ministers with other speakers in the house of commons expressed a wish for the betterment of relations between England and Germany. For myself, I am m accord with that wish, but I remember that the same wish has been expressed repeatedly by both sides for a series of years. Nevertheless, we have obtained experience thru what has occurred. My phrase, clean slate, has been taken up by England, but the slate of the recent past has been written on with a hard pencil, leaving permanent scratches which cannot be written over in the future of suspicion wields the pencil.

Germany Not Aggressive.

"The England minister rightfully sees that Germany's growing strength covers no aggressive plans. We also wish sincerity not only for peace and friendship, but for an actual betterment of relations tending to keep the peace. This is our wish, only so far as England is concerned she needs to demonstrate her desire in a positive manner in her policy."

District W.C.T.U., in Foresters' Hall last night, was an unqualified success. Miss Noxon's interpretations of excerpts from "Anne of Green Gab.es" were exceptionally pleasing, her finely-modulated voice having a very wide range, giving color to all the character delineations. With vivid force she depleted Anne's consternation when, on trying the hair dye sold by a passing ped ar, she finds her hair to be a bright blue.

Miss Noxon was well assisted by Chas. H. Leelie, whose bartone so los drew loud applause from the audience.

"But Mr. Reid should remember," he continued, "that there were 450 electors present at the convention that nominated Dr. Pyne, while I believe there were forty present at Mr. Reid's convention."

In his speech, Dr. Pyne said, briefly: "No one knows better than I the necessity of a good compensation act. As a physician of many years' practice, I know what it means when the breadwinner is struck down. The workmen of Toronto are too proud to take charity, but they want an act that will give them their pights."

STREET LAKS TO OLD FORT

York Pioneers Passed Important Reso-lutions Yesterday.

Recommendations to the city council to have the old fort laid out as a public park, and at the same time to preserve the property and protect the burying ground of the old soldlers, were made by the York Pioneers at their meeting vesterday afternoon. It was one of the best meetings of the season, upwards of 100 members being present. Another resolution was passed recommending the establishment of a street car service to the old fort, so that the dilzens of Toronto might enjoy the privileges of a beauty spot with historic remembrances.

Mr. Roberts said that he believed that Mr. Roberts said that he believed that all classes should be represented in the legislature, and the working class was not represented in proportion to its numbers. The argument that the interests of the employing and working classes were identical was a pretty speech, but the workers could not trust their employers. to make their wages, and could not trust them to make their laws.

was that the powers saw in his success the awakening of the working classes. The Lavor party was out to-day to obtain for the children of the masses the same favorable opportunities as were possessed by the fortunate few. Studnoime gave all his time to serving his constituency, while the other canudate did not propose to do so.

Mr. Roberis was given a hearty vote of thanks and three rousing cheers. His remarks were frequently and enthusiastically applauded.

Samuel Landers sa'd that Sir James Whitney wanted Studhoime removed from the legislature because the old stove-mounter had the habit of asking questions at inopportune times.
