Ottawa, July 13th, 1909.

Dear Mr. Eby:

I have your letter of the 10th instant mentioning the idea of holding summer meetings in the interests of a peace propaganda in some of the smaller towns and cities, during the months of July and August, and suggesting Berlin as the locality for the first meeting.

Of the wisdom of such a course you would be the better judge, and I am hardly in a position to advise. It would depend, I presume, largely on the wishes of your own society. I would be pleased indeed, should you decide on such a course, to have you give an address in Berlin. I am sure you would receive a splendid welcome there. Just whether or not it would be possible for me to be present, it is difficult for me to say. My schedule of engagements for July and August is such that it is going to be
