America Declares Her Attitude in the Great Eastern Question

Will Not Help China to Maintain the Integrity of the Empire.

Washington, March 14.-The ambassadors and ministers here representing those powers having large interests in China, have communicated to their foreign offices the substance of the reent answer of the United States to Italy to the effect that this country would maintain an attitude of disinter sted neutrality in reference to the talian designs on San Mum Bay. Some of the diplomats have advised their governments that they regard the anuncement of the United States attiude as of supreme importance in the hinese situation.

orps, representing one of the powers of Europe, said: "It is most important to all the powers to know that the United States does not intend to interfere on behalf of China, even to the extent of exerting her moral influence toward continuing China's integrity. For that reason I look upon the American answer to Italy as the most important development of the Chinese situation which has taken place in recent days, and I think it will be so accepted by all oreign offices."

This diplomatic official further pointed ut that if Italy secured San Mun Bay from China, it would prove a port of inestimable value to the United States' interest in the Philippines. It is one of the southerly posts of China and about closest for the big trade to and from
