Rexton. March 8.—Harry Donaher weekening the power of a coal strike, if one were afterwards decided on by the miners themselves. The miners are to real a national conference, but already several of the biggest trade unions have decided to cast their votes against direct action. The miners' executive met the report of the independent accountant on the financial postition of the coal industry. That report gives an estimated surplus on the year ending March 31 of, 08,000, after allow pointing March 32 of, 08,000, and a net surplus, after 32 of, 08,000, and a net surplus, after 32 of, 08,000, and a net surplus, after 32 of, 08,000, and a net surpl

Prime Minister last night to discuss the report of the independent accountant on the financial position of the coal irdustry. That report gives an estimated surplus on the year ending March 31 of, 084,000, after allowing for the gain of 6s per ton advance on inland industrial coal and the loss of revenue from the reduction of 10s, per ton on domestic coal. The miners' claim for a substantial reduction in the price of industrial coal is based on their estimate of an aggregate profit for the year ending in July of £74,080,420, and a not surplus after allowing for colliery owners' profits and royalty rents, of £54,000,000.
