(Light and rest eternal.)

While vernal beauty clothes the earth...

Accompany me with work in doing...

The happy step, infusing life...

Ab! neighbors all both young and old...

Tears no'er express deep anguish felt...

Why should we mourn? The angels smile...

THE POPE'S NUNCIUS TO IRELAND AND THE ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN IN WICKLOW.

Blessing of St. Killian's, Greystones.

SPEECHES OF THE ARCHBISHOP AND MONSIGNOR PERCISO.

On Sunday at Greystones a ceremony of the most interesting kind took place.

The pretty little village was en fête, and from across the winding roadway...

spans the way by which His Excellency the Commissioner Apostolic and the Archbishop of Dublin passed to the Church of St. Killian.

In the grounds around the church there was a large assemblage of the parishioners...

and many persons who had come from long distances to take part in the ceremony.

The members of the Wolfe Tone branch of the Gaelic Association acted as stewards.

In a prominent position on one of the walls of the church was a scroll which was inscribed...

"Welcome, beloved Archbishop," while beneath was suspended several handsome floral wreaths.

On the way from the metropolis to Greystones Mgr. Perciso and the Archbishop were warmly greeted...

at the various stations, and at Bray a large number of the inhabitants assembled upon the arrival of the train...

From Bray Mgr. Perciso and the Archbishop proceeded by road to Greystones. The engine of the special train from Bray to Greystones was decorated with flowers.

At four o'clock a loud cheer greeted the appearance of Mgr. Perciso and the Archbishop, who were conducted by Dean Lee, P.P., to the place where the meeting was held.

Until a few years ago there was no Catholic Church in the district. In the year 1857 Mr. Thomas Phelan, who was then about to emigrate to America, made a grant to the parish for a term of 500 years of half an acre of land near Greystones for the erection of a Catholic Church.

The great poverty of the Catholic population for a long time prevented them from securing the site. After the death of Dr. Miley the present popular pastor was appointed.

In a short time a small church was erected on the beautiful site where St. Killian's now stands. It was soon found that the church was altogether inadequate for the requirements of the steadily increasing population of the district, and on the first of August of last year His Grace the Most Rev. Dr. Walsh laid the foundation of a new addition which has since been completed, and was dedicated on Sunday.

The addition to the church consists of two transepts and a chancel, which double the accommodation of the building.

The Right Rev. Monsignor Lee, after giving an account of the progress of the mission and the state of their finances, said he could not conclude without giving expression to our heartfelt joy at the presence amongst us of an Envoy of our Holy Father, Leo XIII.

Our attachment to the Vicar of Christ is undying; and we rejoice that our new church is dedicated under such happy auspices (applause).

his commissary, his representative amongst you (applause). I need not say how much I ADMIRE ALL THAT I SEE, and for that very reason the duty which is incumbent upon me to communicate all this to His Holiness the Pope, to tell him that the Irish people are always Catholic and always faithful to our Holy Religion—(hear, hear)—and that they bear the same affection, the same love, the same veneration for him as if he were here present (hear, hear). I need not say, ladies and gentlemen, with what satisfaction, with what pleasure, with what joy, I give you my blessing this evening, and you know that this blessing comes from our Holy Father himself. Giving you that blessing this evening it is in the part and in the name of Our Holy Father the Pope I do it, and that the Pope blessing you does it with all his heart—does it with the sincerest wishes for the good and for the welfare of this country.

The assembled thousands then knelt and received His Excellency's blessing. His Grace, having robed, proceeded to the church, where the ceremony of dedication, according to the Roman ritual, was gone through. A procession was formed, and His Grace blessed the walls, sprinkling them with holy water. The Litany of the Saints was then sung, and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament having been given the ceremonies concluded.

During the forenoon of Thursday (July 13th) His Excellency Monsignor Perciso received a number of visits from the Archbishopal residence, Rutland Square, and transacted business connected with the objects of his mission. In the afternoon His Excellency drove, in company with His Grace the Archbishop, to different religious institutions in the city, viz., the Convent of the Perpetual Adoration, the Convent of the Sisters of Charity at Doneybrook, the new convent at Milltown, the Retreat of the Passionist Fathers at Mount Argus. In the latter place His Excellency and His Grace were received by the Father Rector and conducted over the monastery. The religious treasures of the place were shown, and they very much interested Monsignor Perciso and the Archbishop. At about five o'clock His Excellency and His Grace returned to the palace, Rutland Square.

An old Favorite.

An old favorite, that has been popular with the people for nearly thirty years is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all varieties of summer complaints of children and adults.

It seldom or ever fails to cure cholera morbus, diarrhoea and dysentery.

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, and Hay Fever.

A NEW TREATMENT.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes.

Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever, are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home.

Out of two thousand patients treated during the past six months fully ninety per cent. have been cured. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures record a cure at all.

In fact this is the only treatment which can possibly effect a permanent cure, and suffers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness, and hay fever should at once correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 308 West King street, Toronto, Canada, who have the sole control of this new remedy, and who send a pamphlet explaining this new treatment, free on receipt of stamp.—Scientific Americans.
