Senator Jones asked as to what the Populist party could expect in the way of recognition in case Bryan should be indorsed by the Populist party. Senator Jones replied that in the event of Mr. Bryan's election to the presidency, he would know no party and would recognize all who had rallied to his support. Populists were not to be looked upon as step-children. The recognition of all silver men would be equal. Senator Jones made further observations about this year's campaign being a fight by all the people for the people, and that no small differences should stand in the way of united action. He also urged them to organize as the silver forces organized in Chicago. Afterwards Senators Jones and Stewart held a conference with Senator Butler and urged him to use his influence with the Southern delegates to support Bryan, as it was from these delegations that the principal opposition to Bryan came

It was stated in the evening that Mr. Bryan had formally declined to make any specific pledges, notwithstanding he had been importuned to do so. Those of the delegates present who had seen him since his nomination said that Mr. Bryan had said to them that the l'opuists must trust him as he proposed to trust them, but under no circumstances would he make any promises of appointments of any character to men of any party. This sentiment was generally ahead. applauded as courageous in view of the prospect of receiving 2,000,000 votes, but sentiment was construed to mean that Mr. Bryan meant to be fair to all his supporters in all respects, in case of There were twenty-two states repreented in the meeting, and while all those present were not able to pledge their entire delegations, all spoke hopefully of the outlook. The meeting was too limited in numbers, however, to enable those present to form an intelligent idea as to whether the Bryan forces Erie would be able to control the convention. The discussion of plans of proceedings were general and all urged that no steps should be left unturned to secure the union of the silver forces in the camprign, which all present agreed could Cornelius Vanderbilt's illness has still further depressed the American market, and though the support given to first class American issues prove that there is a confidence in the maintenance of the gold standard, there is still an uneasy feeling that many things might happen before November. GREAT TAILORS' STRIKE.

Twelve Thousand Workmen to Go Out in New York and Brooklyn.

New York, July 22 .- A strike of the various organizations constituting the Brotherhood of Tailors, has been officially declared. These organizations consist of finishers, pressers, operators, bushelers and fitters. The strike involves almost every contractor's shop in the city and Brooklyn, and will bring to a standstill 12,000 workmen. This number will probably be added to as the strikers will have the aid of the United Garment Workers, who affiliate with the brotherhood and will undoubtedly strike in sympathy. The leader, Meyer Schoenfield, said: "The cause of the strike has been the reduction from 20 to 25 per cent. of the wages, and the majority of our members being forced to work more than ten hours a day, under
