet on the flanger, but in an unconscious condition. She was taken aboard the train and brought to the depot. Drs. McLearn and Crockett who had been summoned in the meantime were at the depot, and the injured woman, still unconscious, was removed to the Commercial Hotel, York street, where her injuries, which consisted of several bruises on the body and hands, were dressed. It was 4 o'clock before she returned to consciousness, and is now all right with the exception of an injured finger." It was some time before the unfortunate woman was identified, but, finally Mr. James Boyle saw her, said she was a Mrs. Milligan, who lives on King street, below Regent street, and that she engages in peddling. Mrs. Milligan is over 70 years old, and her escape was most miraculous.

The carnival last night was quite a success. There were about one hundred persons in costume, and some of the characters were very fairly represented. The prizes awarded by the judges were given to Miss Maggie Allen, who wore a very pretty Highland costume, and to Mr. Harry Lee, who represented "Jack in the box," certainly one of the best characters ever seen on the ice here. The two prizes decided by lottery went to Mr. W. B. Phair and Mr. A. G. Blair, Jr., who were among the spectators. The ice was in prime condition, and the Band of the R. S. of I., furnished a good programme of music.

Speaking at the City Council meeting Thursday evening on the subject of miscellaneous licenses, mayor Hazen said, that while it was undoubtedly right that circuses and amusements coming to the city, and peddlers and travellers who went about interfering with the legitimate trade of our merchants by soliciting orders from private parties should be taxed, he thought it an unwise policy to tax bona fide commercial travellers who come to the city to take orders from the merchants, and who did not interfere with their business by selling goods about the city. He thought that more harm than good resulted to the city by this form of taxation.

Private Brown's two year old daughter narrowly escaped death Saturday night. Mrs. Brown went out, locking the child in the house, and at 9 o'clock Mrs. Charles Foster, who lives across the hall in the same house, heard the child crying. On going to it she found the room filled with smoke and the baby almost exhausted. The fire in Brown's house had caught from kindling wood left in the oven of the stove, and Mrs. Foster says in less than 10 minutes more the child would have suffocated or burned to death as the bed in Brown's room was about catching fire when she entered. The fire was extinguished with trifling damage.

NEW BRUNSWICK RAILWAYS.

The Progress of Twenty-five Years.

"Saunterer" in the St. John Gazette.

I wonder if people ever stop and think how rapidly the railroad system of this Province is being extended. There are scores of men who remember when there was not a mile of railway in New Brunswick, hundreds who recollect the beginning of the New Brunswick and Canada line from St. Andrews, thousands who can tell of the days when the farmers along the Kennebeccasis valley brought their produce to town with teams. Two decades are not much in the life of an ordinary man, but that time has witnessed a marvellous development in railway building in this Province. We have the Intercolonial giving us connexion at present with the Upper Provinces and Nova Scotia. The New Brunswick extending up the fertile valleys of the Nerepis and St. John, giving us connexion with Fredericton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Edmundston, the two latter growing and in the centre of fine agricultural districts. The recently completed Temiscouata Railway brings us 200 miles nearer the West than the Intercolonial. The Northern and Western divides the province in the centre and connects Fredericton with the North Shore. The Central makes a half moon around Grand Lake striking Fredericton on the one side, and eventually will form another crescent to take in Chatham on the other. The Intercolonial has branch lines striking into Havelock, Kings County, Elgin and Albert in Albert county, Buctouche and Richibucto in Kent County, Chatham in Northumberland, Dalhousie in Restigouche Caraquet in Gloucester, and Cape Tormentine in Westmorland. The St. John valley road from Fredericton to Woodstock, the Tobique valley road following the banks of this fertile stream up to the finest lands of the province. In less than five years we will have another road across the northern province to connect with the Caraquet Railway, while the Central is almost certain to be extended northward to connect with it. When this is done we will have three railroads running up and down the province, with three more running across to which, of course, must be added the branch lines of which there are now several, with the prospect of still more. All this in a quarter of a century, and still there are those who insist that we are making no progress.

THE FISHERY TREATY.

What Sir Charles Tupper says regarding the work of the Commission.

In an interview with press representatives at Ottawa Monday, Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian Fishery Commissioner, said:—After a long and very close discussion of the whole question, the representatives of both countries have been enabled to arrive at a conclusion which he believed would be found "equitable in respect to all parties concerned," and which may honorably be accepted by both countries as a fair settlement of the questions at issue. It was of the greatest importance to Canada as well as the States that nothing should interfere with the intimate commercial relations which have so long existed, and which I am satisfied may be very greatly extended with advantage to both countries. Almost every statement made by the press, both in Canada and the States, proves how well the obligation of secrecy have been observed by the commissioners and all parties concerned. The surmises hazarded on the subject are characterized by the grossest inaccuracy. I do not make an exception in favor of any of the newspaper reports which have appeared up to the present. The press surmises about the treaty prove the absolute ignorance of the parties making them and their inability to obtain any correct information whatever. The relations of all the plenipotentiaries have been most cordial throughout the deliberation. I am satisfied that one and all were animated by a sincere desire to find such a solution of the controversy as might fairly be accepted by the people of both countries. The services of the Minister of Justice, Mr. Thompson, who was practically the legal guide of the British side of the conference, were, I need not say, of the highest possible value. His acute knowledge of all questions at issue and his high legal attainments inspired the American plenipotentiaries with the greatest possible confidence in the soundness of his opinions. The presence of the Minister of Fisheries, who has a thorough knowledge of everything relating to the question, was also of great value to us on many occasions. Mr. Foster has mastered in a most thorough manner everything relating to the fisheries.

The appeal from the decision of Judge Osler in the Russell, Ont., election case has been withdrawn by Mr. Edwards, the unseated member, and as soon as the judge's report is forwarded a writ for a new election will be issued.

Halifax has a good sized sensation, C. J. Ross, choir master in St. Mathews church, and one of the leading professional musicians of the city, have skipped out because of alleged disgraceful conduct which the despatches do not specify.

The North of England, Monday, experienced a storm of unusual severity. The weather was intensely cold, and the railroads were compietely blockaded. There is much suffering among farmers and several deaths have occurred from exposure. Thousands of sheep in pens were buried in snow.

It is stated on good authority that Sir Hector Langevin will be married in the spring. His fiancee is Madame Beaudry, of Ottawa, widow of the late Mr. Ubalde Beaudry, clerk of the Privy Council, who died last summer. The ceremony, it is stated, will not take place until after the lenten season.

Madam LaTouche, better known in these parts as Marion Grass, formerly of Wassis, Sunbury, whose arrest was announced a few weeks ago in New York, for obtaining money as a stock broker under false pretences, has been discharged from custody, the evidence being considered insufficient to convict her.

The joint citizens and aldermanic committee for holding the Dominion and Provincial exhibition in Halifax next summer has been fully organized, with Mayor O'Mullin at its head, and has energetically gone to work with a determination to make the affair a success. The Provincial Government will give a grant of $4000 to the undertaking.

Mr. C. N. Skinner, M. P. for St. John, is not an annexationist if his colleague is. At a lecture delivered before the Orangemen in St. John, Monday evening he said "paralyzed be the hand that would attempt to steal away from the British Crown, Canada, one of her brightest gems." That was an awful curse to utter against Mr. Ellis.

An error has been discovered in the constitution of the State of New Jersey, which, it is said, will open the prison doors throughout the State and liberate all prisoners committed since 1875. The bar and the bench are greatly agitated over the matter, as it is claimed that on account of the error there have been no legal courts of common pleas in the State since 1875.

On the recommendation of the Minister of Militia, Major-General Middleton, Adjutant-General Powell, Major-General Oliver, of Kingston, and Lieut-Col. Irwin have been appointed a committee to report on the condition of Canadian defence and to suggest a means of improvement. A force of military graduates will be commissioned to make a survey of the Dominion for military purposes.

The London Times thus refers to Canada's new Governor General. Lord Stanley of Preston, under the name of Col. Stanley, has been long and favorably known to the country. He is Lord Derby's brother and heir. He has been Secretary of War and for the Colonies, and he is now President of the Board of Trade. He is genial and popular, and he is a hard worker. He ought to succeed in Canada.

At the Belfast Police Court the other day, six members of the Salvation Army band were convicted on a charge of playing through the streets on Sunday, and ordered to pay a fine of one shilling each, or 24 hours' imprisonment. The court was crowded with sympathisers, and after consulting together in the deaf and dumb alphabet, the defendants refused to pay the fine. They were then taken to the cells amid great excitement.

E. H. Bronson, M. P. P., head partner of Bronson, Weston & Co., of Ottawa, the wealthiest lumber firm in Canada, has bought a timber limit in California for a million dollars, and is negotiating for another limit at a similar sum. These timber lands are said to be the best in the Golden state, and are covered with a growth of cedar, of what to Canadian ideas are almost incredible dimensions, being from four to five feet in diameter at the stump and hundreds of feet high, straight and without a knot.

At an inquest held on the body of Daniel Hustler, who was killed on the Northern and Western railway, the railway company and its employes were exonorated from all blame. Hustler, who belonged to Minimingash, P. E. I., travelled considerably around the North shore buying old iron, produce, etc. On his person were a memorandum book showing his dealings with several persons, and a wallet with $102 in it, several notes ranging from $30 to $100, some falling due this month. He had a $3,000 bank account at Newcastle.

The Pictou Standard very properly observes that the Evening Mail is the most popular evening paper in Halifax, and continues to be more interesting every day, and that its great success is in no small measure due to its wide awake and enterprising local editor, Hiram Wier. Mr. Wier is one of the fixtures on the Mail staff, and besides being an excellent newspaper man, is a good fellow, much respected by his co-workers and possessing the confidence of the public. The Mail is one of the FARMER'S most welcome exchanges, and deserves all the popularity it enjoys with the citizens of Halifax.

A cyclone struck the town of Mount Vernon, Illinois, Sunday afternoon and destroyed nearly three hundred residences and places of business, and unhoused from 1200 to 1500 people. In the fall of walls many persons were buried under the debris. Thirty-five were killed and twice as many injured, eight or ten seriously. Preceding the destructive wind was a heavy fall of rain for half an hour, which drove all the inhabitants to shelter. This was followed by a slight hail storm, accompanied by lightning and then by a furious blow which, formed into a funnel-shaped cyclone, struck the south-western portion of the city, unroofing everything in its path and taking a diagonal course through the business part of the town.

Friday night a copper train of thirty cars on the Duluth & South Shore Railway got out of control of the men at the Prince Mine, and went thundering down the heavy grade at the rate of over a mile a minute. The shrieks of the locomotive whistle caused thousands to run out of doors. Four minutes after the engineer blew the first signal that the main track must be left clear for him to make the run through the city or go into Lake Superior, the train came down through the yards. The big Mogul engine kept up its shrieks and the rush of the cars shook the the earth, while the train seemed a sheet of flame by the fire caused by the friction of the brakes. Nine cars of heavy timber were in the train and at the third crossing the timbers began to fly. They shot through the air like lightning. Buildings were demolished and cars thrown from the track in every direction. Three cars held to the engine and dragged a fourth with the timbers caught under the wheels. The engine stopped two hundred feet from a sharp curve. Had it reached that point it would surely have been thrown into the lake. For three blocks timbers and car trucks and cars were scattered. Two streets were blockaded. The engineer and fireman stuck to their posts. The conductor and brakeman cut loose the caboose and escaped.

OATMEAL.

I have just received a car of Fraser's Oatmeal, milled in Victoria County, from best selected Oats. A Medal was awarded this Oatmeal for samples shown at the Colonial Exhibition, London.

W. F. Best, Government Analyst at St. John, says of it: "I obtained a sample of this Oatmeal from a package intended for Exhibition at London, England, and found it in every respect superior to any I could find in the retail stores of St. John. Two other samples from packages not specially prepared, proved it to be quite equal to the first sample which I examined. It affords me much pleasure to be able to state that in my opinion, the Oatmeal prepared at this mill is superior to the imported article sold in St. John."
