

present session; and to report with all convenient speed the names of the senators so nominated.

Hon. Mr. Brooks: Can the honourable leader tell us when the committee will have its first meeting?

Hon. Mr. Macdonald (Brantford): The honourable Leader of the Government has asked when the committee—

Some Hon. Senators: Oh, oh.

Hon. Mr. Macdonald (Brantford): I mean, the honourable Leader of the Opposition has asked—

Hon. Mr. McCutcheon: You are bound to do it once.

Hon. Mr. Macdonald (Brantford): I am beginning to feel at home on this side. The honourable Leader of the Opposition has asked when the committee will sit. In order to proceed with all convenient speed I would suggest that the committee sit immediately after the house rises this evening. It will then be able to bring in its report tomorrow.

Motion agreed to.

The Senate adjourned until tomorrow at 3 p.m.
