

CHAPTER VIII.

*Dick and his friends visit the Indians and see many wonders—Crusoe, too, experiences a few surprises, and teaches Indian dogs a lesson—An Indian dandy—A foot-race.....*95

CHAPTER IX.

*Crusoe acts a conspicuous and humane part—A friend gained—A great feast.....*110

CHAPTER X.

*Perplexities—Our hunters plan their escape—Unexpected interruption—The tables turned—Crusoe mounts guard—The escape.....*121

CHAPTER XI.

*Evening meditations and morning reflections—Buffaloes, badgers, antelopes, and accidents—An old bull and the wolves—"Mad tails"—Henri floored, etc.....*138

CHAPTER XII.

*Wanderings on the prairie—A war party—Chased by Indians—A bold leap for life.....*152

CHAPTER XIII.

*Escape from Indians—A discovery—Alone in the desert.....*160

CHAPTER XIV.

*Crusoe's return, and his private adventures among the Indians—Dick at a very low ebb—Crusoe saves him.....*170

CHAPTER XV.

*Health and happiness return—Incidents of the journey—A buffalo shot—A wild horse "creased"—Dick's battle with a mustang.....*178

CHAPTER XVI.

*Dick becomes a horse tamer—Resumes his journey—Charlie's doings—Misfortunes which lead to, but do not terminate in, the Rocky Mountains—A grizzly bear.....*195

CHAPTER XVII.

*Dick's first fight with a grizzly—Adventure with a deer—A surprise.....*207

CHAPTER XVIII.

*A surprise, and a piece of good news—The fur-traders—Crusoe proved, and the Peigans pursued.....*216