THE RECORD MOUNTAIN.

The land between the Record and Sophie mountains in the Trail Creek district has until lately been thought valueless as a precious metal producer, the ledges running chiefly to white iron and pyrites, with here and there a trace of gold and sometimes very scanty deposits of silver. On some parts of the inter-mountain land in question promising copper-gold deposits have lately been found, and the Roseland Times states that the Umatilla group on Record Mountain, is now showing remarkably well. On the Bannock, one of the claims in the group, a shaft is down forty feet and at that depth $77 ore has, it is stated, been found. Should this showing continue over a large body of ore and also at greater depth, the case of the Umatilla group will lead to renewed activity on and about Record Mountain, where lately many claims have been either abandoned or all but abandoned, though a number have this year been relocated.
