

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

Dublin.

There is to be a novel garden party in the grounds of the Irish Viceroy's Lodge in the "merry month of May," weather permitting. The lady guests are to be made up in peasant's dress, after the pattern of the Aran Islands, and the gentlemen, in the traditional of the Emerald Isle. They may represent any nationality they like, be Norman, English, or Irish, and the costumes will be of the most elaborate and costly. The entire notion is intended to give a useful fillip to the languishing trade of the Irish metropolis.

King's County.

The consecration of the high altar of St. Bridget's beautiful new church, Clonsilla, took place on March 25, and was an imposing and highly edifying religious ceremony. The church, which is a gem of ecclesiastical architecture, was dedicated only a very short time ago, and the splendid new altar consecrated is a remarkable tribute to the piety of the worthy pastor, Very Rev. M. Gaffney, and his loving parishioners. The altar is a beautiful work, composed entirely of white Carrara and Sicilian marbles. In the altar front is a sculptured panel of the Last Supper in full relief, and like all the other carved work in the altar, carried out in a masterly and artistic manner, and reflects the highest credit on the eminent firm of sculptors who have turned it out of their establishment. Each side of the altar panels is richly carved, containing the emblem of the four Evangelists, carved capitals, Galway green columns and bases, and on each side are panels of diaper very finely carved.

Wexford.

The Wexford Grand Jury not having a single criminal to lay their hands on, occupied themselves with passing a resolution against Home Rule. A declaration that a population of 123,544 people, living for two-thirds of a century not producing much as a sheepstealer in the dock, are unfit to be trusted with the management of their own affairs, is worthy of the intelligence and patriotism of the gentry whose grandfathers stirred their punch with crockery fingers, by way of relief. The facts stated, however, printed in ineffable gold, that in the county where "murders and outrages are of daily occurrence," the Grand Jury of Wexford, after eight months' sway of the National League, had no other criminal business to do except to pass a resolution recording their own incivility and malignity.

Kilkenny.

On March 30th, Thomas De Moleyns, Q. C., Chairman of the Quarter Sessions and County Court Judge, entered the City Courthouse, Kilkenny, and opened the Easter Quarter Sessions. There being no criminal business to be disposed of, Mr. Alexander James McCreery, city Sub-Sheriff, presented his honor with a pair of white gloves.

Limerick.

A writ from the High Court of Justice Exchequer Division has been served on the Knight of Glen at the suit of the Rev. Michael Malone, Parish Priest of Glen, for libel, damages being laid at £1,000. The words complained of are written in a letter addressed by the Knight of Glen to the Chief Secretary for Ireland; and in another communication, published in a local journal, being a commentary on the action of the Roman Catholic clergy in delivering violent speeches at a National League meeting at Glen, some hours after which outrages were perpetrated in the neighborhood of Limerick.

The distress in Kilkenny has assumed a serious aspect, the laboring class and small farmers being in a state of exceptional want. They have neither seed to crop their land nor food to sustain them. The Board of Guardians are not in a position to adopt measures for effectual relief. On the estate of Mr. Thomas Crowe, J. P. D. L. Dromore, which is situated in the vicinity of his residence and the village of Buan, hostilities have actually commenced in what threatens to be a bitter and disastrous land war and writ serving, Sheriff raiding, eviction threatening, defiance, resistance, had blood aroused, passions inflamed, are sown, the wind to reap the whirlwind. On the 2nd of February, writs were served by Mr. Crowe on seven of his Dromore tenants, for half a year's rent due up to November last, those were selected as being supposed to be the richest. An attempt was made to levy the executions by the Sheriff and his staff, under the protection of a strong police force, but the raid proved abortive, as the cattle had all been driven off. Mr. Crowe had served all the other tenants with rent processes at the April Sessions. They demanded a fair reduction of what are acknowledged to be exorbitant rents, but the landlord will make no concession. The village of Buan, and all the surrounding districts were extensively posted with printed notices to boycott Mr. Crowe.

Tipperary.

On March 23rd, a meeting with a peculiar object was held in the Town Hall, Tipperary. It was a gathering of the National League, and its purpose was to consider an eviction. Evictions are not altogether of rare occurrence in Ireland; but this eviction was an unique one. The landlord is Mr. Smith-Barry, of the Deane Union; the tenants the Sisters of Mercy. Along with the convent grounds they held a piece of land adjoining. About seven years ago one of the Sisters died, and her remains were interred in this field. Mr. Smith-Barry's agent objected, and demanded to have the remains exhumed, else he would evict the community from the field. The agent died, and nothing was done for some time, until Mr. Horace Townsend was appointed agent over the estate. He evicted the Sisterhood, although they were willing to pay any rent he should put upon the place; and he let it to whom? To a lawn tennis committee—none else, gay assemblage now disport themselves on the grounds, disturbing the solemn quietude which is the essence of the religious life, and placing the world's vanities and frivolities within sight and hearing of the votive Sisterhood, who have long since abandoned all for the loftiest purposes to which mortal life could be devoted. There is something almost brutal in the ill taste of this proceeding. The meeting received unanimously that Mr. Smith-Barry should be asked to let the Sisters have back the land at a fair price, and to be freed from the unseemingly inconvenience of which they justly complain. A public notice "to be let" has been put on the Killeeney mansion of Lord Kenmare. Six years ago the house was built at a cost of nearly £100,000. Agatha House, the residence of Lord Headley, is also to let. Since the Kenmare estate trustees have refused the tenants' application in a resolution for a reduction in the rents, notices of pending evictions have been served on the local relieving officer, and which will be laid before the board of guardians.

Astrim.

A fresh proof is at hand that a new spirit has arisen in Belfast regarding the question of public positions. The Nationalists will no longer allow their adversaries to have everything their own way. Mr. Michael O'Leary, late Secretary to the National League Branch, one who has done so much to help to build up the National organization in Belfast, has been infiduously nominated for the Aldermanship of the Cromac Ward, vacant by the death of Mr. William Seale. With the present restricted franchise, his chances of winning the seat are, perhaps, not so rosy as they might be, but his friends are making vigorous efforts to secure his return.

The consecration of the Most Rev. Dr. McAlister, D. D., as Bishop of Down and Connor, in succession to the late Most Rev. Dr. Dorrigan, took place, on March 28th, at St. Patrick's Church, Donaghall street, Belfast, in the presence of an immense congregation. His Grace, the Lord Primate, presided, and the consecrating Prelate was the Most Rev. Dr. Nulty, Bishop of Meath, who was assisted by the Most Rev. Dr. Woodlock, Bishop of Ardagh, and the Most Rev. Dr. Donnelly, Bishop of Clogher.

Derry.

The police, it seems from the answer they put into Mr. Morley's mouth, knew all along that Marshall, ex-Orange potentate in Derry, hired an "Apprentice Boy" to blow up his house. How then does it happen that while the minor criminal is safe in the county jail, Marshall has leisurely betaken himself to the land of the free and the home of the brave? Had Marshall been a prominent Derry Nationalist, instead of being a right worshipful Grand Master, it is conceivable that the police, who knew him to be the principal in an atrocious crime, would put their hands to their hats to him in the streets of Derry for months, and then bow him off to America, when the scent got too hot, to calm their consciences by laying his paltry hireling by the heels? McGarrigle's conviction is a more pitiful sample of Derry justice than even Marshall's "assisted emigration."

Galway.

Father McDonagh, C. C., died on March 30, at Ennistymon, at the early age of 25 years. Father McDonagh, who was ordained only a year, died of typhus fever, caught in the discharge of his sacred duties. His death has caused widespread regret, not only in the parish of Ennistymon, but in Galway, his native place, where his family have been known for a lengthened period. His remains were interred in the parochial church, Ennistymon in the presence of a large concourse of priests and people.

Mayo.

On March 3rd, a most heartless eviction took place of two poor families in the destitute district of Murrisk, where relief is now being administered to the starving people by Mr. Brady and Mr. Tukey. In the midst of a snow storm, Mr. Francis Garvey, of Murrisk House, accompanied by his special bailiffs, Edward O'Malley and Thomas Carroll, with a posse of police, arrived at the village of Terrinill, and cast out on the cold beach, Mr. O'Malley and her four children, one of whom is a deaf mute. The evicting party next proceeded to the house of Pat Gargahy, a feeble old man, and turned himself and his wife and idiotic daughter out of their miserable hovel. Mrs. McGreal is a widow with four helpless children. A few friends tendered the unfortunate people what hospitality their scanty means would allow, and also shared with their little cabins, where they now remain. The parties must, of course, betake themselves to the Westport Workhouse. It may be well to state that Mrs. McGreal and Pat Gargahy had no land save a little conical mound, and might naturally expect to be in peaceable possession of their little cabins, for which they were willing to pay the usual rent.

SECRET SOCIETIES.—A bold and noble stand against secret societies has been taken by General Pacheco, the new President of the South American Republic of Bolivia, and one which stamps him with the superiority of Christianity and manhood among princes and rulers. He declares himself a practical Catholic, and the unyielding foe of secret societies. Finding that Freemasonry was making way in the Bolivian army he has issued the following decree: "Bolivia being a Catholic country, and Freemasonry being entirely at variance with the teachings of the Catholic religion, no man will henceforth be allowed to hold an officer's commission in the Bolivian army, who is known to belong to a Masonic lodge."

FEVER colic, unnatural appetite, fretfulness, weakness, and convulsions, are some of the effects of Worms in Children; destroy the worms with Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

CATHOLIC PRESS.

Marshall, Ill., Church Progress. At the Methodist conference last week in Salem, Ill., the Rev. Mr. Ravenscroft related his experience on collections; so troubled was he on the question, that a new plan was revealed to him in his dreams by which delinquent members could be made to pay up. His brethren beseeched him to reveal it, but he thought he would first try it himself. We would mention to dream too, of some new plan by which we could make delinquent subscribers pay up.

London Univers.

It is all over with Mr. Gladstone and Home Rule for Ireland. The mighty heart of the empire has spoken through the mouths of the Duchess of Marlborough and the editor of the Referee. What is Catarrh?

Catarrh is a dangerous disease which thousands are conscious of, or unconsciously suffering from. It is a mucous purulent discharge caused by the presence of a vegetable parasite in the lining membrane of the nose. The predisposing causes are a morbid state of the blood, the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, and the retention of the effete matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and the germination of other poisons in the blood. Irritated by these, the lining membrane of the nose is ever ready for the reception of the parasite, which rapidly spreads up the nostrils and down the fauces, or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal chords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many ingenious specifics for the cure of catarrh have been invented, but without success. A physician of long standing discovered the exact nature of the disease and the only appliance which will permanently destroy the parasite, no matter how aggravated the case. Sufferers should send stamp at once for descriptive pamphlet on catarrh, to the medicine manager, A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street west, Toronto, Canada.

The Muc.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby giving relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedsily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from such anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The Cheapest medicine in use is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, because so very little of it is required to effect a cure. For croup, diphtheria, and diseases of the lungs and throat, whether used for bathing the chest or throat, for taking internally or inhaling, it is a matchless compound.

Orphan M. Hodge, Battle Creek, Mich., writes: I upset a tea kettle of boiling hot water on my hand. I at once applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and the effect was immediately to allay the pain. I was cured in three days.

A Pleasant Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert P. Q., "that Bardeock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medicine to all suffering as she did."

The Rebellion

In the North-west has been suppressed and our citizens can now devote reasonable attention to their corns. The only rare, safe, and painless remedy is Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. It never fails; never makes sore spots worse than the original discomfort. See that you get Putnam's, and take none other.

A WOMAN'S SUFFERINGS AND GRATITUDE.

A VOICE FROM AUSTRIA.

Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Haas, an intelligent and industrious woman, whose story of physical suffering and final relief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farm-house. Overwork brought on me sick headache, followed by a steadily fainting and sickness of the stomach, until I was unable to retain either food or drink. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbed in my every limb. This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second, and, as I thought, for the last time. My friends told me that my time had nearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the trees put on their green once more. Then I happened to get one of the Seigel pamphlets. I read it, and my dear mother brought me a bottle of Seigel's Syrup, which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it before I felt a great change for the better. My last illness began June 3rd, 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in breathing. Now I am perfectly cured. And oh, how happy I am! I cannot express gratitude enough for Seigel's Syrup. Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed handbills, warning people against the medicine, telling them it would do them no good, and many were thereby influenced to destroy the Seigel pamphlets; but now, wherever one is to be found, it is kept like a relic. The few preserved are borrowed to read, and I have lent mine for six miles around our district. People have come eighteen miles to get me to buy the medicine for them, knowing that it cured me, and to be sure to get the right kind. I know a woman who was looking like death, and who told them there was no help for her, that she had consulted several doctors, but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrup, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrup, and in a few days she was perfectly healthy, and the people around us are amazed. The medicine has made such progress in our neighborhood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, but they take the Syrup. Sufferers from gout who were confined to their bed and could hardly move a finger, have been cured by this. This is a real distinct who caught a cold by going through some water, and was in bed five years with costiveness and rheumatic pain, and had to have an attendant to watch by her. There was not a doctor in the surrounding districts to whom her mother had not applied to relieve her child, but every one cried themselves, and said they could not help her. When the little bell rang which is rung in our place when somebody is dead, we thought surely it was for her, but Seigel's Syrup and Pills saved her life, and now she is as healthy as any body, goes to church, and can work even in the fields. Everybody was astonished when they saw her out, knowing how many years she had been in bed. Today she adds her gratitude to mine for God's mercies and Seigel's Syrup."
