

OBITUARY

JAMES O. MOLYNEUX

After a brief illness from inflammatory rheumatism, Mr. Jas. O. Molyneux, of this village, passed away on Saturday night last at the age of thirty-five years.

Dr. Bogart, of Kingston, was called in consultation on Thursday night and performed an operation which gave relief, and the patient rallied for a time, but it was only temporary, and he gradually sank until death relieved him of his sufferings at the time above stated.

The deceased had been a resident of Tweed for a great many years and was universally respected. He was an employee of the municipality for seven years, as constable, etc., and performed his duties with the utmost satisfaction.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at the residence of the deceased, and was largely attended.

Among the floral tributes were: Pillow from the R.B.P.; spray, his daughter Helen's Sunday school class of the Methodist church; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dopkins; wreath, L.O.L., No. 147, Tweed; pillow, I.O.O.F., Tweed; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, Brighton; spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. Loeworthy; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall, Mountain Grove; anchor, relatives from Prince Edward County.

He leaves to mourn his loss his father, mother, wife and daughter Helen, who have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.—Tweed News.

MRS. JAMES DE C. HEPBURN

On Saturday, Oct. 16th, Blanche Kelly, wife of James de C. Hepburn, died in Toronto General Hospital after an operation for appendicitis. The operation proved to be a serious one but hopes were entertained for her recovery until shortly before she passed away.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Blanche Kelly, resided in Oil City, Penn., before her marriage, but for many years her home was in Picton, where Mr. Hepburn was in business with his brothers, Bernard and Keith, running a lumber and coal business under the firm name of Hepburn Brothers. He was also interested in steamboating and was secretary-treasurer of the Ontario and Quebec Navigation Company. A few years ago they left Picton, residing in Ottawa for a short time and for the last few years have lived in Toronto. Besides her husband, two children are left to mourn her death: Rebecca, aged 17, and Billy, aged 11 years.

The remains were brought to Picton on Tuesday, the funeral taking place from the residence of Mrs. A. W. Hepburn, Main street, on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., Rev. F. L. Barber officiating. The pall bearers were Dr. Philip, D. J. Barker, Jas. Healey, I. F. Fraser, H. W. Bedell and H. U. Tobey. Interment in Glenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Hepburn's father, Mr. Kelly, of Napanea, Mr. and Mrs. L. Plummer, of Toronto, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Ackerman, of Peterborough, were in attendance at the funeral.—Picton Gazette.

MRS. W. H. R. ALLISON

There passed to rest in Picton on Friday, the 15th October, Anna Maria Roblin, the widow of W. H. R. Allison, K.C. The late Mrs. Allison was born in the township of Ameliasburg, near the Centre church. Her father was the late John P. Roblin, for sixteen years member of Parliament, and afterwards registrar of deeds for the county of Prince Edward. With her parents she moved to Hallowell, near Picton, and afterwards to Picton. In her early days she was connected with the Methodist church, when the old frame church stood where is now the Stone church, as a teacher in the Sunday school and organist and member of the choir. It was while her father was a member that the town of Picton was incorporated; before that time it was part of the township of Hallowell. Mrs. Allison came of U.E.L. stock on both sides, the Roblins about 1784 settling first in Adolphustown and a part of the family moving to Green Point and starting saw and grist mills. Her mother was Nancy Langhorn Conger, the Congers coming to Sophiasburg about the same time, and making their first settlement at Conger's Mills. Mrs. Allison was in her 89th year, and the period of her lifetime covers a very interesting history of this country. The funeral services on Monday were conducted by the Rev. Alfred Brown, the bearers being her son, Mr. M. R. Allison, and his son-in-law, Percy Kirby, Mr. C. B. Allison, Mr. A. Roblin, a cousin, and M. German and Earl Spencer. Mrs. Allison leaves surviving an only son, M. R. Allison, with his wife, and her three grandchildren, W. W. Allison, in Toronto; Rosalind Kirby, of Sophiasburg, and Miss Ann M. R. Allison, at home, and one great-grandson, Malcolm E. Kirby.—Picton Times.

Address and Presentation

A very pleasant event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamblin, Marsh Hill, on Thursday evening, where about a hundred of their friends and neighbors gathered to bid them farewell before their departure for their new home in Peterborough.

After the friends had assembled, Mrs. Chas. Vandewater read the following address and Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin and family were presented with a beautiful clock. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamblin and Family: Dear Friends:—Having heard of your intention of leaving this neighborhood in order to make your home in the city of Peterboro, we have gathered tonight with the desire of expressing to you our regrets at having to bid you good-bye. The spirit of change seems to be in the air, the contagion is rapidly spreading throughout the rural sections, and so we are not at all surprised that in this unsettled condition of present-day life men and women everywhere are making such rapid changes.

MRS. ROBERT HEFFER

Martha Phoebe Warring, wife of Robert Heffer, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Conway, Hill street, Picton, Oct. 17, 1920, at the age of 38 years. Mr. and Mrs. Heffer came to this county nearly 50 years ago. Mr. Heffer predeceased his wife 13 years. Mrs. Heffer was one of nature's own gentlewomen, upright and honest, and of a very sympathetic nature, always willing to help in any way she could. Everyone who ever came to her in trouble went away feeling that they could take hold of life again and make a fresh start. The writer remembers years ago when she had a great sorrow. Grandmother Heffer, as she was familiarly known, said to her: "My dear, why not take your trouble to God." Her faith and trust in her God was a most beautiful thing to see. She spoke of Him each day as though he were a personal friend walking by her side. And from the life she led, He surely was. She never turned anyone from her door hungry, cold or comfortless. Every little child knew and loved Grandmother Heffer and always went away smiling with some little thing. She dearly loved to give. Giving seemed to be her mission in life; if not of this world's goods, then of God's precious word, which says, "Come unto me, thou good and faithful servant, for as much as ye have done it unto one of these, ye have done it unto me." was her justification. In faith she was a staunch Anglican, and although she has not been able to attend her church for some years, still her heart and soul was in it. She is survived by eight children, Isaac, William, John, Fred, Mrs. Fennemore, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Conway and Mrs. Patterson. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. F. L. Barber, interment taking place at Cherry Valley. The many and beautiful floral offerings showed the esteem in which she was held. The bearers were six grandsons—Everett and Lloyd Fennemore, Stanley and Eugene Williams, Harry and Robert Heffer.—Picton Times.

found still in Stilly Night

Inland Revenue Officers and Sergt. Naphin Find What They Believe is Moonshine Outfit.

"In the stilly night," about two o'clock this "morning," Sergt. Naphin, accompanied by Inland Revenue Collector A. C. McFee and Deputy Collector W. J. Cook, visited the home of Mr. John Johnson, Beaufort street and there found something like what they were looking for. Upstairs they discovered what is thought to be a still, a boiler and a mash tub. They also found a jug and one bottle downstairs in the pantry, said to contain something that had been distilled, and in the basement another partly filled bottle. There was also a two gallon tin containing some molasses.

Armed with the find, the trio brought "Jack" Johnson along with them and this morning he was brought before Magistrate Mason on the charge of having in the city of Belleville on Oct. 25th, 1920, unlawfully in his possession in his dwelling house on Benjamin street, a still and mash tub for the manufacturing of spirits without the permission required by the Inland Revenue Act and contrary to the provisions of the said Act. He was remanded until Thursday, Oct. 28th.

Two Belleville Men In "Hold-Up" Gang?

Four Men Arrested for Working in Sudbury District.

Word was received from Toronto that four men who have been doing a hold-up business in the Sudbury district have been arrested by the provincial police. Two of them claim to come from Belleville and two from Kingston. Near Smoky Falls, while a local boat-builder was working on the river bank, a stranger approached him and closely questioned him. Having ascertained that he had no firearms handy and that no person was near to raise an alarm the stranger started whistling. Three other men appeared on the scene. Two of them covered the boat builder with their revolvers and marched him to his house. The strangers ransacked the house throughout. In searching the boat-builder's trunk they upset some pictures and from between them fell bills to the value of $200. The intruders took away two rifles and all the available ammunition. After making several more "hold-ups" they were arrested at a lumber camp on the C.N.R., seventy miles north of Sudbury.

There is no knowledge of the men to Belleville.
