At four o'clock Wednesday afternoon Centenary church was well filled with people to witness the marriage ceremony of Miss Maud Wilson, daughter of Mr. Walter Wilson, to Mr. Alfred H. McCready editor and manager of the Sackville Post, and late of the editorial staff of the Daily Sun in this city. The church was prettily decorated with flowers and about the communion rail were they especially profuse.

When the organist Miss Haa sounded the first notes of the wedding hymn The voice that Breathed O'er Eden, the bride entered leaning on her father's arm and attended by her sister Miss Laura B. Wilson. Mr. McCready was ably supported by his cousin Mr. Fred McCready. The costume worn by Miss Wilson was of camel's hair cloth trimmed with purple and gold cloth and was most becoming. Her hat was made in colors which harmonised perfectly with the travelling suit. Miss Laura Wilson brides-maid wore a blue silk costume trimmed with yellow, also a blue and yellow hat which matched very prettily.

There were only a few invited guests at the ceremony only the relatives of both principals being present by request. When the nuptial knot had been tied by Rev. John Read, the organ pealed forth the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the happy couple slowly proceeded to their carriage amid the showers of rice and congratulations poured in upon them by friends in the church aisles, lobbies and on the sidewalk.

Mr. and Mrs. McCready were driven immediately to the Quebec express upon which they took their departure for F. E. I. by the way of Nova Scotia. In August they will take up their residence in Sackville in a costly furnished little home. A very large number of gifts were received by the newly married couple among which are the principal ones.

SACKVILLE.

JUNE 8.—St. Paul's church was crowded today at five when Miss Grace Campbell was married to Mr. Robert W. Simpson, both of Moncton. As Miss Campbell was very popular during her residence in Sackville all her old friends were present besides a large number of spectators anxious to get a peep at one of the fairest of the very few lady journalists of the province. The church had been most beautifully trimmed for the festive occasion by Mrs. Frank Jones, Miss Amy Milner, Miss Belle Bird, Miss Addie Wry, Miss Edna Johnson, Miss Jennie Estabrooke, Miss Fanny Bliss and Miss Nora Higgins. The standards were all decorated with white lilies, the font was a mass of ferns and white bloom. The lectern and reading desk were twined with lilies and adorned at the base with potted plants. The choir stalls were wreathed with lilies and the altar bore a beautiful cross of white lilies. The light of the lamps which were lit in the chancel made a very effective glow over the flowers. The bride was given away by her father, Dr. Charles Campbell. Her dress was a stylish tailor made broad cloth of metal blue with vest of silk and white lace, the hat was of turquoise blue and fern ribbon. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern.

The ceremony began with hymn 479 which the choir had learned especially for this occasion, and rendered with excellent effect. They also gave one of the psalms. The silver knot was tied by the pastor Rev. C. F. Higgins, the last prayer being quickly followed by the melodious strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march without which no wedding seems complete. After staying for a short time with their near friends at the residence of Mr. J. F. Allison Mr. and Mrs. Simpson drove to the station to catch the evening train going west. They also caught the several pounds of rice before they could board their car. Their trip will be a most delightful one taking in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara and the Thousand Isles.

The same afternoon at two o'clock was celebrated the wedding of Mr. Welden Colpitts, Sackville, to Miss Flora Oulton, daughter of Mr. Duvay Oulton, Joliette. It was a home wedding with something like fifty guests. The bride was dressed in lawn silk gown with white decorations and bouquet of yellow roses. The bridesmaid Miss Margaret Clarke, Newcastle, wore one of the new shades of blue silk. The groomsmen were Mr. Albert Colpitts of Ft. de Bute, the groom's brother. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Bellar of Ft. de Bute. The happy couple left by the evening train for a trip up North.

Mr. Colpitts is in the establishment of M. Wood & Sons, and all day long the flag was flying in the Sackville wind from Mr. Woods stone store.

A third wedding in which Sackville people were much interested, was that of Mr. A. H. McCready of the Post, who the same day entered into a lifelong partnership with Miss Maud Wilson of St. John.

LADY OF SHALOTT.

PETITCODIAC.

JUNE 8.—Mr. Harry DeForest the talented artist late of St. John spent a day of last week in town the guest of Mrs. J. B. Webster. His old friends were all very much pleased to see him but regret to hear that he intends going West in a short time to locate there; may he succeed beyond his most sanguine expectations.

Rev. Mr. Pascoe and Rev. Mr. Baker have gone to Moncton to attend the district meeting.

Mr. J. B. Webster, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, passed gently away this morning in the eightieth year of his age.

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL.

June 9.—A well attended meeting of the Annapolis Denary was held at Granville Ferry last week for the purpose of electing a governor of Kings College. There were present the Revs. I. E. Warner, H. How, H. deBlodi, Rural Dean; L. Amor, G. E. Harris, F. P. Grester, L. J. Lockward, as well as the lay delegates. Mr. H. M. Bradford, M.A., head master of St. Andrew's school, was unanimously elected.

The closing of St. Andrew's school on Tuesday next will be an important social function. The programme consists of a garden party in the afternoon, varied by a dramatic display and distribution of prizes by Mrs. J. M. Owen, and a dance in the evening. The grounds are in fine condition now, and the garden party will, if weather be favorable, be an exceptionally pretty function.

At the Turn of the Road.

A moment's pause for longing and for dreaming
A moment's looking backward on the way;
To kiss my hand to long past turrets gleaming,
To stand and think of life of yesterday!

A little time to dream of sunlit hours,
Spent where white towers rise against the sky;
To tread again that path of too sweet flowers,
To hear again her greeting and good-bye!

What is there, say you, in that far-off city
Of my past living and past loving, left,
Wrapped in its golden haze, to stir my pity
And call the blither sigh of the bereft?

The memory of a touch warm, trusting, clinging,
The memory of that touch grown cold as ice!
A voice hushed that was pure as wild bird's singing,
A love whose bright flame burned in sacrifice?

Only a grave? Life to-day will teach me
Its stream fleets fast for sorrow and regret,
Beyond this turn its sweeping waves will reach me,
I must go with it as we all go! Yet—

A moment's pause for longing and for dreaming,
A moment's looking backward on the way;
To kiss my hand to long-past turrets gleaming,
To stand and think of life of yesterday!
