ville with my young wife, the sister of Mrs. A za Parish. I was at that date the youngest teacher in the Gouver-neur High School, afterward the noted Gouverneur Wesley an Seminary, a meeting, that afternoon, in the school house, in the interests of a High School for Farmersville. At the appointed hour, there was quite a gathering of gentlemen at the school gathering of gentlemen at the senter house. Some one, I forget whom, was called to the chair. Mr. Parish announced the presence of "Professor Cummings, of the Gouverneur High School," who, on motion, was requested to address the meeting. At Gents' Purnishings. An Attractive Line of Goods.

I was very much surprised and entirely unprepared for such a service. To secure my presence, Mr. Parish had adroitly concealed his purpose, so far as I was concerned. I, however, responded as best I could, to several well devised questions of his, eliciting information. A general talk ensued. This, doubt-TORONTO,

A general talk ensued. This, doubtless, was the first meeting in Farmersville on the subject of a High School for that place. It was evidently not the first time the subject had employed the thoughts of Mr. Parish. The incident is only of interest as showing how early and continuously the educational interest of that place, and of the country, occupied the thoughts of Mr. Parish. Ross. of Westport, each of whom gave eloquent and logically roccul addresses. The Rev. J. E. Thurlow, of Delta, was called upon and responded with a neat speech, and the Rev. D. D. Munro, pastor of the Baptist Church, gave a short address in which he defined his position. He strongly favored the Scott Act or any other prohibitory measure.

Narrow Escape.
On Friday last, while Mr. Wolf was sawing wood with his machine, at Mr. John Pritchard's, near the Redan, the heavy fly wheel of the machine burst, sending large fragments flying with terrific force in all directions. One peice, weighing 19 pounds, was thrown a distance of 60 rods. One spoke cut the toe off a man's boot and then penetrated a block of wood two inches. Another spoke was hurled to a great height, and in descending almost grazed a man, while a flying fragment cut the pants off another man. There were several other nar-row escapes, and considering that the wheel burst in the midst of eight horses and nine men, it was wonderfuthat not even an injury was inflicted. Ritley Agricultural Society.
