AT OSGOODE HALL

The City Was Another Case-Suit Against a Bailiff-Big Lists. At the Non-Jury Sittings, Justice Meredith non-suited the plaintiff in Ewig v. City of Toronto. The action was for damages sustained from a fall on Peter-street. The plaintiff tripped on the projecting hinge of an iron door let into the sidewalk.

Suit Against a Bailiff. The motion before the Divisional Court by the plaintiff in Gillam v. Virtue, to increase the judgment in his favor, from $40 to $100, will be concluded to-day. The plaintiff is a bailiff, and seized and sold under an execution, obtained by one Martin, certain goods of the plaintiff, valued at $100. It is contended that the execution was issued under a writ of $40. The sub-section enacts that "Tools and implements of or articles ordinarily used in the debtor's occupation to the value of $100" are exempt from seizure.

The Judge of the County of Oxford found that plaintiff's occupation was that of a butcher, and that the value of the exempted goods sold was $40. The plaintiff contended that his other or principal occupation was farming, and making sugar, and that the value of his exempted goods at that respect was $100. At all events, both occupations he should have $100 worth of exemptions.

cent decline to sell out. The pressure from this source, together with renewed hammering by bears, had, however, only a temporary depressing effect, as the offerings were well taken by substantial operators who were large personal buyers of Grangers and Colliers and Industrial. The support was better than in the market had received for some time and with no bad news forthcoming the market responded to it, and closed with a better feeling. Chicago Gas was the strongest feature on official detail that the company has a floating debt of $1,000,000. Buying in the stock was very good and largely for Bonded & Flower interests. A drive was made against Sugar in an effort to check to-day that for some time, and was any further encouragement from this source the market would do better.
