give space to the vagaries of such a man whether real or imaginary? Several other so-called prominent Irlahmen of Buffalo, chums of McBride, were also interviewed on the same subject, and they were all unanimous that a raid should be made on Canada, and that no limit should be placed on the use of dynamite.

In regard to all those so-called dynamite plots we are in a position to state that over three weeks ago we were aware of the fact that dynamice plots were hatched in Ottawa by parties in the pay of the Government, and we are satisfied that the ravings of the idiots in Buffalo have been inspired and dictated from Ottawa, and are only a part of the scheme to alarm the Canadian Government. The Buffalo confessions have been made for the sole purpose of giving a color of truth to the reports furnished by interested parties to the Ottawa authorities during the past month, to the effect that the Parliament buildings were to be blown up and that other dire calamities would fail upon Canadian officials and Canadian institutions.

We are surprised that the Government at Ottawa has not more sense and shrewdness than to allow themselves to be humbugged and deceived by designing knaves whose only object is to create alarm and thus keep up a pretext to draw money from the Secret Service fund. The best remedy for all dynamite plots and scares is to cut off the supplies of the Secret Service money, for the main motive and object of these plots will then cease to exist.

L'HOSPICE ST. JOSEPH.

The dedication of a new Altar in St. Joseph's Church, on Oathedral street, took place last Salurday morning, the 23th of December. The ceremonies, on these occasions, are generally of an unusually grand character, and most impressive. The services appertaining to the ceremony this morning were presided over by His Lordship Bithop Fabre, assisted by the Rev. Father Deschamps, Chaptain of the institution, and the Rev. Fathers Vaillant and Donnelly, of the Bishop's. The Rev. Father Colin, Superior of the Seminary, also assisted. The ceremony of the consecration took place at 7 o'clock this morning, and was attended by a large number of novices of the Grey Nuns, together with a number of prominent offizens. The choir, which was composed of the Sisters and orphans of the institution, rendered several sacred pieces. After the ceremony of Consecration a Low Mass was said by His Lordship, after which the services were brought to a close. Among the many who were present were the Rev. Mother Deschamps, Superioress-General of the Grey Nuns, and the Rev. Sister Filiatrant, Assistant-General. The szerce edifice, which has been greatly renovated and frescoed, presented a very picturesque appearance, as also did the side altars, which were tastfully decorated. The prayers of the forty hours devotion will commence to-morrow at 9 o'clock, and will be presided over by a large number of prominent clergymen.

MR. PARNELL'S NEW FOLIOY. NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—A special London able says :--Mr. Parnell's programme as published by the Times on Thursday, is contradicted by his followers. It approunces, in addition to former items, that he will push the scheme of Irish county government, that he will favor further land legislation, a better plan of obstruction in Parliament and a renewal of orgenized terror in Ireland on the Land League plan, and finally that we will advocate a complete organization of the Irish vote in England, every Irishman to vote henceforth at his orders. Parnell's friends say he proposes to follow the policy he has followed in past sessions. Members of his party will meet early in February to arrange a programme. At that meeting individual members will be assigned to watch special measures. The cohesion of the members of the party is perfect and their confidence in their leader is stronger than ever.

THE POET OF THE SIERRAS ON PROMINENT MEN AND THINGS.

The Surplus Bevenue-Vanderbilt's Swell Halt—Poor Old Tempron-An Anti-Charity Society—And an Essay and Poem on Tramping.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 .- If those few million dollars are burning a hole in the nation's pocket, if they must be expended and must be expended at of for an instant. once, then I advise that they be spent in beautifying and refining the heart of they could be made to look in all the battlebe piled upon them. So much for looks. We do not want them in any way. We dethem. The day of building Chinese walls is done with.

There was a place once not much bigger on the map of the earth than the point of this pen. And yet it stands out to-day like a star. What is Thebes with all her walls and gates to glorious little Sparta? Time has trampled the walls of a thousand unnamed cities in the dust. Yet the spiender of defiant little Sparts shines on forever.

I know of nothing so cowardly as this Chinese cry for walls of defence. It is contemptible. What have we done, or what are we going to do, that we must be getting ready to defend ourselves? But even if we have done something or abould choose to do something that might challenge strack, what of it? Are we so wesk that we need walls and battlements about our white sea doors?

Nothing of the sort. The simple truth is this country without a single sea wall or fort the beggars out of purgetory would not and cans as being the clearest and most explicit or battlement, and without a day of preparation, can defend itself against the whole united force of the earth. Our men could leave their work to-day, lick the whole world and be back to work in a week. It is nothing to boast of at all. "BARON" TENNYSON.

Baron Tennyson! Say it over to yourcelf; and say it over and over again. I am so scrry. For say it over and over I shall never be able to get the sweet sense of Alfred Tonnyson out of my mind. And so Alfred Tennyson must remain a poet, be another being from this "Baron." And why did Her Majesty give him this worlike title? This one of all others. The old barons were brutes, bloodthirsty savages.

Let us hope that the sweet, pure post will not descend to this title. It is an impertinence to ask him to do it. Her Msjesty the Queen is great. But not nearly so great as Alfred Tennyson the poet. And the Empress of India can give him nothing at all in the way of dignity and honor which the univer-

"Tis only noble to be good." Years ago the poet reierred to something of this sort. He was stronger then, in the full vigor of his functions. And then, too, Dickens was at his side. I believe they both refused titles at the same time. But now, in his old age, when weak and worn, they tempt him with nonsense and change his name. And the poor man now puts by that great name which he has won by long and splendid toil, nights and days of effort, years and years of glorious evidence, and walks down and becomes instead of Alfred Tennyson only an English Baron. How awkward he will feel. What a missit this garment will make! Let us still hope his manhood will return to him and he will remain still Alfred Tennyson.

AN ANTI-CHARITY SOCIETY IN NEW YORK,

I have been implored, and with savage pleasure I call attention to this association. Could any one believe that as we stand upon the verge of days that have been devoted since the advent of Ohrist to universal charity, that there is a great society of that name, or rather that nature, in New York? Well, there is a flourishing order of that kind here: and it has just held a big meeting and was man suspected of having any leaping to the presided over and addressed by big men, popular cause in Ireland he would be proserted men, influential men, Federal office.

holders, professed Christians. One is a famous ex-Cabinet Minister. They appeal to the public to give no begger a cent.

Of course these are honest men. They mean well. But I make a solemn protest against such teachings. The motive I do not question. Yet I cannot see how any reasonable man or woman can see any good to come of this society's doings. And it is easy to tes how much heartlessness, inbumanite indeed can and must naturally grow out of it if it is permitted to flourish. And I repeat that it seems impossible that at this cay and age such an association could be thought

And so, lew investigate and fawer give. Oh, my friend, some one richer, better than these rich and influential men here in New York, long since said that the poor shall be with us always. And I reckon that no society that ever was or ever will be could ever do away with that pitiful fact. Who are the beggars? You find as a rule

Of course our tramps there were made up of good metal; no beggars Brave men had poured in there to find their fortunes, and were hunting industriously. Well, now, most of these tramps here are poor fellows who have come to America just as we went to Caltiornia. And I shall say the largest half of them are just as honest in their helpiess efforts to get on.

Besides that there is a lot of wreck and dewho are touched a little in the brain from the exposure and long concern, old wearen and accumulated years.

A WARNING FROM OTTAWA.

To the Editor of THE POST and TRUE WITNESS As I left Montreal vesterday I was startled by reading the following paragraph in your editorial columns. Under the heading of "Foreign Dynamite Plots Hatched at Home,"

"In regard to all those so-called dynamite plots we are in a position to state that over three weeks ago we were aware of the fact that dynamite plots were being batched we are satisfied that the ravings of the idiot : in Buffalo have been inspired and dictated from Ottawa, and are only a part of the importation of foreign laborers under con-

scheme to alarm the Canadian Government." This is a bold statement to make and is one that is calculated to set people thinking. You say that you " are in a position to state" a certain charge, the gravity of which is more than significant—it is alarming. I do not of the present voluntoer one. expect you at present to reveal all you Some Parks papers assert to but it must occur to you that know. events may oblige you, in the interests of the people at large, to tell us more about the "plots" that are going on. take a special interest in this subject. I do so because I know that there is, unfortunately, too much reason to believe that your suzpicions are correct. I too "am in a position to state" that the work of the informer is still being carried out. Circumstances give me special facilities of ascertaining events as they pass in supposed privacy. Month by month I have been shocked at the continued depravity of some well known Irishmen. 1 have hitherto held r y tongue. I hesitated to cast suspicion where it might cause trouble, or even danger. But I will do so no longer. There is a higher interest at stake than the safety of an individual. The community must be protected. The people must not be aliewed to be again made the victims of treachery. The informers must be exposed. I give this letter as a warning note. I give it simply to corroborate your suspicion, and if the evil work continues, I will place in your hands the names of the people who are guilty of these treache-les and the proof of their gallt. I do this to save the people, and I do it in the belief that you will have courage enough to give those same names to the world, and that no threats of libel suits will deter you from standing between the people and their traducers.

Dr. Jamot, in his pasteral visitation of this parisb, learning of the large congregation here, and of their great seal for whatever tends to the honor of the Church, deemed it advicatio to establish a convent, The pastor, the Rev. Father Murray, immediately entered luto his views, and while looking around for an eligible property for the purpose, was informed that the buildings and grounds known as the "Ludies' College" was foreale. After some negotiations the "Ladies' Coilege" passed into the hands of the Catholics of this town in the month of February of this year. During the spring and summer men were constantly at work on the buildlags and grounds, making everything ready, and on the 3rd of Beptember five religense of the Community of St. Joseph, Toronto, arrived in their new convent home. The following day His Lordship, the Bight Key. Dr. Jamot, accompanied by the paster and the Rev. Father Browne, of Port Hope, blessed the convent and the school buildings, and effered up the holy sacrifice of the mass in the convent chapel. The people attended in very large numbers, filling up chapel, halls, and the adjoining rooms. After mass, Hishordthip addressed thosopresent upon theblessings that were theirs on that day, by the coming of the holy nuns among them; to work for them and for their children and to unite with them in their daily prayer, that their children might, all through life, constantly keep buining the light of faith, which was their inheritance and for which the Catholics of this town have been always remarkable. The following day, the school opened with a large attendance, which has been steadily increasing, soveral non-Catholics being among the Separate School pupils. There has been also a marked change in the regularity of the attendance. There are taking lessons in vocal and several instrumental music and many others have applied for the coming year. Applications have also been made for boarders, but it has been found impossible to meet this demand on account of the want of accommodation. A private school for young ladies will probably be opened during the coming The old separate school building has year. passed futo the hands of our worthy townsman Captain D. THE ALLAN SS COMPANY SUEC. Pirrssung, Dec 31.—Prominent Scottish citizens have formed a pool for the purpose of bringing a suit against the Allan Steamship Line for damages for having indirectly caused the death of Mrs. Wm. Henderson. Two months since the agent of the Allan line soid to Wm. Henderson two full fare tickets from Glasgow to Pittsburg which Henderson gave to his wife and son, and they started for Boston. On arriving there the woman was given one full fare and one halffare ticket to this place, sithough she was entitled to two full-fare tickets. The mistake was discovered on the train and having no money, several times she and her son were put off the trains, and once in Albany walked the street all night. The shock to her systom was go great that she died just after reaching home. The gentlemen also con-

The sudden change in temperature from a heated ball room to the chill midnight air has to account for many serious pulmonary silments. European physicians have recommended JOHNSON'S FLUID BEEF, and it is now the correct thing at fashionable parties to have it served hot in the hall as guests are eaving.
