

The Lot Number Is 1888.

The above is the lot number of the best Man's Overcoat ever sold by any firm in Toronto for 6.00. Our reason for selling it at 6.00 is this—our warehouse cut more of this particular line than orders called for—possibly 700 coats more, which by the way, is too many for even a large wholesale to carry over—result, they reduced their price in order to clean it out, and we, having caught the same generous feeling, decided to give our customers the benefit, so that instead of it being 8.50, the regular selling price, we marked them 6.00. The style of the coat is a three-quarter box back, dark Oxford grey cheviot with velvet collar and regular pockets, hand padded shoulders, a right smart overcoat and chunk full of style, sizes 35 to 45.

THOS. DUNFORD GIVEN $200 DAMAGES

The Criminal Cases in the County
Court Will Be Heard
To-Day.

Hamilton, Dec. 9.—(Special).—The plaintiff at the County Court were in luck this afternoon, two of them obtained verdicts in their favor. James Woods, the Merck street barber, sued James Wetherington, manager of Wilkes' Wood Farm near Oak, for $200 for a bull dog and its family. The jury awarded him half the amount. Thos. J. Dunford, who was knocked down and run over by a truck at the smelting works, sued for $200 damages for the truck. Steel and Iron Company, and the jury gave it to him.

The criminal cases will be heard tomorrow. The first thing on the program is the charge of theft against John W. Scott, "Mysterious Duke," accused of shooting a woman in the back of the head. The police are not yet hopeful of securing a conviction.

Would Discourage Building.
The Board of Works this evening wrestled for some time over a recommendation made by City Solicitor MacKinnon, who thinks the building of houses in the recent situation is being longed and discouraged. The land was taken in by the city to be used as a site for manufacturing concerns, and part of it is being longed and discouraged. The land was taken in by the city to be used as a site for manufacturing concerns, and part of it is being longed and discouraged.

Chloroform Recalled Then.
James Thidell, who was at one time a deputy chief of the fire department, and a city assessor, is dead at Chicago. Mrs. Thidell, a woman of 70, who loved her husband from Rochester to this city, where she took a room. This morning about 2 o'clock she told the couple at the hotel that she had taken chloroform. Her husband was sent for and a physician called. She will recover.

Power Shut Off.
Calls in two of the power generators at Deane's Falls were burned out last night, and the electric power cut off many factories in this city.

George H. Green, proprietor of the Ontario Hotel, was elected to the position of selling honor Saturday night.

David Anderson, one of the most widely known musicians in the city, was married this afternoon to Miss Catherine Leask, 224 King West.

Another Drunkard Cured.
VERY GLAD HE TRIED SAMARIA.
Southampton, Sept. 17, 1902.

Dear Sir, I have enclosed $5 for a bottle of Samaria's Remedy. I will not use the second bottle, but want to have it for my own use. I feel the one bottle sufficient, and am very glad we tried it. Yours truly, stated, was a carpenter in the employ of the city, working at the Western Cattle Market. On the morning in question, he arose as usual, appeared to be in the best of spirits, and stated his wife to prepare the breakfast, as he was a little late, and when starting out he said he was in a pleasant mood. That was the last any member of the family saw of him. At noon he quit work at the cattle market, and in company with Harrison and Taylor came down town. At St. Lawrence Market he purchased a bag of potatoes to be delivered to his home. On their way to the market they stopped at the hotel at the corner of King and Tecumseh streets and had a drink. The next hotel visited was the Selwyn, where Taylor says they returned to the bar room then, when he separated from Bell and the other men there. Taylor says they returned to the bar room then, when he separated from Bell and the other men there. Taylor says they returned to the bar room then, when he separated from Bell and the other men there.

WILLIAM A. BRADFORD.

THINK BELL WAS MURDERED

From the wife of Bell it was learned that when drinking he became quarrelsome, but his companions deny that he was in a fighting mood when he was killed. When in the York he carried the key, an unusual thing for him, but he had been suffering on occasion of the cold, which was his reason for taking whiskey. The police are puzzled to know what theory to arrive at. The fact of Bell drinking very freely on that day, they would not be surprised that he wandered down the way down, and by the fact that Bell is said to have been seen by several people in the vicinity of his home, shortly before the crime. This is not relied upon to support the theory of the suicide theory, certain of it is their firm belief that an odd idea, he is doing his duty, and that he is supposed to have left the York Hotel and started out on his way home, which begins to look toward the police and in some way accidentally fell from the dock. If Bell went to the dock in the next block to the south, and started out and was susceptible to this influence he would most likely go to the bay front as the grade between Front street and the wharf is rather steep. On the other hand, there are two or more men believed to think that Bell, if dead, came to his death at other hands than his own. The fact in which he was a strong reason for thinking that. It is freely expressed by those familiar with the character of that frequent neighborhood that any man who made a boast of having money, as Bell did, ran big chances of being the victim of violent treatment at least. One man conversant with the lives of the inmates that hang around between the wharf and the several hotels remarked that it was his opinion that those were those around that would "put a man out of business for a drink of whiskey."

DIVIDED NO. 9.
Notice is hereby given that a dividend of two and one-half per cent. upon the paid-up capital stock of this company has been declared for the current half-year ending December 31, 1903, and that the same will be payable at the office of the company, No. 12 Toronto Street, on and after January 1, 1904.

WAS Sceptical Regarding Cure

But Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Drove Out the Pains and Conquered the Disease.

Mrs. McBrien, 7 MacDougal Place, Toronto, states: "I had pains in my back for such a length of time that I was very restless when I heard any one talk of a particular remedy curing them, as I had begun to think my illness was incurable. I was in a part of my back and, in a few hours, moving from part to part, often settling under my shoulder blade without leaving a mark."

"A friend of mine advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and gave me some to try. Not expecting any relief after trying so many so-called remedies, my surprise and thankfulness were great when the pains were promptly disappearing. A continued use of the preparation cured me of my ailment, and I have not had an ache or pain since."

"I am now a firm believer in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills having been the best sale of any similar medicine. They are considered a household necessity in thousands of Canadian homes. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recent book author, are on every box."
