

freedom from errors which characterise its compilation. The proprietor certainly has spared no effort to make the Almanack strictly reliable, and evidence of great care and trouble to this end is clearly indicated in every page. As in previous years we heartily recommend Belcher's Almanack to Farmer, Merchant and Mechanic, as a periodical which they will find eminently useful in the pursuance of their respective vocations. For Sale at Messrs Mackinlay's, Granville Street."—Acadian Recorder.

‘BELCHER'S FARMER'S ALMANACK.—The fortieth number of this indispensable Annual has just been laid upon our table by the proprietor. To say that Belcher's compilation contains every thing necessary to render an Almanack useful to the public would be superogatory; and the fact that the work was issued from the press of J. Bowes & Sons is, at all times, a guarantee for its typographical excellence. For sale everywhere throughout the Province.”—Halifax Reporter.

WANTED by a Gentleman going into the patriotic line, a few GRIEVANCES of strong manufacture, warranted to wear well. Also some materials for making a good Mob, that will not shrink in the washing, if a shower of rain should come on. Best price given for Old Grievances, if they are not too much worn, and will admit of turning over to the other side. Good substantial Wrongs, to which there are no appropriate Rights, will be taken with alacrity by the advertiser, whose object is chiefly occupation; but he is indifferent as to its being profitable to any body but himself.

MATRIMONIAL AGENCY.—MRS. BRIDGET NORTH begs to inform the connubially disposed portion of the community, that, at the suggestion of several single ladies about thirty, and of numerous juvenile gentlemen who have just attained their majority a second time, she has opened a MATRIMONIAL AGENCY OFFICE at No 1 Huggin Lane, where, from long and successful experience, she trusts to be honoured by the confidence of the single, and the generous acknowledgments of the married.

Ladies who have lost the registries of their births can be supplied with new ones for any year they please, and the greatest care will be taken to make them accord with the early recollections of the lady's school-fellows and cousins of the same age. Gentlemen who wear wigs, false calves, or artificial teeth, or use hair-dye, &c., will be required to state the same, as no deception can be countenanced by the advertiser. Young gentlemen with large mustachios and small incomes will find the Matrimonial Agency Office well worthy attention; and young ladies who play the piano, speak French, and measure only eighteen inches round the waist, cannot better consult their own interests than by making an early application.

N.B.—Wanted several buxom widows. If in weeds will be preferred.
