THIS WEEK

Rome, Jan. 28—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—How an aviator feels when he drives an airplane through a flaming observation balloon is described by Giovanni Ancillotto, an Italian airman who demolished an Austrian balloon in that fashion in an air conflict at Rustigns.

all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

In that fashion in an air conflict at Rustigns.

The balloon was guarded by three Austrian chaser airplanes. These were engaged by three Italian fighting machines while Ancillotto dived straight at the balloon at which he opened fire with incendiary bullets at a range of about twenty yards. At the same moment he suddenly realized the dangen he was in, for it was clearly impossible for him to avoid collision with the now flaming balloon.

"I thought to myself, it means death," he says in his report. "I closed my eyes and waited. Barely a second passed before I felt a shock; there was a sound of tearing, flames rushed across my face. I opened my eyes and found myself a few dozen yards from the ground.

"I started my engine, steadied the machine, glanced at the wings in fear that their support would fail me. They were trembling as though broken and were carrying some tattered pieces of stuff. But they held; the propeller turned, and the airplane gradually gaining speed, glided toward the Italian lines. A few minutes later I alighted at my camp."

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleaning, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards.
