

sence of my Lord and Master. I knew the blessed Spirit was my faithful guide. Enemy after enemy was conquered and my life from this time was and is to-day a joy and a song, because I have my beloved always with me. Temptations, trials and difficulties have ever been increasing, but I prove the scripture true, My grace is sufficient for you, for greater is He that is in you than he that is in the world.

Since entering this life hid with Christ in God and walking in the Spirit, I have learned that it is not impossible to sin, but I also know and have proved that there is no longer any necessity for sinning. Absolute surrender and trust in my Guide makes it possible to obtain uniform victory over every assailant, and enables me to march forward, growing in grace and knowledge daily. I have found that to doubt the presence and leading of my Lord (because of the seeming difficulties of the way, or for any other cause) leaves me exposed to the enemy of my soul, who at once thrusts in darts of sin. I once yielded to discouragement through apparent failure when I thought I had lost all, and it took several days of terrible soul agony to teach me that the only way was to lay aside my doubts and fears and instantly ask forgiveness and yield an unquestioning trust and obedience to my Guide. I have now learnt that if I would be happy in Jesus there is no other way but to trust and obey—being willing to lose all that I may hold sweet fellowship and communion with my Saviour and my God.

The promise of the Lord in Acts i. 8, "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses," has been verified. Our home was opened for meetings. Here the Lord's presence has been wonderfully felt. Many saints have been cheered and helped out into a brighter experience, and sinners have been converted to God, and our one desire is that many more may enter into like precious faith, walk in the Spirit, and so find in Jesus a satisfying portion.
