

Our Master Instrument— The Organola

THE test of the control Pipes of the Organola is a Band Record or a Quartette.

The ordinary talking machine will reproduce a record of band instruments or quartette as one coordinated sound and in doing so loses the beauty and character of the individual instruments or voices. The tone control pipes of the Organola are so tuned that each individual sound—instrumental or voice—is distinctly reproduced because the pipes embrace every note in the scale and vibrate in sympathy as their notes are given forth by the record which happens to be playing.

Our magnificent "Organola" model is the only phonograph equipped with a full set of tone control pipes. The aid of these pipes in the true and harmonious reproduction of tones has made the Organola the master instrument of the phonograph world and a triumph to the true lovers of music.

If you have not heard the "Organola" an artistic treat is awaiting you.

Hear it at our dealers, or write us.

IMPOSSIBLE TO JUDGE EXTENT OF COAL STRIKE

Mixed Reports of Men Who Walked Out and Others
Who Stayed.

A. F. OF L. PROTESTS

Predict Court Order Will Only
Result in Raising New Issues.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 31.—The big news in the coal strike situation today was the federal court's order forbidding the walkout. It was followed by a long line of developments and opened the door to wide possibilities.

The principal leaders in the miners' union met the court's action with denunciation as a "violation of constitutional rights," declarations that it came too late to reach their men with a countermanding order, and with predictions that it would be disregarded anyway.

During the night mixed reports were coming in from the mining states of men who decided to remain at work and others who went on strike despite the court's restraining order. It is not possible to estimate what proportion of the 425,000 miners affected remained at work and what proportion walked out. The real test may not come until Monday. Saturday generally is a "dead" day in the mines.

Meanwhile organized labor leaders showed signs of taking up cudgels on a general issue over the right to strike. President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, with Vice-President Wolf and Secretary Morrison, protested as a delegation to Attorney-General Palmer against the Government's action in issuing the injunction and predicted that it could only result in creating new and more disturbing issues which may not be confined solely to the miners' railway brotherhoods also conferred with the attorney-general, but disclaimed that they did more than offer their services to intervene.

Attorney-General Palmer emphasized to the labor leaders that the Government's injunction was in no wise an infringement of the workman's right to strike, but that it was a lawful process against a calamity to the country. He pointed out that the Government, acting for all the people, and not for the employers acting in conflict with their employees.

Declined to Predict. The attorney-general declined to predict what would be done if the miners failed to heed the federal court's order, pointing out that the court itself would initiate means to deal with those who disregarded its mandates.

All day long the Government continued steadily taking measures to deal with the practical as well as the legal phase of the crisis.

President Wilson by executive order fixed maximum prices of soft coal. Fuel Administrator Garfield rested the war orders which will give the railroad administration the power to seize coal in transit, and divert it to consumption in accordance with a preference list arranged with the idea of doing the greatest good for the greatest number.

The machinery of the railroad administration, through which the acts of the fuel administration will be carried out, was put ready for action.

United States troops began arriving in some of the mining districts ready to take part in keeping order and protecting those miners who wish to continue at work.

The extent and full nature of the troop movements was not disclosed, but it was apparent that the war department was acting on a carefully worked out plan to be ready if the local or state authorities, reinforced by federal deputy marshals, were unequal to the situation.

Congress continued to show its temper today, and the House amid speeches and denunciations of an attempt to paralyze the country, unanimously passed the Senate resolution pledging support to the administration in its measures to deal with the emergency.

EXPORT OF HIDES AND LEATHER STILL GOES ON

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—According to a return tabled in Parliament today at the request of A. R. McMaster, hides to the value of $2,751,297 have been exported from Canada since the placing of the embargo on the export of hides, while leather to the value of $3,053,601 has been sent out of the Dominion.

The report shows that export still takes place under license, and that no application for license has yet been refused.

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE. — Nuxated Iron, which is used by Dr. Sullivan and others with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere.

Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser, or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Cairncross & Lawrence, Standard Drug Company, Taylor Drug Company, and all other druggists.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2 AND 3.

Sunday may pave the way to some future benefits, by the removal of some obstacle or the breaking up of a crystallized condition of long standing. Nevertheless, make no changes, avoid disputes and law and sign papers cautiously. Also see to the health.

Those whose birthday it is may have some opening advantages, but should sign papers cautiously and guard against disputes and litigation. A child born on this day will be steady and industrious, but may be erratic.

Monday is a day of conflicting prospects, with the advantages predicted for those in employment, who may obtain promotion or favors if undeniably deserving. It is otherwise a day on which disappointments and obstacles are possible, and troubles or misfortune may accrue from rash, hasty or impetuous words and acts, leading to quarrels and litigation. The health may need attention and care.

Those whose birthday it is should be particularly careful of their health and also guard against law and quarrelling. Benefits may be expected by those in employment who are undeniably deserving. A child born on this day should be trained in amiability and self-control.
